TO ATTACK CHIHUAHUA

Federals Hope to Retake City.

Mercado Declares His Army Will Leave Ojinaga to Move on Villa.

Insists His Flight to Border Was to Replenish His Provisions.

Rebel Commander in Juarez Justifies Expulsion of the Spaniards.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OJINAGA (Chihuahua Mex.) Dec. 17.—Unless present plans are changed, and I see no reason why they should be, the Federal army will leave Ojinaga within a few days to march to Chihuahua, with a view of retaking and recapturing that city from the rebels."

Gen. Salvador Mercado, commander-in-chief of the Federal army of the north, made this definite assertion in his camp here today. He said Ojinaga would be evacuated and the entire Federal army under his command would march toward Chihuahua.

It seems prudent to believe, however, that the rebel forces in Chihuahua, the most important city in the far north, were too strongly entrenched to invite an attack by the Federals.

MERCADO'S PLAN.

"We came here to replenish our supply train and to communicate with the War Department at Mexico City," continued Gen. Mercado. "Our plans are to attack the rebels. There seems to be little prospect of a battle here, for the rebels have not yet gathered in large numbers in this city. I never believed Villa's troops would be sent against Ojinaga, for we were ready to meet them with 5000 men and five batteries of artillery."

Gen. Mercado would not comment on the reason for his evacuation of Chihuahua, except to say that his flight to the border at this point, opposite Presidio, Tex., was to enable him to communicate with Mexico City. In Chihuahua he had no way of obtaining orders or money for the troops. He now has nine other generals here.

Should Mercado attack or surround Chihuahua, where Gen. Francisco Villa and the main body of the rebels is fortified, he would check any rebel activity toward Torreon, directly south.

Federal officers had information that Federal troops were moving toward Chihuahua from Torreon, and that the return of Gen. Mercado was ordered in conformity with orders from Mexico City for an advance on Chihuahua from two directions.

DECLARES REBELS WILL GO SOUTH.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

JUAREZ (Mex.) Dec. 17.—Despite Gen. Mercado's statement at Ojinaga that the Federals would attempt to recapture Chihuahua, Gen. Benavides, rebel commander at Juarez, said today that the rebels were preparing for an active campaign southward.

"It was Gen. Villa's intention, after reaching Chihuahua, to carry the campaign southward, and that intention has not been abandoned," said Gen. Benavides. "Already 2000 rebels are near Ojinaga. If the Federals attempt to march from the border they will be attacked."

Surplus in Postal Department.

Discovery Made by Changing the Government Method of Book-keeping.

Postmaster-General Urges that Uncle Sam Take Over the Telegraph.

Forecasts Day of Uniforms Even for the Telephone Operators.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—A sweeping declaration of favor of the principle of government ownership of telephone and telegraph lines and an assertion that the postal service now is self-supporting for the first time since 1883, are features of the annual report of Postmaster-General Burleson, transmitted today to Congress.

Concerning the acquisition of telephone and telegraph lines, Postmaster-General Burleson says that the government has demonstrated its capacity to conduct public utilities, and, from this present information he is inclined clearly to the taking over by the Postoffice Department of the telegraph lines and, possibly, also of the telephone lines. Discussing that the Postmaster-General says:

"A study of the constitutional purposes of the postal establishment leads to the conviction that the Postoffice Department should have control over all means of the communication of intelligence. The first telegraph line in this country was maintained and operated as a part of the postal service, and it is to be regretted that Congress saw fit to relinquish this facility to private enterprise. The monopolistic nature of the telegraph business makes it of vital importance to the people that it be conducted by unselfish interests, and this can be accomplished only through government ownership.

"The act of July 24, 1866, providing for the government acquisition of the telegraph lines upon payment of an appraised valuation and the act of 1903 directing the Postmaster-General to report to Congress the probable cost of connecting a telegraph and telephone system with the postal service by some feasible plan are evidences of the policy of this government ultimately to acquire and operate these electrical means of communication as postal facilities, as is done by all the principal nations, the United States alone excepted.

"The successful operation of the parcel post has demonstrated the capacity of the government to conduct the public utilities which fall properly within the postal provision of the Constitution.

TELEPHONE LINES.

"Every argument in favor of the government ownership of telegraph lines may be advanced with equal logic and force in favor of the government ownership of telephone lines. It has been competently decided that a telephone message and a telegram are the same within the meaning of the laws governing the telegraph service and therefore it is believed that the statute enabling the government to acquire, upon the payment of an appraised valuation, the telegraph lines of the country will enable the government to acquire the telephonic network of the country. While it is true that the telephone companies have not complied with the requirements of section 5267, Revised Statutes, this cannot be held to nullify the intent of the law, since the non-use on the part of the government of any of its constitutional privileges in no wise surrenders the right to exercise these privileges whenever the best interests of the nation demand.

"In June last a committee was appointed to make an investigation of this subject, to determine the preliminary steps necessary for the government to take toward the acquisition of the telegraph lines of the country in accordance with section 5267 of the Revised Statutes. This committee is now engaged in preparing its preliminary report, and if the findings justify such action, proper recommendation will be made by the department at a later date."

ACTUAL SURPLUS.

Postmaster-General Burleson presents an elaborate statement of the financial operations of the Postoffice Department, including a discussion of the methods of book-keeping, which he has changed.

"It is gratifying to report," says he, "that the total expense of maintaining the postal service for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1913, is found to be exceeded by the revenues for the same period; that there is an actual surplus of $2,841,906.78; and that the postal service is now for the first time since 1883, self-supporting."

EFFICIENCY.

As to his general financial policy Postmaster-General Burleson says:

"The dominant policy of the present administration will be to conduct the postal service for the convenience of the public and not for profit. Its controlling purpose will be to promote efficiency by the complete standardization of the service, which will be attained by harmonizing equipment, adjusting the personnel, and securing the greatest possible co-operation in every quarter.

"The prime consideration in perfecting the personnel of the postal service shall be to recognize efficiency, and to eliminate partisanship. In the Ambassador Page's Party Is Suddenly Accosted on London Street at Midnight by Youth Who Said His Future Depended on His Getting a Talk.

[BY CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The American Ambassador, Walter Hines Page, is very indignant over an embarrassing and extremely unpleasant encounter experienced by his guests, Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, and Miss Page, at midnight on Tuesday in the street in which the embassy is situated.

The party was returning from the theater when a figure emerged from the darkness which was accentuated near the Ambassador's home by the secluded environment of Grosvenor Park, and darted forward to intercept them.

Mr. Sayre stepped up quickly between the intruder and the ladies and there was a moment of decided uneasiness until a breathless tale of pathos and pleading came as a reassurance.

Then by the dim light Mr. Sayre perceived the countenance of a cub reporter who said he was to be discharged unless he interviewed them.

"What did the President's daughter think about conditions at Kiev? About woman suffrage? Wages, Tammany's future, and what of independent politics?"

Mr. and Mrs. Sayre were disposed to consider the incident lightly, but the Ambassador was deeply incensed as he recognized the ruse of the cub reporter as an old and threadbare trick practiced frequently in England. Besides Mr. Page does not intend to have Mrs. Sayre and Miss Page frightened or annoyed by men shadowing his house or stopping them at midnight.

ERECTS ASTOR MEMORIAL.

Widow of Titanic Victim Has Costly Window Put in Rhinebeck Church of the Messiah.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RHINEBECK (N. Y.) Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A memorial window has been erected in the Church of the Messiah here this week by Mrs. Madeline Talmadge Force Astor in memory of her late husband, who perished on the Titanic. The window is said to have cost much more than most of the famous windows in the church edifice. Col. Astor was senior warden of the church at the time of his death and his funeral was held from this church.

There are three panels. The center one represents Christ walking on the water, and each one of the two side panels shows a standing female figure. The words, "Be not afraid" are near the top, and a memorial inscription at the bottom is as follows: "In loving memory of John Jacob Astor, born July 13, 1864; died April 15, 1912."

LONDON, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is proposed to commemorate the residence of Benjamin Franklin in Bartholomew Close, where he worked in a printing shop, by placing a tablet in Lady Chapel of the Church of St. Bartholomew the Great, Smithfield.

Figures of female saints are to be placed in five niches on the east wall of the chapel and the tablet will bear the inscription saying that the figures were placed there in commemoration of Franklin.

With the exception of the chapel in the Tower, this beautiful Norman church is the oldest in London. It was founded in 1123.

PROFESSOR TURNS SLEUTH.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] How Dr. Horace G. Byers, head of the department of chemistry at the University of Washington, broke into the detective game, using scientific methods to discover stolen platinum, is a story disclosed on the campus. Four platinum dishes used in scientific work and valued in excess of $250 were returned this morning to the chief chemist of an Oregon firm after he had identified the articles.

Dr. Byers received a notice from the company some weeks ago stating that a quantity of platinum had been stolen from the laboratory of the firm on November 28. A man who had been employed but four or five days was missing.

A few days later a downtown firm offered Dr. Byers four platinum dishes for sale. By the use of accurate scales in the university laboratories he determined to the hundredth part of a milligram their weight. Then he communicated immediately with the Oregon firm and found from them that the weights of all the dishes corresponded exactly. The Seattle firm readily gave them up when the chief chemist of the company arrived.

RAISE RIM OF GATUN LAKE TO PREVENT OVERFLOW.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—To hold back the rising waters of Gatun Lake from overflowing into the Atlantic Ocean it has become necessary to raise the rim of the lake to 105 feet above sea level at Cano middle No. 4, along a ridge about twelve miles southwest of Gatun, near the Atlantic end of the canal. The work on the dike will be commenced within a few days, the contract already having been awarded by the Isthmian Canal Commission.

This dike, which will run between the headwaters of the Siri River and Lagarto River, will be approximately 900 feet long. The surface of the earth at the lowest point is at present 87.4 feet above sea level.

The fill will be between 105-foot contours on knolls at the ends of the saddle. When completed, this earthwork will be fifteen feet wide at the top and will contain about 71,500 cubic yards.

SAY HUNTINGTON IS BUYER OF DOWDEN COLLECTION.

[BY CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Times says this morning that practically the whole of the late Prof. Dowden's collection of Shakespeare's works has been acquired by a New York collector who has been making Shakespearean collection for some time. The name of the collecter is not revealed.

The Dowden collection is being disposed of at auction at Hodgson's. The first section was sold last month. It included a series of editions of Shakespeare's works from Rowe's second edition in 1714 down to the latest which has been issued. A number of commentaries were in this section, which contained altogether about 1000 volumes. It realized $1250.

Another section comprising 128 volumes was sold yesterday for $795. Most of these volumes contain bibliographical notes by Prof. Dowden.

HUNTINGTON MAY BE BUYER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It was rumored here tonight that Henry E. Huntington was the buyer of Shakespeare's works in the Dowden collection. Mr. Huntington has been a collector of books, especially of early English works and Shakespeare, for a number of years.

In April, 1911, he bought the private library of the late E. Dwight Church for $1,300,000. This library contained a large lot of early English literature and Shakespeareana valued alone at more than $200,000. In 1912 he bought the library of Beverly Chew for $500,000. Huntington also paid $50,000 for a first edition of the Gutenberg Bible, the highest sum ever given at public auction for a book.

FINAL VOTE TOMORROW

Currency Bill on Its Passage.

Further Debate Limited to Fifteen Minutes for Each Amendment.

Democrats Confident of Enacting Their Supplement of Tariff Law.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—An agreement to vote on the final passage of the Administration Currency Bill "on the legislative day of Friday, Dec. 19," was reached late today in the Senate. The agreement provides that debate tomorrow and Friday shall be limited to fifteen minutes for each Senator on each amendment or on the bill itself.

While the legislative day may run over into Saturday, the expectation of Senate leaders is that the bill will be passed before midnight Friday. If important amendments are pending at that time, however, a recess may be taken until Saturday morning as the Republicans would not consent to the agreement until the Democrats promised not to keep the Senate in session all Friday night.

THE DAY'S WORK.

The Senate spent today in consideration of further amendments proposed by Senator Hitchcock, defeating by 41 to 37 his amendment to extend the guarantee of bank deposits to cover State banks that joined the new system as well as national banks. Senator Owen expressed his approval of this idea, but the Democrats would not support it because it had not received the indorsement of the caucus. A motion by Senator Hitchcock to increase from ninety to 180 days the maturity date of paper that could be submitted for rediscount at the regional banks was defeated 39 to 34.

A HURRY CALL.

The Democrats assembled in a hurriedly called conference at 6 o'clock tonight to settle all final differences over the bill, and agree upon amendents which they would support. The list of amendments submitted to the caucus included many of those which had been proposed by Senator Hitchcock or by Republicans and voted down, and it was said several of these might be offered tomorrow or Friday by Senator Owen and adopted as part of the bill.

MATURITY PERIOD.

Republican Senators joined Senator Hitchcock in preparing today for a strong fight tomorrow against the provision limiting to ninety days the maturity period of commercial paper that might be rediscounted at the proposed new regional reserve banks.

Senators Crawford of South Dakota and McCumber of North Dakota declared it would make it impossible for country banks of the West to meet an emergency; and that the mass of six months' notes of farmers and stock raisers would be valueless in time of a panic because they could not be rediscounted.

"With this ninety-day provision you are simply creating a bank of big banks," declared Senator Crawford, "a bank to help big banks, but for which you assess the little banks to get the capital. The little banks are simply commanded to carry wood and water for the big banks.

"You say to the Vanderlips and the Hepburns and the Morgans and the Reynoldses, 'Come in with your short-term paper and get the money,' but you say to the Smiths and the Browns and the Joneses from the small country districts, 'Go somewhere else with your long-time farmer paper, we can not discount it.'"

Senator Shafroth replied that the limitation against long-term paper had been settled upon solely to assure the Federal reserve banks having paper that would be "liquid" and quickly convertible into cash in time of stress.

RESERVE SECTION REVISED.

Following the numerous attacks on the note issue provision and the reserve requirements of the bill by those who contended the measure would open the doors to inflation, the Democratic conference revised tonight the reserve section. The required gold reserve behind the new circulating notes was increased from 33 per cent., as provided in the Owen bill, to 40 per cent., with a tax of 1 per cent. on depletion of the reserve down to 32½ per cent. An attempt to fix an arbitrary limit on the amount of notes to be issued failed.

Other amendments adopted provided for the use of a part of the surplus earnings of the regional banks for building up the gold reserve, and for an increase in the compensation of the members of the Federal reserve board from $10,000 to $12,000, as provided in the Hitchcock amendment. The provision that all the member banks must receive the proposed new notes at par was approved.

The conference also decided to remodel section eight of the bill, providing for the entrance of State banks and trust companies into the new system, and voted in favor of a provision whereby regional banks would be required to keep a fund intact in the Treasury to provide for the redemption of outstanding notes. All of these changes, with other minor amendments, were referred to the Democrats of the Banking Com-

JURY TRAILS LAWBREAKERS.

Expect Many Indictments in Calumet District.

Deputies Prevent Disorder in Houghton County.

Unionist Charge Against the Judges Is Refuted.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CALUMET (Mich.) Dec. 17.—Indictments are expected tomorrow from the grand jury investigating cases of lawlessness arising in the copper mine strike zone. Two hundred witnesses will appear before the jury tomorrow.

Sheriff Cruse has made it known that he is prepared to offer complete protection to every striker who wishes to return to work.

No more parades by strikers will be permitted. The twenty-eight square miles of territory in Houghton county are now patrolled by 2000 deputies.

Ten strikers who were arrested today, charged with rioting in connection with the stoning of the Northwestern passenger train at Hancock in October, were held for trial in the Circuit Court.

Assurances were given today that the children of the striking miners would not be without some Christmas cheer when a wealthy Calumet man constituted himself an anonymous Santa Claus to those whose fathers are on strike. He said he also would provide funds sufficient to insure that all the children would be warmly clothed and well fed.

BEFORE HOUSE COMMITTEE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Conditions in the Michigan copper mine region were pictured before the House Rules Committee today by C. E. Mahoney of Denver, vice-president of the Western Federation of Miners, who charged that members of the Supreme Court of Michigan had been keenly interested in the mining properties, either as stockholders or otherwise, and that it was impossible to secure redress for the miners before the State courts.

Mahoney alleged that the mine operators in Michigan had employed agencies in Chicago, New York and the principal eastern cities to enlist gunmen for service in the copper mine strike area.

"Men are employed frequently," he said, "to work in the northern timber belt, and when they are collected armed guards are placed in charge of the railroad cars and instructed to deliver them in the Michigan copper district, where they are kept under threats of death and compelled to labor in peonage."

JUDGE DENIES CHARGE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DETROIT, Dec. 17.—A member of the State Supreme Court, who was in Detroit today, said that no member of the court who owns stock or is otherwise interested in Michigan copper mining companies has had any part in litigation before the court concerning the copper mine strike situation. He said that at least two justices did not sit in a recent case because they own stock in one of the mines involved.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 17.—Seventy-five thousand persons are inconvenienced and the business of fourteen boroughs in the Lower Allegheny Valley is seriously hampered by the strike of thirty-four motormen and conductors on the Natrona branch of the West Penn Railways. Twenty-five deputy sheriffs and a squad of State troopers are on duty at various points in the strike district, and many arrests of strike sympathizers have been made. The motormen and conductors walked out almost a week ago, alleging the management would no longer recognize their union, and sporadic attempts to maintain operations on the division all but ceased tonight.

The conference considered but did not act finally upon a point involved in one of the Hitchcock amendments defeated today on the floor of the Senate. This would allow regional banks to rediscount for member banks a specified percentage of six months' commercial paper to accommodate banks in the country districts of the Middle West. Under the Owen bill only paper maturing within ninety days would be eligible for rediscount.

The conference adjourned when the Senate met at 8 o'clock, but will resume consideration of amendments tomorrow evening.

Democratic Leader Underwood of the House was in conference with Senate leaders today, in preparation for the final stages of Congressional action on the currency measure. It is thought only two days will be taken for the completion of the bill in the joint conference committee. House leaders have kept in close touch with all changes made by the Senate and they expect President Wilson's signature to be attached to the measure before Christmas. The big task of organizing a Federal reserve board and creating the vast system of regional banks will then begin.

With the defeat of the last of the Hitchcock amendments, which is expected early tomorrow, affirmative work on the currency bill will begin at once. The amendments comprised the essential features of the measures drafted by Senator Hitchcock and the five members of the Senate Banking Committee. With these out of the way, Senator Owen will offer his bill indorsed by the Senate Democratic caucus as the substitute for the Glass bill, that passed the House.

At tonight's session Senator Borah of Idaho made a lengthy argument in support of an amendment which he had proposed to the administration bill, providing that the notes issued by the Federal reserve banks be made legal tender.

"If you put the credit of the government of the United States behind this currency," he said, "why should that credit not be extended to the man who wants to pay his debts, as well as to the man who wants to gather in the great wealth of the country through speculation?"

By a vote of 38 to 31 the Senate rejected an amendment proposed by Senator Hitchcock providing that regional banks must extend to member banks as a matter of right rediscounts up to the amount of the member bank's capital stock, at the prevailing discount rate, and up to twice the capital at increased rates. Senator Norris voted with the Democrats against the amendment. Under the Owen bill the granting of reserves to member banks would be entirely in the discretion of the management of the regional banks. Senator Hitchcock then proposed an amendment to increase to 45 per cent. the gold reserve against issues of the new Federal reserve notes.

LENDS THOUSANDS TO STUDENTS.

Harvard College Reports That Men From Twenty-nine States Were Given Help.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) Dec. 17.—Ninety-two thousand dollars is given or lent annually by Harvard College to needy students, according to figures published today by the college authorities. Most of this sum is given outright in the form of scholarships but a certain portion of it is loaned. In some cases the time of repaying the loans is stipulated and in other cases it is indefinite. Students from twenty-nine States shared in the distribution of the money this year. There are available to undergraduates 265 scholarships carrying financial assistance.

Harvard Square, about which student activities have centered for years, is to be transformed. This is the decision of Harvard officials who have been investigating with a view to making the college surroundings more beautiful.

Massachusetts avenue is to be made to assume a Parisian boulevard effect by the alteration of the present old store and office buildings and the erection of arcades. Among the new structures planned are a theater for the joint use of the students of Harvard and Radcliffe, the Affiliated Women's College and a hotel. The proposed changes will cost $3,000,000.

ROSS HEIRS ARE SOUGHT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—A $100,000 estate is going begging in this city because the beneficiaries in the will of John Joseph Ross, a soldier of fortune who died in Guatemala many years ago, cannot be found. The legatees are Andrew Benjamin Ross, George W. Ross and Elisabeth Ross, all of whom are said to be brothers and sisters of John Ross.

The San Francisco fire of 1906 destroyed the municipal marriage records, which would have shed some light on the whereabouts of the missing heirs.

The Master Medium

The following figures, which show the direction in which the wind blows in the local advertising field, should be a source not only of interest, but of profit to local advertisers.

During November The Times printed 96,771 inches of paid advertising, which is 16,307 inches more than its nearest local morning contemporary, and 56,893 inches more than its second nearest local morning contemporary.

The combined total volume of advertising printed in November in the morning and evening one "cent" papers, fathered by the alleged "Society for Civic Betterment, was 10,586 inches LESS than that printed in The Times alone during the same month.

The Times completely overwhelms and submerges every other newspaper in Los Angeles in the volume of advertising printed every month in the year, and its performance in November is customary and not unusual.

The ability of The Times to regularly print a much greater volume of advertising than any other newspaper in the world is the outgrowth of its permanent, far-reaching home circulation, which is greater in quantity and better in quality than that of any other local newspaper, and is the logical sequence of printing a newspaper so complete in every detail that no man or woman in this field can afford to do without it.

If you have any doubts as to the purchasing power of The Times' circulation—of its influence with the buying classes in this splendid field—study the following tabulation:

OUSTING OF MRS. YOUNG CHARGED TO HARRISON.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] To fill the five vacancies on the school board, occasioned when Mayor Harrison "accepted" the resignations of five men who were prominent in the fight against Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, the Mayor today tendered memberships to five persons. Three accepted and two declined. One of the latter, Seymour Stedman, pleaded his strong Socialistic beliefs, and the other, Dr. A. R. White, announced he was too strong an adherent of Shoop, who succeeded Mrs. Young, to accept. Those appointed: John A. Metz, president Carpenters' Council, representing union labor, to succeed John C. Harding.

John W. Eckhart, Republican, to succeed Henry W. Huttman.

Joseph A. Holpuch, a lawyer, representing the Bohemians, to succeed James B. Dibelka.

The refusal of Stedman and White paved the way for the retention of Harry A. Lipsky, representing the Jews, who was one of the "ousted" five. Mayor Harrison intimated he would retain Lipsky, who is editor of the Jewish Courier, and is a power in politics. Great disappointment was felt by the public because no women were named as members. None of the new members is committed to the reinstatement of Mrs. Young.

Meanwhile John Daniel Shoop, the new superintendent, makes it very plain he will not resign, despite the storm of public feeling against him. The new appointments to the board indicate that Mayor Harrison expects Shoop to stand pat and tend to confirm the general belief that the Mayor knew of the plan to oust Mrs. Young.

TOM FOX INVESTIGATING ABUSE OF PARCEL POST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 17.—Wholesale complaints made recently to Postmaster Thomas Fox have caused the official to order an investigation of the methods used by several Pacific Coast mail-order houses, said to be abusing the new parcel post regulation permitting the shipment of merchandise through the mail, collect on delivery.

Pending a decision on the legality of the novel methods used to sell goods to unwilling customers, all parcel post packages received at the Sacramento postoffice, on which money is to be collected, are being withheld from delivery.

Postmaster Fox said it was becoming a practice to send packages indiscriminately and then notify the consignees if they did not desire to retain the merchandise their money would be refunded on the return shipment of the goods. The goods must be shipped back at the expense of the person receiving the merchandise. He also must pay the charge of the money order for the return of his own money.

SAN FRANCISCO TO RUN PUBLIC STREET DANCES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—Now comes the street dansant in San Francisco. Sponsored by the city, the first of a series of public street dances will be held tomorrow night in one of the outlying residence districts. The city will furnish music, lights and police, the latter having been instructed to see that proper decorum is observed. The dance programme, which will begin at 8 o'clock and end at 11, includes the tango and the "Boston dip."

The second public street dance will be held next Saturday night in another section of the city, and the third of the series is arranged for New Year's Eve in the downtown district, when the public will dance the new year in and the old year out.

The series will be tried as an experiment, the idea being to make street dancing a permanent feature as a substitute for the public dance halls, which were closed by the Police Commission three months ago. The Board of Supervisors originated the plan.

One Chicago Saloon-keeper Declares Fifty Thousand Tramps Go to It Each Winter for Sustenance.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—Only one of the more than 7000 saloon-keepers in Chicago appeared in defense of the saloon free lunch, before a special Council committee today. Representatives of scores of others appeared to urge a bill abolishing lunches in saloons.

One saloon-keeper declared if the lunches were abolished the city would not face the problem of feeding 50,000 tramps each winter. "They are drawn here by free lunches," he said.

It was asserted that the serving of lunches prevented 18,000 cooks and waiters from getting work in the city.

The Alderman who introduced the ordinance declared it was his purpose to make men go home for dinner at night instead of standing at a bar eating sandwiches and telephoning home that they were detained at the office.

MILLIONS TO CHILDREN.

Offspring of Adopted Daughter Become Heirs to Wealth of Louisville Iron Master.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 17.—Judge Hennings in the Circuit Court here today decided that the bulk of the estate of Louis P. Ewald, iron master of Louisville and St. Louis, should go to the children of Mrs. Ellen J. Golden, who, it is said, was adopted by Ewald in 1900 and 1905.

The court at Louisville, last Saturday, denied the claim of Harry Ewald and Mrs. Rosa Damon, brother and sister of the iron master, who asked $500,000 each as their share of the estate.

The estate is estimated at $3,000,000 to $5,000,000. Ewald died in Louisville July 31, 1913.

as having so participated, was the justification given by Gen. Villa for confiscating property in Chihuahua. He said that in expelling the Spaniards in a body he was acting according to the position taken by Gen. Carranza, with whom he was in full accord. Those who had taken part in the internal affairs of the country, he said, whether foreigners or not, would have to suffer the same consequences as Mexican citizens, but he would protect all neutral foreigners.

VILLA'S MESSAGE TO CARRANZA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HERMOSILLO (Son.) Dec. 17.—In a lengthy report received today by Gen. Carranza, it was denied by Gen. Villa that any foreigners were molested in Chihuahua City with the exception of the Spaniards who were expelled. The Chihuahua Constitutionalist commander also suggested to the Supreme leader of the revolutionists that the Chihuahua state capital be made his national provisional capital.

"The foreign consuls asked for guarantees for their countrymen and these were given in full for all except the Spanish" said Gen. Villa in his report. "These as you know almost entirely have taken an undue part in the struggles internal of our country and have put themselves always against the cause of the people of which we are the defenders." Gen. Villa told of the institution of a civil government at Chihuahua City and of the enlistment of two hundred federal soldiers who were sent to Ciudad Juarez on their own recognizance. In requesting Gen. Carranza to move to Chihuahua his military headquarters and seat of civil government Gen. Villa argued that the entire state was in the hands of insurgent forces and that its central location would make the move most advantageous.

It was said here that Gen. Carranza had made no decision in the matter but was considering it. Villa took occasion to reassure the constitutionalist Commander in Chief of "the loyalty and constancy of your most affectionate subordinate."

COLOMBIA RAISES TARIFF.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

BOGOTA, Dec. 17.—Higher tariff rates as a rule prevail in the new tariff law just passed by the Colombian Congress. The maximum rates under the law will not become effective until three months from December 6, the date when the law became operative, while the minimum rates on the industrial class of imports becomes effective ten months after that date.

COLOMBIA'S IMPORTS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. — The United States and Great Britain supply most of Colombia's imports. Last year Great Britain and the United States sent goods valued at $7,939,000 and $7,612,000, respectively, while the imports from all other countries totaled $6,547,000.

Under the new tariff law increases ranging from 33 to 50 per cent. over the present rates are made on most articles. The only exception is on machinery and iron and steel manufactures on which changes are slight. These imports last year totaled $1,400,000. On the next largest item, cotton clothes, of which $1,100,000 worth were imported, the increases range from 30 to 50 per cent. On wheat there is an increase of from 1 to 3 cents a kilo and on flour a decrease of from 8 to 6 cents a kilo. The wheat and flour imports last year were $500,000. On medicines, where the yearly import is $250,000, there is considerable increase. On lard the increase is from 5 to 8 cents a kilo. Lard imports were $50,000.

CAMINETTI FOR GOVERNOR.

Immigration Commissioner Is Said to Count on Support of Women and Union Labor.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Democratic politics are simmering away merrily, and the latest development is that Anthony Caminetti, Commissioner-General of Immigration, is to be a candidate for Governor to succeed Johnson. This merely puts another hat into the ring among the Democrats, but as Senator John Curtin said yesterday, the Democrats should have at least as many candidates as the Republicans—it makes the game more interesting and gives promise of other slates to be written by the political prophets.

Even should Johnson run for re-election Caminetti would give the Progressive a hard fight. He is as radical as is Johnson, and on the floor of the Senate has been the ardent champion of union-labor measures. In addition to union labor it is said, also, that the women vote will have much to do with Caminetti's campaign, and it is understood that Mrs. Caminetti is bound to see her husband seated in the gubernatorial chair at Sacramento. To this end she is actively campaigning among the women voters of the State, and it is even whispered that she had a hand in passing upon candidates for appointment to postoffice and other political positions in the gift of the Democratic President in California.

Illinois Supreme Bench Reverses Lower Court's Judgment in Case of Samuel T. Warfield.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Dec. 17.—On the ground that faulty instructions were given by the criminal and Appellate Courts, the State Supreme Court reversed today the judgment of the lower court in the case of the people vs. Samuel T. Warfield, convicted two years ago on a charge of conspiracy to defraud Mrs. Amanda Patten, wife of James A. Patten, out of $22,000 through the sale of alleged rare editions and objects of art.

John McFarland and W. W. Cooper were arrested with Warfield on similar charges. McFarland turned State's evidence and Cooper was found not guilty. Warfield was sentenced to three years in Joliet Penitentiary and fined $2000 and costs.

REQUEST DECREE TO MAKE NOTES LEGAL TENDER.

Mexico City Institutions Decide on Programme Which It Is Believed Will Maintain in Circulation a Sufficient Amount of the Medium of Exchange for Emergencies.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 17.—A Presidential decree making the State banks' notes legal tender throughout the republic, a guarantee fund to be subscribed by the State banks and deposited in the National Bank and finally a government guarantee of the bank notes, is the programme decided upon by a committee of five bankers, representing the National Bank, the Bank of London and Mexico, and two or three other concerns which met this afternoon with the acting head of the finance department.

No difficulty is expected in having President Huerta issue the decree, the bankers deeming this the only means of maintaining in circulation a sufficient amount of the medium of exchange.

The management of the Central Bank exhausted the reserve deposit funds of only three more State banks today, by adriot delay in paying and by refusal to accept more than 20 per cent. of the bills offered for redemption. Long before the regular hour of opening a double line of holders of notes stretched a block from the doors, and when the bank closed this afternoon those half way in the line at the beginning had not reached the paying teller's window.

Although the Central Bank's difficulties do not concern directly any other bank, yet an inevitable reflection was manifested today, particularly in the case of the Bank of London and Mexico, where there was a heavy withdrawal of deposits.

TRAGEDY DIVIDES LAKEWOOD.

Mrs. Jasper Lynch Actively Supports Moriarity, Accused of Killing Wife of Gould's Gardener.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOMES RIVER (N. J.) Dec. 17.—The case of Joseph Moriarity, charged with the murder of Mrs. Caroline Turner, wife of one of George Gould's gardeners at Georgian Court, has made two divisions of the wealthy Lakewood colony. Moriarity's trial is on tomorrow's Supreme Court calendar and a partisan crowd is expected to fill the courtroom.

The defense is supported by Mrs. Jasper Lynch, a wealthy resident of Lakewood, who believes Moriarity is the victim of a conspiracy. She has engaged three prominent attorneys and will sit among them at the trial.

Mrs. Turner's mutilated body was found, nearly three years ago, in the woods near her home. A heavy cudgel near by was the only clue to the murder. Moriarity, arrested on circumstantial evidence, has not ceased to protest his innocence.

EUGENIC LAW A PUZZLE.

Wisconsin Bridegrooms Wondering How They Can Get Married at All in That State.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MADISON (Wis.) Dec. 17.—Atty.-Gen. W. C. Owen said today he had not decided whether the County Physician would be compelled to conduct examinations under the new State eugenic marriage law, which goes into effect January 1.

"This question has not been submitted," said the Attorney-General. "The law provides, however, that the County Physician must examine indigent persons free of charge, but whether he must conduct other examinations has not been passed on."

While the rights of physicians have been defined by the Attorney-General, who holds they may not be compelled to examine for the $3 fee, the rights of prospective bridegrooms are as hazy as ever. The law says they must be examined and penalizes the County Clerk if he issues a license without a certificate. At the same time it is made unlawful to pay a physician more than $3.

The probabilities are that the situation will not be cleared up until some prospective benedict attacks the law in the courts.

New York Inspectors Seize Ten Thousand Rounds on Steamer Allemania Just Returned from Haiti.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Ten thousand rounds of revolver cartridges, hidden under an anchor chain of the steamer Allemania, were seized by customs inspectors here this afternoon. The Allemania reached New York Monday from Haitien and Colombian ports and the ammunition was found then, but not until the vessel was placed in dry dock could the ten-ton chain be removed.

The inspectors believe the cartridges were taken on here for use in Hayti, but that the persons who surreptitiously placed them on the ship were unable to get at them when Hayti was reached.

The cartridges had been heavily pounded by the chain, but none had exploded.

Similar shipments of cartridges were found recently aboard two other ships about to sail for the West Indies and were confiscated.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Opponents of Democratic reform measures who have denounced many administration bills as the "products of hysteria" were characterised as reactionaries and standpatters by Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, in an address here tonight at the annual dinner of the North Carolina Society of New York. The "hysteria" which the denounce, he said, is "Democracy, the rule of the people."

Secretary Daniels was formerly of the native Carolinians who attended the banquet. The army and navy and civil service were represented among the guests by Rear-Admirals Hugo Osterhaus and Cameron M. Winslow and Capt. Albert Gleaves, commandant of the Brooklyn navy yard. Martin W. Littleton, former Representative, discussed administration measures and pleaded for a larger navy.

MUNICIPAL PIER PROPOSED.

A municipal pleasure pier is to cost about $200,000 is one of the projects for which the organization hopes to bond the city. The Municipal Improvement Committee of the league met this afternoon and took up details relative to the matter. An ornamental street lighting system and a site for the public library are other projects included in the proposed bond issue.

An effort will be made to secure a site on the property adjacent to the Garland Block on Pacific avenue, now used for picnic grounds, for the library site. The property belongs to the Huntington interests and a committee has been appointed to make a figure on it.

Will Be Succeeded by Rear-Admiral Hugo Osterhaus Who Is Relieved by Admiral Wilson.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Rear-Admiral Hugo Osterhaus, who was relieved as commander of the Atlantic fleet by Admiral Wilson, will succeed Admiral Haden as commander of the Pacific fleet, it was announced today at the Navy Department. Admiral Haden will be ordered to the Mare Island Navy Yard.

Admiral Osterhaus was born in Germany, but came to the United States when a child. He was graduated from the Naval Academy in 1873 and has had a long and distinguished career in the navy. He was retired for age in 1911, but was recalled to active service in 1914 and placed in command of the Atlantic fleet.

Burleson Ahead.

extension of service and in the imposition of charges the government must be guided not by the consideration of profit but by the needs of the people, who have a right to expect the most efficient postal service administered in the most economical manner possible, and made available to them at rates involving, for the service as a whole, no element of taxation. The service should be extended, with due regard for the exigencies of public revenue, wherever its benefits, commercial and social, warrant the expenditure necessary, irrespective of whether or not the revenue from each extension will defray the cost thereof."

MAIN RECOMMENDATIONS.

Notable recommendations to Congress for the enactment of additional legislation to facilitate and extend the operations of the postal service are made. Among the more important are the following:

"That the Postoffice Department be given exclusive jurisdiction over the selection of the sites for public buildings to be used wholly for postoffice purposes, and joint authority with the Secretary of the Treasury in the selection of sites for Federal buildings to be used jointly by the postal and other branches of the government service.

"To amend existing law in order to allow $2000 indemnity for accidental death of any officer or employee of the postal service or for death within one year as the result of injuries sustained in the service in the line of duty. Provision is also made for leave with full pay for a period of one year for injuries sustained in the line of duty and then at half pay for not exceeding one year additional. This is an important recommendation for the reason that the existing law applies only to railway postal clerks, seaport clerks and postoffice inspectors.

"The elimination of surety bonds now required of postal officers and employees and the substitution of a guaranty fund established and maintained by assessments prescribed by the Postmaster-General.

"To authorize the Postmaster-General to contract for experimental aerial mail service, for which an estimate of $50,000 has been submitted.

"To permit the Postmaster-General to transfer clerks from postoffices of the first and second classes to the railway mail service at salaries higher than the entrance salary in the railway mail service. The purpose of this legislation is to bring about an interchangeable personnel between the railway mail service and the postoffice service, with a view to a more effective utilization of the entire force of postal employees and to afford better opportunities for the advancement of worthy and efficient clerks in postoffices.

"To extend the provisions of existing law so as to provide substitutes for railway postal clerks who are absent with pay on account of sickness, the expense of employing such substitute to be borne by the government instead of by the clerk.

"To authorize the issuance of postal money orders payable at any money order office.

"To authorize the removal of the limitation on the amount of postal savings deposits with the proviso that interest shall not be paid on more than $1000. This will permit postal savings depositors to deposit any amount."

PARCEL POST.

The report indicates that the growth of the parcel post business has been phenomenal.

"The experience gained in the operation of the system under the revised rates and weights has shown that a further reduction of rates and increase of weight limit is justified," says the Postmaster-General.

"It is believed that the parcel post should be made eventually to serve the people as fully and completely as possible without interfering with the efficient conduct of the postal service, and that changes in the regulations that will have the effect of increasing the volume of parcel post mail should be made gradually and only after experience and investigation have shown that they may be put into effect without loss or detriment to the service."

In connection with what is referred to as the "prodigious growth" of the parcel post service, particularly, Mr. Burleson discusses additional compensation to the railroads for carrying the mails. He says that data is being secured by the department which will enable him to lay before Congress at a later date his conclusions "as to what will be just and adequate compensation for all services which the railroads have rendered or will be called upon to render the government."

SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

It is pointed out that the mailings of newspapers and periodicals as second-class matter at the 1-cent-a-pound rate and free in the county of publication, "for the first time in the history of the postal service, exceeded a billion pounds during the last fiscal year."

In connection with the transportation of magazines and other bulky second-class matter by fast freight, instead of by the regular mail routes, the Postmaster-General expresses earnestly the hope "that Congress will remove the prohibition against the extension of this system of handling second-class matter and enable the department to apply it where found practicable."

FREE DELIVERY.

It is the announced purpose of Mr. Burleson not to encourage the extension of free delivery of mails in villages, because of the inferiority of the service and the impossibility to secure economical administration of it. It is his intention, therefore, wherever practicable, to utilize the services of rural carriers for the delivery of mails in small towns.

On that phase of the service, the report says:

"As rural routes emanate from practically all of the places where this village delivery service would be desired, the carriers should be used to make such deliveries as may be desirable and feasible to the residents of the villages. The compensation of rural carriers, however, at this time is based on the length of their routes and to make them available for the service indicated their salaries should be based upon an eight-hour day. With this change these carriers could be used not only to supplement the general delivery service as indicated, but in many instances in the delivery of parcel post matter as well, thus obviating the necessity for additional horse hire for the delivery of larger packages. The compensation of rural carriers should, therefore, be changed from a mileage to an eight-hour basis and these carriers should be permitted to deliver mail regardless of the distance from the postoffice or the corporate limits of the city or town."

MERIT SYSTEM.

In conclusion Postmaster-General Burleson points out that the Postoffice Department is essentially a business institution, which touches every home in the land. A high standard of efficiency is demanded of all postal employees and he says that he will require from every postmaster his individual attention to the affairs of his office and that this requirement will be rigidly enforced.

"For this reason," he says, "the merit system should be adhered to in the Postoffice Department above all others in order to secure the very highest standard of efficiency in the conduct of its affairs."

CUT OUT NEW ITEMS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Every new proposition in the postoffice appropriation bill, including an item of $2,000,000 for increased pay for rural carriers, has been eliminated by the House Postoffice Committee as an economy measure. A Democratic caucus probably will consider authorizing the Postmaster-General to investigate the advisability of government ownership of telephones and telegraphs.

Democratic Chairman McCombs Says He Declined Ambassadorship on Account of Expense.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—William F. McCombs, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, gave his reasons today for declining appointment as Ambassador to France.

"The post entails the expenditure of about $150,000 a year," he said. "It pays $17,500. I could not afford to accept it. I am going back to the practice of law and I hope to make some money."

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Taking advantage of reductions under the Underwood tariff law, the navy has adopted the general policy of purchasing supplies in the markets of the world, instead of only in the American market. The latest call for bids put out by the Navy Bureau of Supplies and Accounts is for 100,000 yards of dark blue cloth for trousers, jackets and caps for enlisted men. The awarding of one contract for beef to Argentine packers several weeks ago led to a substantial decrease in the bids submitted by American packers.

RAISE EAGLE ROCK RATES.

State Railroad Commission Decides the City Is Entitled to Get More for Its Water.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That the railroad commission does not devote its energies entirely to reducing the rates paid by the public to public utilities corporations was demonstrated today in a decision handed down by the commission, which materially increases the water rates in the town of Eagle Rock, in Los Angeles county.

The case came before the commission on the complaint of the city of Eagle Rock, which has transferred the jurisdiction over its public utilities to the commission. The people of Eagle Rock have been paying a minimum of 75 cents a month, with an additional charge of 10 cents on each 100 cubic feet of water used. The commission fixes the rate at a minimum of $1.25 a month, with an allowance of 400 cubic feet and a charge of 15 cents for each additional 100 cubic feet.

TO ELIMINATE GEORGE.

New York Charity Board Will Probably Recommend Removal of Junior Republic's Founder.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The elimination of William R. George from the George Junior Republic at Freeville, N. Y., founded by him more than a decade ago, probably will be recommended by the State Board of Charities in a statement to be issued tomorrow. The board today adopted the report of a special commission to investigate charges made against George in connection with the administration of the republic.

"This report probably will recommend the elimination of Mr. George and the removal of all girls from the republic," said R. M. Hebberd, secretary of the board. The report, although adopted today, will not be made public until tomorrow.

WELCOME MARIE DRESSLER.

Discovered at Goldfield. She Says She is to Live in the West for the Future.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GOLDFIELD, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Goldfield awoke today to the fact that it was harboring a celebrity when it became known that "Mrs. Dalton" was in reality Marie Dressler, Broadway favorite. Mr. and Mrs. Dalton are at the Goldfield Hotel and in the morning will start for an automobile trip of forty miles across the desert to inspect a mining property Miss Dressler has owned for several years.

Now for the news: Miss Dressler is enamored of the West. She loves it. She has entered into partnership with G. M. Anderson and Jake Rosenthal in the Gaiety Theater at San Francisco, and will hereafter divide her time between San Francisco and Los Angeles in revues and musical comedies.

The Neal Treatment For Drink Habit

At the Neal Institute Drink Habit Is Treated as a Poisoning and Not a Disease, Hence the Great Success.

The users of alcoholic liquors need medical treatment. It is the only way to help them. They need a treatment for alcoholic poisoning which will eliminate all alcohol and neutralize its functional effect upon the body tissues. The Neal treatment does this in three days' time, without the use of painful and dangerous hypodermic injections.

Sixty Neal Institutes in the United States, Canada and Australia are daily demonstrating that the Neal method of treatment is the only rational solution of the question of curing drunkenness. Make up your mind you will stop drinking now. Take the Neal treatment, or have your father, son or husband do so, and begin the new year a sober man.

ASKED TO RULE ON BURKE DEALS.

Garrison Wants to Find Out if Employee Accused of Making Fifty Thousand Dollars on the Side Is Under the War Department or Not.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Secretary Garrison asked Attorney McReynolds today to rule on the question whether John Burke, manager of the Panama Railway commissary department, whose transactions are under investigation, is a government employee or the employee of a private corporation. Upon the Attorney-General's opinion will depend the action of the government at the conclusion of an inquiry into charges that Burke has profited by receiving gifts or commissions from persons selling supplies to the canal commissary department. Officials said tonight that nothing in this investigation thus far had indicated any loss to the government.

If Burke is a government employee the government might proceed against him criminally, otherwise the only recourse of the government would be to proceed civilly to recover for the Panama Railway any money Burke received unlawfully. The Department of Justice already has ruled that Panama Railroad employees are not in the government employ.

Maj. F. C. Boggs, the general purchasing officer of the Panama Canal Commission, is conferring with legal officers of the War Department and the canal commission regarding the next step to be taken.

It was admitted officially today that for the last six months the inquiry has been in progress based on charges preferred by Charles R. Walter, a former subordinate of Burke in the commissary department, alleging that his superior officer was demanding and receiving commissions from persons with whom he had placed contracts for food and other supplies for the canal workers. Also, it is alleged that Burke awarded contracts to the Colon Import and Export Company, in which he is a stockholder, and that he had profited at least $50,000 from his operations.

DENIAL BY BURKE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 17.—John Burke, whose work in the commissary department of the Panama Canal is being investigated, was seen here this afternoon and denied that he had ever received money from any source, other than his salary, while connected with the commissary department. Mr. Burke came to Indianapolis two weeks ago on his vacation. "There is not a word of proof in any charge that I have profited financially 'on the side' in connection with my work in the Canal Zone," said Burke. "Complaint against me arose last September on account of information given out by a disgruntled employee. The complaint was that the department had made purchases abroad. I never made answer to the complaint, for it was the policy of the department to purchase supplies wherever they could be had the cheapest.

"The charge that I have made money out of my position is news to me. It would be impossible, as I am not in full charge of the commissary department. I have detailed reports to my superior officer."

Mr. Burke said supplies amounting to about $8,000,000 were passed by the department.

WILSON DEFENDS BURKE.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

COLON, Dec. 17.—Lieut.-Col. Eugene T. Wilson, chief subsistence officer for the Panama Canal Commission and head of the department under which John E. Burke is employed, as manager of the canal commissary department today characterized as absolutely untrue the intimation that Burke had profited by the placing of contracts for supplies.

Rumors to this effect were current on the Isthmus two months ago, but investigation showed that they were without foundation, according to Lieut.-Col. Wilson, who said that the chief accountant of the commission had examined the major portion of Burke's account—and had discovered no discrepancy. Mr. Burke is now in the United States on a vacation leave.

HOLD COURT ON STREET.

New York Magistrate Tests Dazzling Power of Automobile Light and Fines the Driver.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Many motorists have been fined here for failing to provide their cars with lights, but the first penalty for carrying too much light was imposed by a police magistrate today. Clifford Schaufele, the owner of the car, was fined $10 under a new law which forbids motorists to show lights so bright as to dazzle traffic. To determine whether Schaufele's lamps violated the law the magistrate held court last night on a street corner and had the defendant drive past.

Another magistrate who held court on a street corner today tested the police method of timing motorists from a stationary post by stop watches found inaccurate.

In making the test the magistrate dispatched an automobilist arrested for exceeding the speed limit. If the decision stands the timing of automobilists suspected of speeding will be left to cycle policemen who follow the cars and take the speed from speedometers.

A NEW THAW COMMISSION.

Court Names Board to Decide Whether It Is Safe to Let Him Out on Bail.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CONCORD (N. H.) Dec. 17.—A commission to examine Harry K. Thaw to determine whether his liberty under bail would be dangerous to public safety, was announced in a rescript issued today by Judge Aldrich in the Federal Court today.

The commission is to consist of Frank S. Streeter, Concord; Dr. Morton Prince, Boston; Dr. George A. Blumer, superintendent of Butler Hospital for the Insane, Providence, R. I., and Dr. Charles P. Bancroft, superintendent of the New Hampshire State Hospital for the Insane, Concord.

When the report of the commission is presented the parties may have leave to be heard further on the question of bail.

"DESMONDS"

DANGER FROM CHRISTMAS DISPLAYS AND DECORATIONS

To the Public—Your attention is hereby respectfully called to the fact that the introduction about premises of Christmas greens, harvest specimens, moving picture exhibits, and other inflammable materials, such as cotton to represent snow, and the like, introduces an additional hazard not contemplated by the underwriters in issuing policies of indemnity covering the usual fire hazard; and in this connection we refer you to one of the conditions of the California standard form of fire insurance policy, wherein it is stipulated that:

"Unless otherwise provided by agreement endorsed hereon or added hereto, this company shall not be liable for loss or damage occurring (a) while the hazard be materially increased by any means within the control of the insured."

In addition to the danger to property from displays referred to, the danger to life in crowded stores or places of meeting by reason of a panic occasioned by a fire, even though it be small and easily controlled, is so great that the underwriters, who have made a study of such hazards, would only be partly fulfilling their duty should they fail to give warning.

Use only non-inflammable decorations. Asbestos fiber is a good substitute for cotton. A tree should be set securely, so that the children, in reaching for things, cannot tip it over. Do not permit decorations near gas jets. Do not make the slightest change in electrical wiring without consulting the Electrical Inspector.

WEDS GRANDSON OF JEFF. DAVIS.

SOCIETY ATTENDS CEREMONY AT COLORADO SPRINGS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

COLORADO SPRINGS (Colo.) Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The chief social affair of the fall occurred this evening, when William Davis Hayes wed Elizabeth McEuen Davis at St. Stephens's Church. The ceremony occurred at 8 o'clock and was performed by the Rev. Arthur N. Taft.

The bride was given away by her father, Henry Kirke Brown Davis, and was attended by Mrs. Jefferson Hayes Davis as matron-of-honor, and Miss Avis Jones and Miss Eleanor Washburn as maids-of-honor.

Jefferson Hayes Davis attended his brother as best man, and the ushers were George K. Shields and Charles Leaming Tutt.

Mr. Hayes is the son of J. Addison Hayes, a banker of this city, and is a grandson of Jefferson Davis, the head of the Southern Confederacy. His older brother had his name changed by act of the Mississippi Legislature so that the name Jefferson Davis may not be lost in the family.

The bride is the daughter of a wealthy eastern mining man, who came here some years ago to reside and the families are not related. The most exclusive society was bidden to the wedding, but no reception was held afterwards, as the bride and groom hurried to a train for their wedding tour.

Head of the New Haven Says Railroads Should Give the Public Their Side of a Controversy.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Dec. 17.—Howard Elliott, chairman of the New Haven Railroad, was questioned by the Public Service Commission today regarding certain payments made by the railroad company in Massachusetts for publicity and advertising.

Regarding advertising, Chairman Elliott said:

"I think a railroad ought to advertise and do all it can to present to the public its service as well as all the economic difficulties that surround a large railway corporation. Many persons are staying awake nights to present the other side, and much misinformation is in circulation. If the roads are to be saved it will be when the public has knowledge of the real facts."

When asked by Commissioner George W. Anderson how much an editorial unsigned and purporting to be independently inspired should cost a railroad, Elliott declared with emphasis that such "advertising" should not exist.

WOULD LIMIT SOUTH'S QUOTA.

States to Vote Quickly on Republican Ruling.

Approval Will Insure Call for Party Convention.

Start Campaign for Reunion of Warring Factions.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The Republican National Committee concluded tonight its labor for reform in party procedure, and launched a campaign for a reunion of warring elements by adopting a resolution providing for a radical change in the basis of representation in national nominating committees, which would reduce the quota of Southern States from 23 to 18 per cent. of the convention's total.

The action of the committee, criticised in vigorous terms by several of its members, but made unanimous before adjournment, must be indorsed by States entitled to cast a majority of votes in the electoral college before it becomes party law. In order that such action shall be taken as promptly as possible the committee appointed a subcommittee of three consisting of Charles E. Warren of Michigan, Senator Borah of Idaho and Gov. Hatfield of West Virginia to prepare an address to the States urging immediate ratification of the proposal. This address will be drawn up shortly after the Christmas holidays and leading members of the committee expressed the hope tonight that it would be read by next winter and that it would be acted upon favorably by next fall's convention. Approval by the States will insure a call from the national committee for the national convention for 1916 along the lines laid down today.

The reorganization plan adopted came as a compromise which reflected the views of many committeemen, that southern representation should be reduced but not brought to the vanishing point. It reads as follows:

"Confident that the action of the committee, representing as it does practically the unanimous sentiment of the Republican electors of the States, will be ratified by the Republican electors of the States,

"Be it resolved, that this committee shall issue a call for the national convention to be held in 1916, to nominate candidates for President and Vice-President in accordance with the following basis of representation: Each State shall be entitled in such convention to two delegates at large; one delegate at large for each representative in the Congress at large from any State; two delegates from each Congress District; an additional delegate from each Congress District in which the vote either for Republican Presidential electors in 1912 or for the Republican candidates for Congress in 1914, shall not have been less than 7500 and that for each delegate chosen an alternate delegate shall be chosen in the same manner and at the same time, to act in the absence of the delegate.

"Provided, however, that the ratio basis of representation shall not be made the basis of the call for the national convention to be held in the year 1916 unless prior to January 1, 1915, Republican State conventions held under the laws of the States, called by the Republican State committees of the States in such number of States as are entitled to cast a majority of the votes in the presidential electoral college, shall ratify the action of this committee in respect to determining this basis of representation."

THE VOTE

The vote on the resolution was as follows:

Aye—Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, North Carolina, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Utah, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin—35.

According to figures submitted to the subcommittee the new plan would reduce the total number of delegates from 1912 as in 1912, to 1916. Under it these States would lose delegates:

Alabama, nine; Arkansas, three; Florida, four; Georgia, ten; Illinois, two; Kentucky, one; Louisiana, four; Mississippi, eight; New York, two; North Carolina, seven; Tennessee, one; South Carolina, seven; Virginia, one; Texas, three; Wisconsin, nine; and Hawaii, four.

The District of Columbia and Alaska were provided with two delegates each by separate action and the Philippines, Porto Rico and Hawaii were also given two each without the right to vote.

R. B. Howell of Nebraska led the fight against the resolution. He said Republican voters would not be satisfied with a reduction of the quota proposed, and pointed out the comparative strength of the delegations from several northern and southern States under it, giving also the percentage of votes cast in these States to show that Republican weakness below Mason and Dixon's line and strength above it. He proposed as a substitute one of the plans submitted by the Republican National Committee, which provided for four delegates at large from each State and one delegate in addition for each 10,000 votes or majority fraction thereof cast for the Republican candidate for Congress or electors in 1912. This plan would reduce southern representation to 261 delegates.

Mr. Howell was opposed by Senator Borah, former Gov. Hadley, both of the Louisiana proxy, Committeeman M. Remmell of Arkansas and R. L. Gregor of Texas, and E. F. Colladay of the District of Columbia, who held a proxy from the State of Georgia. On a vote Mr. Howell's proposed substitute for the Committee plan was beaten, 46 to 37. Senator North Dakota

A Plain Statement of Piano-Facts

This piano factory must be moved. There is the big, salient, important point. This factory has on its floors now, scores of the finest and most world-famous pianos, with which one of two things must be done. They're either going to be sold right here at the factory, for whatever they'll bring, or else we must go to the expense of crating them and boxing them and shipping them to our big new plant at Van Nuys, which will entail an enormous expense and a considerable amount of risk.

We prefer to sell them on our floors now. We haven't taken any high-rent, mahogany-fixtured, down-town piano store. We ask you to come directly to the factory, and for the first time in your life to choose your piano from the factory, at the factory, at factory prices, during the greatest factory-to-you piano sale that Los Angeles has ever seen.

You can buy Mahogany Upright pianos for as little as $127. Grand pianos are going for the price of ordinary Uprights. Players are being sacrificed at a fraction of the actual manufacturing cost.

And you need not pay one cent down on them. Use them FREE for a month or two, then begin to make your payments.

Let there be music in your home this Christmas. Take advantage of this offer while you may. It will not last long, for the stock of pianos on our floors has been cut in half since we made our first announcement of this big sale.

Remember the necessity under which we're working. Remember that we MUST sell these pianos. Then come and see them and make your offer. No matter what it is, it will be accepted if it is anywhere within the bounds of reason.

Take the car northbound on Spring St. marked "N. Main St." Get off at Sichel St. and walk one block South to the big piano factory.

See the big acoustic room, in which we test the massive organs we build. It is filled with handsome Grands, Uprights, Baby Grands and Players. They're all going to be sold. Hundreds of homes are going to be made happy with pianos.

In many of these homes the piano idea was long ago given up as being too expensive. That argument cannot exist now! Expense is a secondary consideration. We must sell these pianos! Make your offers!

French Art Director Admits Clew to "Mona Lisa" Theft Furnished by Boston Curator Was Good.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Dec. 17.—The first real clew to the theft of the painting, "Mona Lisa," was furnished to the French police at the time of the robbery by Jean Guiffrey, now curator of the Museum of Fine Arts at Boston, Mass., and formerly assistant conservator of the Louvre. Guiffrey at the time wrote, giving reasons why the picture must have been stolen by one of the men employed in the framing of pictures at the Louvre. The director of the French National Museums, Eugene Pujalet, was impressed by Guiffrey's reasoning and informed the police. The director said today that if the clew had been adequately followed, the picture would have been discovered long ago.

The police have found the girl who signed the name "Mathilde" to the love letters discovered in the room of Vincenzo Perugia after his arrest at Florence. She has been unable, however, to throw any light on the theft of the painting. She remembered seeing a wooden box in Perugia's room, but declared she never saw or heard anything of the "Mona Lisa."

RIO JANEIRO, Dec. 17.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt and party on their arrival at Corumba were warmly received by the civic authorities and people. The president of the municipality expressed to Col. The colonel has been obliged to abandon his proposed visit to Cuyaba, but has accepted an invitation to join in a jaguar and wild bear hunt, for which preparations had already been made. The President of Matto Grosso will join Col. Roosevelt on December 21.

Prior to his departure for San Luis de Caceros, the former President will make an inspection of various industries and will then set out on his journey into the interior. All the members of the expedition are in the best of health.

Minister of Commerce Says the Country Should be Well Represented at Panama-Pacific Fair.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Dec. 17.—The French Minister of Commerce, Louis J. Malvy, took occasion at the banquet of the association of the Metal Industry of France tonight to call attention to the great importance of France being well represented at the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco so as to create permanent relations which would permit French commerce to benefit to the full from the new currents of trade resulting from the opening of the Panama Canal. It was necessary, he said, to be properly represented there, not only to keep flying the banner of French industry, but attract new and retain old customers—especially those South American people who will flock to San Francisco.

"You will go to the exposition," he said, "and show that our industry has neglected nothing to maintain its traditional reputation and at the same time contribute to the extension of our commerce, prosperity and interests."

LAVA STREAMS CHANGE ISLAND.

Active Volcano Causes the Inhabitants to Flee.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Dec. 17.—The configuration of the coast of the Island of Ambrim, in the New Hebrides group, was changed on the "slip point" of western side, by the volcanic upheavals on December 6, according to cablegrams received by the French colonial office today from the Governor of New Caledonia.

Previous reports are confirmed relative to the formation of new craters in the island, which is volcanic in origin. The vast lava stream overwhelmed the Presbyterian Hospital, which is controlled by the Presbyterian churches of Canada and Australasia, while numerous French and English business houses and cocoa plantations were destroyed. A heavy rain of cinders and ashes fell continuously for five days. The inhabitants fled from the vicinity and proceeded in canoes to the Catholic and Presbyterian stations, where the refugees are being cared for. It is believed no lives were lost.

The fleeing natives were transported on the steamer Fingoe to the mission stations on the island of Malekula, 650 of them being sheltered at the French Catholic Mission at Port Sandwich and 256 at the Presbyterian Mission at Guaya.

The government authorities are supplying food and clothing. M. Cariou and two other Frenchmen organized the work of rescue and transportation of the natives. Jules Brunet, Governor of New Caledonia, in his cablegram, says they showed "initiative, courage and coolness."

Jacques Louis Miramonda, French colonial administrator, and resident commissioner, and M. A. King, British resident commissioner of the New Hebrides, went to the scene on board the French cruiser Kersaint. They found the western coast of the island of Ambrim, between Dip Point and Banlaw, covered with a layer of ashes and scoriae.

Little is known as to the interior of Ambrim, which has been very rarely visited by white men. No census has ever been taken. Only foreign traders and officials reside in the coast settlements and no estimate of the loss of life has been reported among them, the French colonial office has been notified to suspend further advices and experience for all health treatments. RAMPOLLA IN STATE.

News of the Cardinal's Death Broken to Pope Pius X. by Merry Del Val and Dreosa.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

ROME, Dec. 17.—The body of the late Cardinal Rampolla is lying in the drawing-room of his palace. The room is draped in red and contains with oil paintings. On one side is a small altar.

A black cloth with silver fringe is draped over the body and above stands a column with a cross and group representing St. Peter's, surmounted by the waves.

Funeral services will be held in St. Peter's. The cardinals and members of the ecclesiastics attached to the Vatican as well as the diplomatic representatives accredited to the Holy See reviewed the body this afternoon.

The death of the Cardinal was first made known to Pope Pius X. at 8 o'clock this morning. Cardinal Merry Del Val and Monsignor Giovanni Bressa, the Pope's private secretary, went to see His Holiness at an early hour in the morning to break the sad news as gently as possible. But when the Pope heard the name of Cardinal Rampolla coupled with the word "indisposition" he grew pale and begged them to tell him the truth without keeping him in anxiety and uncertainty any longer. The more than anything else, the prelates then told him that Rampolla was dead.

The Pope later issued the following statement:

"Cardinal Rampolla was one of the greatest men in the church. He will become even greater since he now rises from state affairs."

On Sunday evening last Cardinal Rampolla received Elias Michael and wife of New York, and discussed with them the question of bringing about a better understanding between the religious sects.

LAVA STREAMS CHANGE ISLAND.

Forced to Take Refuge in Neighboring Missions.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Dec. 17.—The configuration of the coast of the Island of Ambrim, in the New Hebrides group, has been changed on the "slip point," or western side, by the volcanic upheavals on December 6, according to a cablegram received by the French colonial office today from the Governor of New Caledonia.

Previous reports are confirmed relative to the formation of new craters in the island, which is volcanic in origin. The vast lava stream overwhelmed the Presbyterian Hospital, which is controlled by the Presbyterian churches of Canada and Australasia, while numerous French and English business houses and native plantations were destroyed. A heavy rain of cinders and scoria fell continuously for five days. The inhabitants fled from the vicinity and proceeded in canoes to the Catholic and Presbyterian stations, where 900 refugees are being cared for. It is believed no lives were lost.

The fleeing natives were transported on the steamer France to the mission stations on the islands of Malekula, 650 of them being sheltered at the French Catholic Mission at Port Sandwich and 250 at the Presbyterian Mission at Ganga.

The government authorities are supplying food and clothing. Col. Arlieu and two other Frenchmen assisted the work of rescue and transportation of the natives. Agnes Brunet, Governor of New Caledonia, in his cablegram, says they showed "initiative, courage and coolness."

Jacques Louis Miramenda, French colonial administrator, and resident commissioner, and M. A. King, British resident commissioner of the New Hebrides, went to the scene on board the French cruiser Kersaint. They found the western coast of the island of Ambrim, between Dip Point and Malaw, covered with a layer of ashes and scoriae.

Little is known as to the interior of Ambrim, which has been only very rarely visited by white men. No census has ever been taken. The foreign traders and officials reside on the coast settlements and no details of life has been reported since the outbreak, the French colonial office has not requested further cabled details of the eruption.

Bills on the Counter; Gone.

G. A. Morthland, a mortgage broker with offices in the Union Oil building, was poorer by $600 last night, he reported, not through a business deal, but simply because he was a bit careless and left that amount in $50 bills on a counter in a downtown business house, where they soon disappeared. Morthland was doing a little detective work last night, trying to locate two men who were in the place at the time. He promises a liberal reward for his lost notes, which were all of the Citizens' National Bank series.

Conflict.

THREATENS THE BEET INDUSTRY.

MAY MEAN LOSS OF MILLIONS OF DOLLARS HERE.

Southern California Association Refuses to Reduce Price of Sugar Beets and Factories in Turn Decline to Accede to Set Rate—Tariff Agitation.

There will be no reduction in the price paid to growers of sugar beets in Southern California the coming year, according to the action taken yesterday by the Southern California Beet Growers' Association, at a meeting held in the association offices, No. 911 Trust and Savings building.

Sugar factories have been paying $5.25 a ton for beets the past few years, but are endeavoring to get the grower to accept $4.50 a ton this year, anticipating the tariff reduction. The directors of the association are of the opinion that the farmer of Southern California cannot grow beets for less than $5.25 a ton and it is possible that should the factories refuse to pay more than $4.50 the entire 35,000 acres in the association will go into other crops until the price is restored.

Both the factories and the growers' association are certain that before all the tariff goes off in 1916 the industry will have been entirely abandoned as it will be impossible for American growers to compete with the cheap foreign labor.

This will mean the loss of California's second largest agricultural industry. During 1913, this industry expended in the State nearly $15,000,000, of which nearly $7,000,000 went to the growers of beets, $4,000,000 for labor in factory and field, $2,000,000 to the railways for freight and the balance for oil, lime rock and supplies.

More than 112,000 acres were planted to sugar beets and 170,000 tons of sugar produced. The factories have invested $20,000,000 in land, equipment and plants. This immense business has been built up under the protection of the tariff and its abolition will be a severe blow to many ranchers of the State.

The association, at its meeting yesterday, arranged to seek aid for the industry in the way of a bounty from the government.

BUREAU OF INFORMATION.

PERSONALS.

I. Cherikoff, a merchant of Buenos Ayres, who is traveling in Southern California for pleasure, is at the Van Nuys for a few days. Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Brown of Chicago also are guests there.

T. F. Sylvester and Francis Sylvester, tourists from London, are registered at the Angelus. Other guests there are George, Percy and Lawrence Burnham, real estate dealers from San Diego.

Vice-President Booth of the Security Trust and Savings Bank will act as special commissioner of the foreign trade department of the Chamber of Commerce on his forthcoming tour of South America. He was given his appointment yesterday by the directors of the body.

C. J. Beery, an oil operator, and Mrs. Beery of San Francisco are at the Alexandria, and also L. A. Ash, manager of the Western Hotel Reporter, published in San Francisco; Milo M. Potter, manager of the Potter Hotel in Santa Barbara, and William Wiley, a sugar beet "king" of Anaheim.

Dr. and Mrs. L. W. Pease of Chicago are in Los Angeles for the winter season, registered at the Hayward. Other arrivals there yesterday were Guy A. Reed, a cattle dealer from Carlsbad, N. M., and August E. Drucker, a manufacturer of tooth powder and former hotel owner in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Leon Rudolph and their two children of Camden, N. J., will spend the winter in Los Angeles. They are registered at the Westminster. Mrs. S. S. Mitchell and Miss Needham of Carthage, Mo., stopped at the Westminster yesterday on the way to Santa Barbara for the winter. U. S. Morris, advance agent for "The Rosary" company is at the same hotel.

George A. O'Brien, the traveling representative of an Eastern hat manufacturer, who had the experience of being snow-bound for thirty-six hours in a train on the plains between Laramie and Cheyenne during the recent blizzard in the Middle West, arrived at the Alexandria yesterday. The train stalled in a snow drift. O'Brien said the snow piled to the top of the coaches and that the passengers became very uneasy lest the locomotive's coal supply would give out and leave the train without heat, and that the provisions in the diner might become exhausted. The traveler said neither of these misfortunes came, but that the situation was decidedly uncomfortable.

BOUND FOR CHINA.

Immigration Inspector Anderson brought twenty-one more "transit" Chinese from Calexico yesterday. They will be ordered deported as soon as authorization can be had from the Department of Labor. It is said there are not less than 2000 "transit" men in the vicinity of Calexico, ready to give themselves up and secure free transportation back to China.

AFTER THE SMUGGLERS.

Immigration Inspector Connell left yesterday afternoon on a business trip to El Paso, and will be gone a week. The activity of the opium and Chinese smugglers of late in that section it is understood has something to do with the trip of Capt. Connell at this time.

EXPECTS MONEY.

C. J. Summers, automobile mechanic, of Denver, who was arrested Tuesday night at the Alexandria on "suspicion," was released from the City Jail last evening. Summers declares he expects money from his parents, who reside in Buffalo, to pay his bills at the Alexandria. He appeared highly indignant over his arrest and intimated that he would bring suit against the officials responsible for his incarceration.

Lawrence, formerly well known in Pasadena, where he had his wife lived, was this afternoon convicted of obtaining money under false pretenses by a jury which was out but one minute after hearing the evidence for three days. Lawrence had been under several [illegible] in connection with the same deal, but previously had managed to escape.

Auto Club Hits Hard at Motor Vehicle Act.

Calls It Unconstitution Asks Restraining Order.

New County Ordinance Is Replace It Locally.

An injunction suit to restrain the State administration from enforcing the Motor Vehicle Act, effective January 1, next, under which registration fees will be collected ranging from $5 to $30, according to horsepower, on the 100,000 autos owned in this State, was filed yesterday by the Automobile Club of Southern California against the Governor, the members of the Department of Engineers and State Treasurer Roberts. The department members named as defendants are Charles B. Blaney, Burton A. Towne, N. D. Darlington, J. J. Dwyer, F. W. Hatch and W. J. McClure.

Twenty-eight reasons are given why the act should not be enforced. It is claimed to be in violation of certain sections of the Constitution of the United States and the State Constitution. It demands a license on a right, gives to all and not a mere privilege. It is burdensome, unreasonable and discriminatory, according to the complaint.

FAT COLLECTIONS.

Under the registration fee it is claimed the State will collect $1,000,000, and of this amount $300,000 will be net above expenses. Of this $700,000 there will be turned over to the different counties $400,000 for the road fund and $400,000 for the maintenance of State highways, without specific appropriation by the Legislature.

The association believes that the present fee of $3 is reasonable, based on 100,000 automobiles, the State would collect $300,000, which would be an ample and reasonable revenue. No other fund can be lawfully expended for the State highways.

The members of the association, according to the complaint, have reason to believe that the Department of Engineers intend to apply this enormous fund raised by automobile fees in carrying into effect the $18,000,000 highway bond issue act.

The association tendered a $3 fee in a Franklin model-M machine, which the State Treasurer refused, de-

EXPECTS MONEY.

J. Summers, automobile manufacturer, of Denver, who was arrested yesterday night at the Alexandria on suspicion," was released from the City Jail last evening. Summers declares he expects money from his parents, who reside in Buffalo, to arrive in this city. He is at the Alexandria. He is highly indignant over his arrest and intimated that he would proceed against the officials responsible for his incarceration.

PREACHER CONVICTED.

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 17.—Rev. Charles H. Lawrence, formerly well known in Pasadena, where he and his family lived, was this afternoon convicted of obtaining money under false pretenses by a jury which was out only one minute after hearing the evidence for three days. Lawrence made a real estate deal with E. A. Welch of Ontario, and it was claimed misrepresented the ownership of certain property which resulted in a sale to Welch. Lawrence had been arrested several times in connection with the same deal, but previously had managed to escape.

Auto Club Hits Hard at the Motor Vehicle Act.

Calls It Unconstitutional; Asks Restraining Order.

New County Ordinance Is to Replace It Locally.

An injunction suit to restrain the State administration from enforcing the Motor Vehicle Act, effective January 1 next, under which registration fees will be collected ranging from $5 to $30, according to horse power, on the 100,000 autos owned in the State, was filed yesterday by the Automobile Club of Southern California against the Governor, the members of the Department of Engineering and State Treasurer Roberts. The department members named as defendants are Charles B. Blaney, Horace A. Towne, N. D. Darlington, J. J. Dwyer, F. W. Hatch and W. F. McClure.

Twenty-eight reasons are given why the act should not be enforced. It is claimed to be in violation of certain sections of the Constitution of the United States and the State Constitution, demands a license on a right given to all and not a mere privilege, is burdensome, unreasonable and discriminatory, according to the complaint.

FAT COLLECTIONS.

While the registration fee it is claimed the State will collect $1,000,000, and of this amount $800,000 will be set above expenses. Of this $200,000 there will be turned over to the different counties $400,000 for the city and $400,000 for the maintenance of State highways, without further appropriation by the Legislature.

The association believes that the sum fee of $3 is reasonable, but the $800,000 automobiles, the fees would collect $200,000, which would be an ample and reasonable amount. No other fund can be lawfully expended for the State highways.

The members of the association, according to the complaint, have reason to believe that the Department of Engineers intend to apply this enormous fund raised by automobile users in carrying into effect the $18,000,000 highway bond issue act.

The association tendered a $3 fee to a Franklin model-M machine, but the State Treasurer refused, de-

SOUNDS LIKE PROSPERITY.

Farmer Named Pease Weds Farmeress Named Wheatland, Pastor Named Marsh Officiating.

Louis Pease, a prosperous rancher living near Whittier, secured a license yesterday to marry Miss Florence Wheatland of La Habra. The bride to be gave her occupation as a farmer, also. To cap the climax of felicity in names the couple were united last evening by Rev. J. W. Marsh of Whittier.

"It's the best combination I've sponsored this year," said License Clerk Sparks enthusiastically, as he slid a blotter across the big book. "To me it sounds like prosperity. Peas and wheat and lowlands—can anybody show a better one than that?"

MILLION AND A HALF.

Four Heirs to Wolfskill Estate Named in Probate Petition—No Will Left.

The estate of John Wolfskill, who died last Sunday, is appraised at $1,550,000 of which the personal property is listed in the petition of the widow, Susanne B. Wolfskill, for letters of administration, at $50,000.

Wolfskill died without making a will, and the estate, consisting of 3500 acres, will be disposed of to the heirs through the Probate Court. The heirs named in the petition filed yesterday are Mrs. Wolfskill of No. 222 Arroyo Terrace, Pasadena; Ney Wolfskill, a son, of Pasadena; Matt Wolfskill, a son, of Venice, and Irene Wolfskill, a daughter of Pasadena.

Wolfskill's principal holdings lie west of Beverly Hills, known as the Rancho San Jose de Buenos Ayres. Other parcels are scattered through practically all of the southern counties.

He had received many flattering offers for his Beverly Hills lands, but held them intact. The matter now comes into the Probate Court for the appointment of an administrator, followed probably by petitions for partial or full distribution.

BEWARE THE RIPPER!

Jack of the Nasty Hobby Reappears and Slashes Woman's Gown; Police Active.

Jack the Ripper has come to Los Angeles. He is the man with the keen blade, who creeps up to women who are expensively dressed and slashes the garments to shreds.

Miss R. Ewing, No. 1684 Lucille avenue, came to the police station yesterday to show a sample of the ripper's work. A valuable gown was destroyed.

Miss Ewing was in the shopping throng in the business retail district when the attack occurred. She felt a slight tug at her skirt. Looking down, she saw the folds of her skirt suddenly flare out with two ragged edges, and "Jack the Ripper" disappearing in the crowd.

At regular intervals the ripper appears, and the police are attempting to ambush him before his campaign becomes more destructive.

Linked in a Romance of the Automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Graham,

Who were married last night. She was Mrs. Elizabeth T. Clark of San Diego, divorcee, and he was also divorced.

Love Voyagers.

THEIR SECOND LAUNCH ON HONEYMOON SEA.

ROMANCE took the steering wheel of Benjamin F. Graham's big automobile and sped with the owner and Mrs. Elizabeth G. Clark. The wealthy real estate operator and the San Diego divorcee were wedded at 7 o'clock last night by Dr. Brougher in his study in the Auditorium building.

The marriage is the culmination of a series of motoring parties through Southern California given by Graham. For the past two years Mrs. Clark was invariably a member of these outing parties, which frequently included eight or ten persons.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham were given a wedding supper at the Alexandria last evening and left on a wedding trip that will include Florida, the Bermudas and Europe. They expect to return to Los Angeles in about two months and make their home in the Owen Apartments, owned by Graham, at Valencia and Orange streets. Graham has made his home in an elegantly-furnished suite in the apartments since he was divorced two years ago.

Graham has two daughters, both married. He gave each a ranch for a wedding present. The first Mrs. Graham lives in Hollywood with her young son.

Several very large land deals have been handled by Graham since he came to Los Angeles seven years ago from his native State, Texas. He purchased the Graham ranch of 72,000 acres in Fresno county for $3,000,000. He has maintained offices both in this city and Chicago. Aside from his interests in California, he owns extensive timber lands in British Columbia.

Mrs. Graham is the daughter of L. E. Bollong, a pioneer of Seattle, who is now making his home in San Diego. She is 27 years old and attractive in appearance. Graham is 44 years old.

The wedding was a surprise to Graham's friends here. He obtained the marriage license at 5:30 o'clock last night.

TO MAKE SHORT CUT OUT TO EL SEGUNDO.

PLANS for a short line from Ionia avenue on the Redondo Beach line to El Segundo, via Hawthorne, came to light yesterday following the awarding of a contract by the Pacific Electric to Robert Sherer & Co. of this city for five miles of grading between Hawthorne and the Standard Oil city.

The total cost of all construction work will be around $500,000, but only the work on the line from Hawthorne to El Segundo has been authorized to date. This calls for the expenditure, according to President Shoup of the railroad company, of about $200,000 of the total.

The surveys for the Hawthorne-El Segundo line carry it southwestward from Hawthorne for about half the distance, then northwestward to the oil town. Though built primarily to care for the constantly increasing bulk of freight moving between this city and El Segundo, the line will also be used for local passenger service. When it is completed to Ionia avenue through service between either this city and El Segundo or Watts and El Segundo will be established.

President Shoup stated yesterday that the first link of the line will probably be completed in about three months. He stated that he does not know when the Ionia avenue-Hawthorne work will be authorized.

DOCTORS WILL FEAST.

County Medical Association to Celebrate With Annual Jinks and Dinner this Evening.

A programme, which will be "spicy but not unsavory," according to advance notices, has been prepared for the 1913 Christmas high jinks and dinner of the Los Angeles County Medical Association, to be given this evening at Hamburger's cafe.

From 7:45 o'clock until 8 o'clock members will cast their votes for officers for the coming year. From 8 o'clock until 9 o'clock, there will be a business meeting and then the dinner and the fun will commence. Great emphasis is placed in the advance notices upon a famous Austrian savant who is to address the meeting. His name is withheld and "shrouded in much mystery."

To all members, again referring to the advance notices, a warning is given that their names will be better protected if they appear at the festivities than if they stay away. There is to be "something doing every minute." Those attending may wear what they please, save for the past presidents and new members, who "must wear evening dress or be barred from the room." Dr. George H. Kress is chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements.

HALT PICTURE CASE.

Mistake in Drawing of Complaint Results in Amendment; Valuable Art Works Involved.

Proceedings precipitated by the complaint filed by Frank M. McKey, trustee in bankruptcy of Tomlinson-Humes, Incorporated, of Chicago, against Ell P. Clark, and the Los Angeles Warehouse Company, for an order restraining the defendants from selling twelve Hogarth pictures, belonging to what is known in the art world as the "Industry and Idleness Series," came to a sudden, but temporary, stop, in Judge Wellborn's United States District Court yesterday.

The statement was made on the part of the attorneys for the plaintiff that a mistake had been made in alleging that the contract claimed to exist between Clark and the bankrupts in regard to the sale of the picture had been drawn in Chicago, when, as a matter of fact, it was entered into in Los Angeles. This made necessary an amendment to the complaint, and it was stipulated that this should be allowed.

The matter went over until January 5. Pending the final hearing of the case neither Clark nor the Los Angeles Warehouse Company may dispose of the works.

Rip Van Winkle Wakes.

STERN NEED IS HARBOR'S GOAD.

Officials Toil Desperately Against Lost Time.

Here's Detailed Report on the Progress Made.

To Rush Bond Sale for Sake of Work to Come.

Improvements that will require an expenditure of $1,147,400 are now under way at the Los Angeles Harbor and the work is being pushed with a vigor that makes the port of Los Angeles one of the busiest spots in the world, according to a report made yesterday to the Harbor Commission by Harbor Engineer Jubb. Other improvements are planned, but the report touches only the work now being rushed to completion.

Specifically, the work being done is on inner harbor projects on the Water street wharf, pier A on the Mormon Island channel wharf, and the outer harbor development including municipal dock No. 1, the transit sheds, tracks and terminals and the connection with Fourteenth street at Beacon.

To carry on this work the commission has available about $40,000 for the inner harbor work and about $240,000 for outer harbor development. These sums are the remnants of the old bond issue. Of the new bond issue of $2,500,000, only $250,000 worth of bonds has been sold, and this sum added to the residu of the old issue makes a total of about $550,000, or half enough to complete the projects under way.

The Harbor Commission is using every effort to procure an early disposal of the remaining bonds so that money may be available to carry on the great work without a hitch. The matter was taken up with the Finance Committee of the Council, but that body felt that it would be best to wait until after the first of the year to attempt to float the $2,250,000 bonds remaining. The $250,000 raised recently was from the sale of bonds to the Pacific Electric Railway.

One of the most necessary works now being done is the construction of pier A, to be prepared for the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company on the first of the year. With the improvement of streets, a water main from Fries street, extra sheds and wharf changes and shed and wharf extensions, the estimated cost to complete the work is $178,400.

The Water-street wharf will cost $160,000 more than already has been spent there. This estimate of Engineer Jubb includes the following items: Shed, $51,000; sprinkler and electrical systems, $12,000; water mains and paving, $28,000; railroad tracks and trestle, $9000.

The 1400-foot steel shed on municipal dock No. 1 will still require $225,000 to complete, while the other work on this big wharf is divided as follows: Sprinkler system, $30,000; tank and street mains, $15,000; electrical layout, $7000; equipment, $15,000; paving deck of shed and wharf, $30,000; street improvemnets, $60,000; track, $15,000; administration and engineering, $17,000. This makes a total of $414,000.

The additional expenditures to complete the harbor boulevard is estimated as follows: Timm's Point excavation, $98,000; excavation for new street plan, Fourth to Fourteenth, $25,000; excavation from Palos Verdes to Fourth, $43,500; paving of boulevard, $120,000; viaduct at Timm's Point, $150,000; moving library, grading, etc., $13,500. This makes a total of $450,000.

The improvement of Fourteenth street and the sewer from Beacon street to tidewater will cost about $5000.

These figures are the first authentic estimates given on harbor work and reflect the magnitude of the project now under way

FOR MOUNTAIN HIGHWAY.

Civic Organizations Boosting for Scenic Road to Connect This City With Antelope Valley.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday authorized President Kinney to appoint a committee to attend a mass meeting to be held in Pasadena Saturday in the interest of a proposed highway between Pasadena and Vincent. The proposed road will provide direct communication between this city and Antelope and Victor Valleys. It will save approximately thirty miles from the Mint Canyon route and will pass through magnificently beautiful mountain scenery.

Preliminary surveys show the road to be entirely practical from an engineering standpoint and all the communities interested appear to be unanimously in favor of it. The Pasadena Board of Trade has taken the initiative in the matter and representatives of that organization met the people of Antelope and Victor Valleys at Lancaster last week. All the valley people indorsed the project and appointed a committee to attend a meeting, which will be held at the Pasadena Board of Trade rooms at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

In addition to representatives of the Pasadena and Los Angeles Chambers of Commerce, Antelope Valley and the Automobile Club of Southern California, many prominent men, including former Senator Frank Flint, will speak on the advantages to be secured by building the mountain highway.

FOR THE GRAND JURY.

Yung Sing, the Chinese charged with smuggling four contrabands into the United States from Tia Juana, was held in $5000 bond to answer to the Federal grand jury yesterday by United States Commissioner Williams. Sing is already under a bond of $4000 for alleged violation of the immigration laws. It is claimed by the immigration authorities that he is an old offender and has made a small fortune bringing Chinese laborers into the country contrary to law.

JUDGES ARE REVERSED.

Appellate Court Grants New Trials to Two Men Charged With Manslaughter and Murder, Respectively.

The District Court of Appeal has reversed the order of Superior Judge Crow, of Santa Barbara county, denying the motion for a new trial in the complaint of the people against William Wilson, convicted of manslaughter in the killing of his brother, Thomas Wilson, on the Hopkins place, near Orcutt.

Wilson was convicted on circumstantial evidence and it appeared from the testimony that the brothers had quarreled considerably. The District Court holds that the lower court erred in refusing to admit evidence showing the good character and reputation of the defendant.

The District Court also reversed the refusal of Superior Judge McCormick, to order a new trial of Quan Gin Gow, convicted of murder in the second degree in the killing of Chin Hoy Hing, who was shot to death at the latter's place in Chinatown, this city, May 25, 1912. Hing conducted a store and gambling place there. The record shows that Quan Gin Gow made an alleged confession to the local police, but the court held that it was not voluntary.

SUES INDICTED SEA ENGINEER.

GIRL SEEKS TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS DAMAGES.

Three-Days' Experience on Deep Among Rough Men, Rough Weather and Whales Followed by Heavy Civil Action Against Owners and Officer of Fishing Sloop.

Suit for $10,000 damages was filed yesterday by Miss Myrtle Mordaunt, an actress, against the International Fisheries Company and J. H. Orosco, engineer of the company's sloop, Bolinas.

Sensational allegations are made by the young woman, who alleges that she and three other girls were held at sea for three days and subjected to indignities by an intoxicated crew.

The suit is the first to be instituted since the arrest of officers and crew, although three other girls have declared their intention of filing actions.

The girls were going to Ensenada as guests of Gov. Gomez of Lower California, and chartered the boat to make the trip.

Rough men, rough weather and a school of whales they experienced while government revenue cutters, a fleet of private searching boats and a craft sent out by the American Consul and the Mexican Governor at Ensenada were looking for them.

The girls say the Mexican crew extinguished the masthead and all other lights aboard, refused to use the fog signal and mistreated them while they could see the circle of lights on the searching boats about them.

ARRAIGNS OUR SCHOOL SYSTEM.

Masses Find Nothing in It, Declares Notable.

Prepare for Professions on Theory of Greeks.

Business, Education and Art at Teachers' Meeting.

Business, learning and one, at least, of the arts were happily joined in the first session of the twenty-first annual gathering of the California Teachers' Association, southern section, which opened a three days' meeting at the Auditorium last night. About 3500 teachers from the southern counties of the State were in attendance.

For business, a proposed constitutional amendment was introduced providing for an official organ for the southern section, without any appropriation by the association for its maintenance. This is considered a direct slap at the Sierra Educational News of San Francisco, the present official organ of the State Association. A fight is expected on the floor Friday, when the matter comes to a vote.

For learning, Dr. John Henry Gray, head of the department of economics and political science at the University of Minnesota, gave an address on the subject, "Past and Future." He presented a stinging arraignment of the present school system in the United States, and said:

"The schools to this day remain a class institution; they are administered on the theory of the Greeks. They are preparatory schools for the professions and the masses find nothing in them that bear on their future careers."

ENTHRALLING.

And in art, there was the wonderful playing of Mrs. Fannie Bloomfield-Zeisler, the eminent pianiste, who enthralled her audience with one of the finest programmes of her Los Angeles season, to date. Sympathetic attention was hers; a deep understanding of her art was manifested in the quiet during her portion of the evening's session, while the deafening applause which greeted her every number belied the tradition that school teachers, and others who place mind above all else, are over-reserved.

The profound address of Dr. Gray was enough to stamp the present gathering of the Southern Association as a radical one. From a man whose position in the educational world is as assured as that of the Minnesota man, his words will have a deep influence upon educational circles.

Dr. Gray is a political economist of note, has served on many Federal commissions and was the direct representative of former President Theodore Roosevelt in an investiga-

BRING TO LIFE HISTORIC PAGE.

Great Open-Air Spectacle by the City's Children.

Nearly Every Institution in Los Angeles Represented.

The great co-operative high school pageant, news of which was published exclusively in Monday's Times, is to take the form of an enormous, graphic, open-air history lesson, to be given to Los Angeles by its younger generation, according to plans now being perfected by the high school teachers in charge.

The lesson will be in either the history of California alone or of the entire Pacific Coast, since the coming of Balboa. The participants will be students in the high and intermediate schools of the city. Details of the plan were taken up following yesterday's meeting of the high and intermediate school principals at Polytechnic High School in connection with the close of the City Teachers' Institute.

Miss Kate Smith of the Polytechnic faculty, outlined the general plan under consideration by the committee, of which she is a member. The pageant is to be given sometime in the spring, preferably on May Day. The place will be Exposition Park.

The work of preparing the pageant, episodes, costuming and processions will be placed in the hands of high school teachers particularly fitted for those labors. The general effort will be to have each episode handled by a single school under the direction of one member of that school's faculty.

The expenses incurred in the preparation of the spectacle and the conduct of the big park on the day of its presentation are to be left to a joint board of control comprising one faculty member and one student in every school which will participate. This will include every high school and a large number of the intermediate schools of the city.

"We must, of course, make the price of admission as low as possible," said Miss Smith yesterday, "and to that end we must have the co-operation of all the newspapers and organizations of the city so that as large an attendance may be reached as possible. The whole purpose of it, of course, is to present the history lesson in as striking a manner as possible. Artistically, our purpose is to have it absolutely first-class, and that will mean a fairly large outlay in advance of the performance. Those details will be handled by the joint board of control."

The general plan will be laid by the committee before the principals of all the high and intermediate schools of the city. These in turn will present the matter to their faculties and a general report on the enterprise will be prepared for the next meeting of the principal's club, which takes place January 9.

The committee includes Miss Ethel P. Andrus, Manual Arts High School, chairman; Miss Helen Watson, Hollywood High; J. B. Millard, Virgil-avenue intermediate; Miss Kate Smith, Polytechnic High; and Miss Elizabeth Sullivan, Los Angeles High.

PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION.

Realty Broker, Declared to Have Embezzled and Defaulted Fortune, Held for Court.

M. M. Davison, real estate broker, with offices in the Los Angeles Investment building, whose defalcations and embezzlements have totaled nearly $100,000, according to the District Attorney and detectives, was given a preliminary examination in Justice Young's court yesterday.

Davison is specifically charged with the embezzlement of $500 from Mrs. Isabelle Cross, No. 1321 Fleming street. Deputy District Attorney Hogan attempted to show that the defendant loaned the money to Margaret Henderson on a mortgage; that when the latter paid up the loan he procured the $500, which was in escrow, and never turned it over to his client.

Justice Young held Davison to answer to the Superior Court in $5000 bonds. In default of this, the defendant was remanded to the County Jail. It is stated by Deputy District Attorney Hogan that several other cases will be brought against Davison on complaint of other clients.

AWAITING BURIAL.

Suicide Victim's Body Will Be Laid in Potter's Field Unless Some One Comes to Claim It.

Since the 6th inst., when he committed suicide near the Hollywood reservoir, the body of C. C. Aben has lain in the undertaking parlors of Strother's at Hollywood, awaiting some one to claim it.

According to the Coroner, if some one does not come forward within five days, the body will be buried in the Potter's Field. Up to a short time before his death Aben lived at No. 134 West Twelfth street.

According to officers who have investigated the case, it was found that he had considerable money in bank and they have been unable to locate his trunks. He is supposed to have been a retired farmer, having a short time ago sold a ranch in the suburbs at a considerable profit.

NORTON TRIAL.

The case of James Norton, accused of the murder of his step-father, Henry Wheatley, was resumed in Judge Craig's court yesterday. Deputy District-Attorney Blair has almost finished his testimony.

A so-called confession of Norton's was introduced in evidence. In it Norton, it reads, says he was called to the Wheatley home by his sister and that when he got there—his step-father was in a quarrelsome mood. He stated in the statement to the police that Wheatley drew a razor and that to protect himself he fired twice, killing the other.

The testimony of neighbors who heard the shooting was introduced by the State, as was a 45-caliber pistol, with which Norton did the shooting.

According to the police, Norton was a city fireman in 1910, under the name of James Metcalf and later worked on the aqueduct. At the time of the shooting he was employed by a wholesale hardware firm.

FOR A SAFE FLIGHT.

New Machinery to Be Installed on the Angels' Incline in a Few Weeks.

Service on the Angels' Flight incline railway will be discontinued for five days, beginning about January 10, while new hoisting machinery is installed, according to the announcement yesterday of R. M. Moore, general manager of the Funding Company of California, which owns the lift.

Immediately after an accident on the incline, September 2, in which twenty-seven persons were injured, new hoisting machinery, including safety devices, was ordered.

"The hoisting machinery is being built especially for us and that is why there has been a delay in obtaining it," Moore explained yesterday. "The two cars will be operated with a continuous cable, with a brake attachment. A safety device will be operated with a separate cable, separate machinery and separate anchorage. The track will be rebuilt and supported on concrete piers. We are taking every precaution to make the incline safe for travel."

Good Fellows who will play the Santa Claus to the poor are rapidly increasing in number. Offers of assistance were received from all classes of persons yesterday at the headquarters of the Good Fellows' Committee, 506 Delta building.

An encouraging feature of the work yesterday was the fact that the calls for assistance were outnumbered by the offers of aid.

A child of 4 years sent in $1; a mine operator who was passing through the city called at the headquarters and left a contribution of $5. An hour later he returned.

"I have talked this thing over with my wife and the work appeals to us; we have decided to give $25 more," he said.

A woman sent a box of pennies and several toys which, she said, had been the property of her young son, now dead. A trained nurse, who said she had no spare cash, offered to give her services free for two days. The members of a fire company offered to assist in the work.

Some of the more urgent cases brought to the notice of the Good Fellows are given immediate attention. In one hour after the committee had been notified of the needs of a destitute family yesterday afternoon, a Good Fellow, in the person of a woman, immediately sent groceries and clothing.

Assistance was also given to two women yesterday, one 75 and the other 50 years old. They were discovered in poverty in a tenement-house.

Roger M. Andrews, chairman of the Good Fellows' Committee, delivered an address on the charity work yesterday at a noon meeting of the Los Angeles Credit Men's Association, and received a hearty response from the members.

The committee has sent an appeal for help to the members of these organizations:

Ad Club, Athletic Club, Bankers' Club, California Club, Credit Men's Association, German-American Alliance, Jonathan Club, Realty Board, Rotary Club, Sierra Madre Club, Traffic Club, Union League Club and University Club.

The announcements give this information:

"Their names don't matter.

"They need your help and you need this opportunity.

"Old or new shoes, underwear, clothing, bedding, toys, canned goods, flour, grocery staples and money are sorely needed.

"Play Santa Claus yourself if you want the best returns.

"Or, if that is not convenient, 'phone Main 7343 or F7343 and we will call for and deliver your package."

YIELDS TO PRESSURE.

PORTERVILLE, Dec. 17.—After steadfastly refusing to again be a candidate for the office of Horticultural Commissioner of Tulare county, A. G. Schulz today announced that he had yielded to insistent pressure from Dr. A. J. Cook, State Horticultural Commissioner, and to leading fruit growers of Tulare county and that he will be an applicant for the position when the vacancy occurs, December 24. This practically amounts to the assurance that Schulz will again be the appointee. Schulz's decision not to serve was due, it is stated here, to friction with two members of the Board of Supervisors. These members are said, however, to have lately admitted the value of Schulz's work in this county and have practically agreed that next year he will have their support.

START WATERS CONSERVATION.

CAMPAIGN TO RAISE FUNDS TO PROMOTE PROJECT.

San Gabriel Valley Commission Places Committee in Field to Get Action on Plan to Save Floods' Overflow — County Hydrographic Engineer Outlines Ideas.

Preliminary work for the conservation of San Gabriel Valley flood waters is to be begun at once by a campaign to raise $2600.

Indorsement by resolution of a plan for the conservation of the waters was enthusiastically given County Hydrographic Engineer Olmsted yesterday by the Executive Committee of the San Gabriel Valley Intercity Commission.

Engineer Olmsted, who brought the subject to the attention of the commission at the suggestion of the Board of Supervisors, explained that the annual waste from floods in the United States is in excess of $300,000,000.

"If a succession of three dry years should occur," he explained, "as was the case in '97, '98 and '99, many parts of the San Gabriel Valley would become arid without conservation of the flood water."

Olmsted advocates a plan to spread the water over the gravel lands, through which they would percolate and thus fill the underground reservoir. This has been tried at Pomona, Santa Ana, Rubio Canyon and Pasadena, in the Arroyo, and is a proved success.

Private companies, it is believed, will be interested in the plan, and, experts say, work can be started for $3000. President Jordon is to name a committee to take up the matter.

CHARGED WITH THEFT.

Man Who Posed as Heir to Great Fortune, Lands in Cell from Woman's Complaint.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FRESNO, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] For the alleged theft of a $450 diamond ring from Miss Philathea Michelsen, who practices law in San Francisco, Charles T. Battelle, scion of a wealthy family in the East and who posed here two years ago as the sole heir to a fortune of $500,000 and thereby won the hand of Miss Michelsen's younger sister, was given a preliminary hearing today in Justice Graham's court and the case was taken under advisement until Saturday.

Miss Michelsen testified that the ring disappeared while she was residing in Fresno and Battelle was the only one in the room. Months later she met him in San Francisco and he was wearing the ring in his tie. Battelle on the stand denied the theft. Battelle is reported to have married the younger sister after courting the woman attorney. Battelle served a sentence in the Oakland County Jail for not supporting his wife. She has sued for divorce. Battelle was arrested Saturday in San Francisco when he stepped from the transport John A. Logan from Manila.

This is the first time in the history of the Fresno postoffice and the parcel post service that a tree has been sent by mail.

FRESNO, Dec. 17.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Shortly after 9 o'clock this evening a highwayman called to the conductor of a suburban car to hold up his hands. The conductor grasped for the man's pistol, and in the scuffle the weapon exploded, cut ting off the end of the conductor's right little finger. The highwayman then escaped in the darkness.

RIVERSIDE COUNTY VOTES FOR GOOD ROADS BONDS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] By an overwhelming vote in favor of the issuance of highway bonds in the amount of $1,125,000, Riverside county today took its place in line with the other progressive counties of Southern California that have voted large sums for good roads. The city of Riverside rolled up a majority of more than 3 to 1 for the issue, with a vote of 2168 for to 667 against.

Following the recent flotation by the city of $1,160,000 water works bonds, today's showing is regarded as a most gratifying evidence of the community's vitality.

Corona puts the county seat to shame, however, with the magnificent total of 735 for to only 44 against, and Coachella is the prize winner, with 146 for and none against. Hemet and San Jacinto also rolled up good majorities. At 9 o'clock tonight forty-seven out of seventy precincts had returned a vote of 4903 for the bonds to 1162 against. As the remote precincts yet to report are likely to give even larger majorities for the issue, it is believed a net result of five to one may be expected.

The proposed highway system links all the important towns of the county, the chain of 272 miles reaching easterly as far as Blythe, in the Palo Verde Valley, and will connect up with the systems of San Bernardino, Orange and San Diego counties. The Automobile Club of Southern California took a leading part in the campaign. The organization has started work in San Bernardino county, where a similar issue is up for settlement.

YOUTH WAS LOVE SICK.

Youngster Hears That His Chicago Sweetheart Is to Wed and Drinks Carbolic Acid.

John Morrissey, 27 years of age, a clerk in a local department store, swallowed three ounces of carbolic acid last night a few hours after he had received an invitation to attend the wedding of his sweetheart in Chicago. He was rushed to the Receiving Hospital for treatment. His condition was serious at an early hour this morning. He is a brother of Henry Morrissey, a well-known politician, and former Assistant city Treasurer of Los Angeles in 1898. The brothers had been estranged since a bitter quarrel which took place a year ago.

Morrissey was found unconscious in a dark corner of the third floor of the Roxborough apartments about 11 o'clock last night by Mrs. W. E. Staley. She notified the police.

The following note was found in Morrissey's vest pocket: "Rose, dear: What in the world is the matter with you? Won't you tell me? All last night and all day I am about worried sick about you. Why aren't you honest with me, dear girl?" It was not signed. Ad Hoban of the Hotel Oviatt, a friend of the heartsick youth, called at the Receiving Hospital. He told the officers that while dining with Morrissey Tuesday night Morrissey showed him the wedding invitation. Hoban says he appeared more depressed about the serious illness of his mother in Ireland than the loss of his sweetheart. Henry Morrissey was notified and said he would call at the hospital.

WILD GET CHEAPER GAS.

Santa Ana, Orange, Fullerton and Anaheim Are Promised Low Rate for Natural Product.

SANTA ANA, Dec. 17.—Santa Ana, Orange, Fullerton and Anaheim are all going to get 75-cent gas. That is the situation brought about by reason of the move made by Fullerton and Santa Ana toward getting a supply of natural gas from the oil fields at Olinda and Brea. While Orange has not been promised the 75-cent rate, the other three towns have been given the assurance. At present the four places are supplied with the manufactured product from the Southern Counties Gas Company plant at Santa Ana.

Today City Attorney Heathman is preparing an ordinance fixing the gas rate in Santa Ana at 75 cents per 1000 feet instead of $1. About six weeks ago the City Trustees decided to see what could be done about getting natural gas. An offer was received from the Birch Oil Company to supply the city with all the natural gas it could use, to be delivered at Santa Ana city limits for 30 cents per 1000 cubic feet. Santa Ana would have to vote bonds and put in a municipal distributing system. The Southern Counties Gas Company offered to supply natural gas for 75 cents, delivered through the mains now used by the manufactured stuff.

The two proposals were put up to two gas experts in Los Angeles by Trustees Grubb and Alderman, and the experts advised the Councilmen that the gas company's offer was the best of the two. That offer has been accepted, and the new rate is to be fixed by ordinance. The gas company promises to have natural gas connected up with Santa Ana within ninety days. The gas company is reported to have a supply of natural gas independent of the Birch Oil Company.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Santa Ana's Trustees last night concluded that they had done a lot of indorsing and passing of resolutions for nothing. Some months ago the word reached them that the State Highway Commission insisted on having city streets paved to the city limits to meet the proposed State road. The Trustees laid the matter before the property owners of three streets leading to the east. East First and East Chestnut streets declined to pave and pay for it. East Fourth agreed to pave and pay, and the Trustees indorsed that street as the highway route. Then First street got anxious, and began to make a fight for the city's indorsement as the State route, and the fight had reached a crucial stage when M. M. Crookshank, president of the County Highway Commission, informed the board that he had it straight from the State commission that East First street had already been selected for the State road, even if the city does not pave to meet it, and indorsements and resolutions piled high would make no change in the State commission's intentions. The City Trustees then passed one more resolution. It was a resolution withdrawing its indorsements.

Today the Board of Supervisors reappointed Roy K. Bishop County Horticultural Commissioner for a four-year term. This morning H. S. Smith, secretary of the State Board of Horticultural Examiners, reported to the Supervisors that Richard Baird, Roger Palmer, M. J. Black, R. E. Campbell, J. H. Morton and Bishop had passed the examinations given recently, and were eligible to appointment. The Supervisors gave Bishop an unanimous vote.

Last night a farewell reception was given Rev. W. L. C. Samson and his wife by the Sunday-school of the United Presbyterian Church, of which Rev. Samson has been pastor for seven years. Today the Samson family started for Pittsburgh, Pa.

Santa Monica Women Will Consider Topic at South Pasadena Meeting Wednesday Afternoon.

SOUTH PASADENA, Dec. 16.—Mrs. D. G. Stevens of Santa Monica will be the speaker Wednesday afternoon, December 17, at the meeting of the Woman's Improvement Association, and her topic will be "The Delinquent Girl." Mrs. Stevens has a Statewide reputation as an authority on this subject, and her study along this line was officially recognized when she was recently appointed on a committee to select a site for the State Training School for Girls.

Dr. Lottie Park of the Resthaven Home in Los Angeles will be another speaker at the meeting, and she will tell of the work accomplished at the home. Resthaven was established and is being supported by the Psychopathic Parole Society of Los Angeles, and it has among its indorsers prominent members of the Friday Morning Club and Judge Hutton, who in his official capacity did much to help the home.

The object of the home is to provide a place for those who are mentally incapable temporarily, and who would, if not cared for at the home, be taken to an insane asylum, where they would not receive the proper treatment. The work of the society and the home is intensely interesting, and it is almost unknown to the community. Mrs. Arthur Walker, chairman of the Philanthropy Committee of the association, and Mrs. A. H. Gates will be in charge of the programme, and Mrs. John Shenk will provide the music.

Expectations are that the California petroleum will show net earnings for this year of $2,100,000, and that the surplus after dividends and depreciation charges will be about $175,-000.

It is probable that about $750,000 will be charged off to depreciation. Preferred dividend requirements are $140,000 for the year, while $238,000 has been disbursed in the two common dividends.

The net earnings this year will compare with net earnings of the subsidiary companies for 1912, before crediting for depreciation, amounting to $1,876,867.65.

It is stated that the American Oil-fields topping plant in Midway is now netting in net returns of about $30,-000 a month.

November Exports Short of October's.

Two oil strikes of importance have just been made in the Ventura district, one on the property of the Montebello Oil Company and the other on that of the Santa Susana Syndicate in Simi Valley.

The Montebello Oil Company, the chief producer of the county, has been drilling a deep test well on its property near Santa Paula and at 1700 feet encountered a prolific oil sand. The well is now pumping and flowing, and is reported to be producing over 200 barrels per day. This is the first deep test well on the Montebello's property, and will probably mean quite an extension of the life of that oil field.

The Santa Susana Syndicate has brought in its No. 2 well at a depth of 2150 feet, with a production of 150 barrels. The well broke loose Tuesday and flowed rather vigorously for a time.

The new syndicate well is over 400 feet deeper than No. 1, which when it came in a few weeks ago, attracted considerable attention, on account of the strong flow of high-gravity oil.

No. 1 well, which is about a mile south of No. 1, passed through the same sand from which the latter is producing at about 700 feet, but as the formation did not appear especially gushy, was drilled deeper. The oil in the new sand seems to be somewhat heavier than that produced by No. 1, although it has not yet been tested.

No. 1 has been producing about 150 to 200 barrels of 38 gravity oil, which sells for close to $1.50 a barrel. The syndicate is building two rigs and will start two more on the property.

Oil Exports.

Exports of crude and refined oil from San Francisco customs district during the month of November showed a falling off from October. Crude shipments were the largest in the history of the State, however, and amounted to 47,157,942 gallons, valued at $1,351,592. Exports during November aggregated 21,255,203 gallons, valued at $724,954, an increase of 4,570,681 gallons, and $50,949 over November, 1912.

The shipments were divided as follows:

Crude—
Asphaltum	5,620,600	$254,250
Fuel	862,783	28,780
Total crude	6,511,783	$283,030
Refined—
Benzine	10,483,704	295,509
Gasoline	5,624,846	90,843
Kerosene	2,906,042	68,502
Distillate	2,150,829	22,850
Lubricating	1,680,000	30,000
Paraffine	882,000	27 250
Total refined	24,748,420	$431,924
Total crude	6,511,783	283,030
Total exports	31,255,203	$724,954
Value, 1912	24,340,800	674,005
Increase	6,906,403	$ 50,949

Besides 24,220,000 gallons refined and 14,-000,000 gallons crude, the total shipments were 47,157,942 gallons, against 30,540,800 gallons in the same month of 1912.

Exports for the first two weeks of December from the San Francisco customs district aggregated 16,935,-000 gallons, valued at $428,413. Twelve cargoes or part cargoes were sent during the period as follows: One to Honolulu, two to Honolulu, four to Chile and two to British Columbia.

Our Two Million.

Predictions are that the California companies will show net earnings for the year of $2,100,000, and that after dividends and depreciation charges will be about $175,-000.

It is probable that about $750,000 will be charged off to depreciation. Estimated dividend requirements are $1,000,000 for the year, while $238,000 will be conserved in the two companies' dividends.

The net earnings this year will compare with net earnings of the subsidiary companies for 1912, before making allowance for depreciation, amounting to $1,917,657.65.

It is stated that the American Oil-Fuel Company plant in Midway is now showing in net returns of about $30,-000 a month.

Development Notes.

Shipments of oil from Mexico to the United States will this year total about 18,000,000 barrels, according to present estimates. The movement to this country will be the greatest ever recorded. The total is swelled by the importation of stored oil, producers being anxious to ship out as much as possible from Mexico, it is believed, on account of unsettled conditions there.

Of new stock to be issued by the Royal Dutch Petroleum Company, 4,046,000 florins (about $1,626,492) will be offered at 620 per cent. to Royal Dutch shareholders, according to the Wall Street Journal.

In Missouri they are getting on an equal footing with Los Angeles in the gasoline trade. Owing to a price war between the Pierce oil interests and the Standard of Indiana, the market has dropped to 14 cents a gallon. The product in the local market is quoted around 13½ to 14½, wholesale.

Dangers in Night Frolics—Girls Should Not Notice Strangers.

"Ah! for the sweep and shiver
Of the mad music's strain!
Ah, for the pulse's quiver
Once again."

Who can blame young girls who toil from daylight to darkness in the workshops of the great city for longing to see a little brightness when the day's duties are over? The more youthful the girl the more ardent is her desire to see something of the gay world. The bright lights lure her out upon the streets, and the merry dance music that greets her ears wherever she turns sets her nimble feet a-tripping. Girls seldom go out for a stroll alone. Each one has her chum, who has like inclinations. All would be well with them were it not for the human sharks who infest the city, looking out for just such merry-hearted maidens who happen to be on the streets without male attendants. The girls have light hearts and the exuberance of youth. It is the girl nature cropping out to laugh at everything in the shop windows around and about them. The masher attracts their attention by ingenious ways. In the innocence of their hearts the girls never once dream that the schemer has planned to scrape an acquaintance with them.

So adriot is his method that if the girls will listen to some casual question which he asks—probably posing as a stranger in the city—their response to his query is the first step they take in the wrong direction. These male hyenas of the street do not bag their game at first sight. If the girls step into a performance by themselves, this is his opportunity. The foolish maidens who have given free rein to their ideas of men falling in love with girls at first sight believe that one of them has attracted a heart mate. Or, if he has a friend with him, they see in a rosy vision a double wedding 'ere long. If the girls are working girls and have no homes of their own and either have their little hall bedroom, where they get their frugal meals or board, with no one to take a motherly interest in them, the street vampires draw them into their net. Every city should have not only lamp posts, but sings, reading in glaring letters:

"Young girls should beware of noticing strangers." The nice young man who is really attracted to a girl never for a moment imagines that he could know her save through being properly presented to her. This would give him an opportunity to call upon her. The street vampire would not dare show his face there but depends upon luring his victim to meeting him clandestinely outside. If she consents to make an appointment and gradually is drawn into attending revels where innocent young girls should not be seen, in time her name is listed with the unfortunate outcasts who have gone like innocent lambs to the slaughter. It is well for girls to be light-hearted and gay, for there is but one bright youth time. Who would shut out from her reverles those sweet romantic fancies and hopes which belong to youth? Could they but confide in an older, experienced woman, she would take their hands lovingly in hers and tell them that these men who watch for innocent girls on the street, to make victims of them, are not marrying men.

A girl's future would be most unhappy if she should wed a man without knowing his true character. Be a man ever so poor, if he has a good reputation and works honestly for his living, no matter how quiet and prosy he may seem to the lively maiden, he is worth 10,000 of the men who find their only pleasure in night frolics.

It is the kind of young men girls meet who make or mar their futures. When girls who are out for a stroll find that they have been singled out by an impertinent stranger, who insists upon paying them attention, they should appeal at once to the nearest guardian of the law for protection. There are many delightful means of diversion for nice young girls. They need not think that mixing and mingling with the crowds on the streets at night is the only pleasure which is theirs in their dull lives. Some night frolics should not be indulged in.

FOR WOMEN AND MEN.

Facts, Features and Fancies.

BY OLIVE GRAY.

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: Acquire the habit of good health. It will take more for beauty than all the medicines and all the cosmetics available. While this habit may be difficult to achieve, if you have any years at hypochondria, ever on the alert for the possible ills of the later, will it is here as elsewhere, "never too late to mend," and it will go hand in hand in this particular. It will pay in rosy cheeks, bright eyes, ruby lips and the infectious sparkle which will make you beloved and admired by all with whom you come in contact.

In the middle of girls where a name is always a challenge they discuss names and the fact that not one present was satisfied with her name.

"Without the fact," said the Aggressive, "that someone else should have fastened upon me so intimate and such a thing as my name. I think I should be allowed to go unchristened. We are old enough to select one for ourselves."

"Yes," said the Dissenter, "if there could be any more satisfactory. I remember the time when, if allowed to name myself, I would have chosen 'Evangeline;' but after the Thaw case I certainly have gone into hiding to have had the name 'Evangeline.' There was another time when 'Ideal' was my ideal, but it is hard to say I would not care now to be called 'Ideal,' and I suspect that if I were known enough that would be the name of every known woman."

"What would you do?" asked the Humorist, "go without any definite name until very late in life, when we might become independent of all influences and could select with wisdom?"

"Yes, or until some such thing as marriage, or death, or the possession and transfer of property made a name really and legally necessary."

"We might use numbers or combinations of letters to designate ourselves until a name matured for us."

"Too much like prison."

"I don't think there is anything in a name, anyhow," concluded the Pessimist," which remark was greeted with a chorus of protest.

All Named.

In a suburban place where I often spend the week end the various stoves which make comfortable the rambling house each bears a name. I have never before heard of naming stoves, but after all they are so comforting and lifelike a part of the household that I rather like the idea.

A cheerful grate with corrugated copper front is called "The Copper Queen," and I have thought as I basked before its luxuriant warmth that its title was well deserved.

A homely little air-tight heater which hastens to puff and blow and seems to fairly rub its hands in its eagerness to serve those who gather around its shining black cylinder, is dubbed "Blacksmith."

The dignified, competent kitchen range, equipped with every modern device—glass doors, the very latest broiler, a hooded top, burners for both artificial and natural gas—bears the name "Clever Betsy." All who have read the book and who have tasted the products of this thoroughly efficient and versatile cook stove, appreciate the appropriateness of the title.

First glimpse this fad for naming stoves may seem a mere bit of fun; but, after all, if the cat, the dog and the canary are named, why should not these so lifelike members of the household bear names as well?

• • •

For the Kitchen.

I know of a Christmas gift which is going to one good housekeeper and I hope similar ones may go to others.

It is a complete set of recipe books which are encased for hanging upon the wall and which cover the entire range of cookery, from soups to deserts and sweets. The recipes are by the famous chefs of the world. There are among these many novel concoctions and many old favorites put together in new and different ways.

• • •

Preserved Violets.

From the "Books of the Chefs" is taken the following recipe for preserving violets:

Cut off the stems from one pound of full bloom violets. Boil one pound and a half granulated sugar to the soft ball stage. Throw in the violets, remove the pan from the fire for a moment, stir gently, return to the fire and boil up once. Change immediately to another vessel. Let stand over night. Next day drain by using a sieve, pour syrup back into a vessel, add a cupful of sugar and cook again until it hardens in water. Put in the violets and repeat the process of the previous day, and again allow the flowers to remain over night. Drain again, pour this syrup again into a vessel, boil it for a few moments and add the violets for the third time, removing the pan at once from the fire. Stir lightly until it begins to crystalize, then pour the whole on sheets of paper, shake and separate the flowers carefully with the hands and when dry, pick them from the sugar and arrange on a grating to dry.

Nothing adds a more luxurious and artistic touch to your box or basket of home-made holiday confections than do these violets.

"What Is Your Order?"

When some one asks you as to what is your "order," it may refer, just now, to the Christmas order and may be one for gloves, shoes or merchandise rather than a Masonic order, or the Order of the Garter.

Very sensible gifts are these Christmas orders, too.

Gift Secrets.

One of the joys of holiday time is that of being in the secrets of others. It so happens that many ask me as to where to buy this or that, and naturally I am the receptacle of many holiday confidences. I know a girl who is to have one of the most charming of gifts consisting of a suite of boudoir furniture made reed-craftie and having glass tops upon dressing-tables, writing desk, and upon all the odd little tables which go to make up the delightful ensemble. The glass is underset with French cretonne in the design of great blurry, rosy roses, which design will be repeated in the hangings at doors and windows of her room. Could a better gift be devised?

• • •

Between Your Fine Plates.

Useful and pretty, too, are the plate slips of heavy flannel to be placed between the hand-painted plates when they are put away.

The edges of these slips may be either buttonholed in a dainty color to correspond with the general tone of the plates, or they may be edged with a narrow lace.

• • •

In Fashion's Domain.

A society leader in an eastern city has created a furore by wearing at the opera a gown of white cut velvet. It is believed that the fad for white velvet, which is a stately and a most becoming fabric, will become extremely popular.

Black and taupe-colored Shetland veils remain in decided favor, but the great fad at present is the hexagon mesh with a big black velvet beauty spot.

Never were blouses prettier than this season; they do not require much material, but what there is, is rich and supple, and there is apt to be a touch of fur.

The new English walking and shooting suits have skirts which are generously cut to start with, and which may be unbuttoned to give still further freedom. Frequently these suits have knickerbockers with them.

MAKING AMENDS.

The wicked members of the order of the Carabao have apologized to the President for saying that he was funny, but not for thinking that he was. Go on, brethren, and think what you must about this administration, but never take chances again with a schoolmaster by saying what you think.

NOTHING STIRRING.

Over in France they are talking about a law making it a crime for a newspaper to create war between two nations. It seems that some Frenchmen and Germans had dinner together and made bitter remarks about the chauvinistic and venal press. This listens alarming, but we think it must be a purely European institution. There is nothing like that in our family.

NOT BOSTONESE.

The Gas House Gang and the Hasty Pudding Club have broken into print on account of the election of the late J. P. Morgan's grandson as president of the former and member of the latter. They sound like something in the Bowery, but in reality are exclusive clubs at Harvard. That university is so near Boston that it suffers from a paucity of appropriate nomenclature.

A LOVE THAT LIVES.

A noted scientist died in a Southern California city this week and a few hours later his closest woman friend passed away from the shock. Every person settles for himself the manner in which a great loss shall be met. A successful philosophy is one that sustains. It is doubtful if one may truly love and not find a presence in the heart sweet enough in its realization to bridge the absence of distance or death. This assurance may not come with the first blast of grief, but, sooner or later, it steals through the storm with hands of healing for our bereavement. One of the blessings of mortality lies in the fact that men may love in the eternal way.

A FAITHFUL FRIEND.

Miss Natalie Curtis spent a day or two in Los Angeles this week on her way to her home in New York City, after a fall and winter among the Indians of California and Arizona. Miss Curtis has done a peculiar service for the Indians in the Southwest through a faithful study for ten years of Indian music. She prepared for this work by fifteen years of study abroad. No other person has attempted to compile the best folk songs of a number of tribes and her book and magazine article on the subject have done much to preserve to America such merit and interest as the music of the natives contains. Her exquisite personality and genuine sympathy have opened pueblo and tepee to her all over the American continent.

A GREAT REVIVAL.

It is admitted that Shakespeare was born, although the date is in doubt. It is conceded that the plays of Shakespeare were written by himself or somebody else, but enough sincere persons are puzzled on this point to sustain a debate of proportions. Nobody can deny, however, that Shakespeare died, and the world thought well enough of him at the time to preserve the date of his passing. He quit the billboards of earth for the drama of eternity in the year 1716. In consequence England has decided to celebrate the three hundredth anniversary of his death with an entire year of Shakespearean revival. Those who are more interested in the plays than in who wrote them will welcome the opportunity of seeing a number of these masterpieces presented by the best actors of the age.

THE IMMENSE FRIENDSHIP.

That is what Mr. Wells would call it; but a man in Los Angeles who went before the divorce court designated it as jealousy and the threat to kill. It is in protest of these excessive love affairs that Mr. Wells has written his new book called "The Passionate Friends" which has been generally protested by critics everywhere. The author has tried to demonstrate that a great friendship between a man and woman who work together is the best foundation for home building. In our opinion he defeats his own purpose since his heroine refuses to marry for love and then lives with the man she did not marry after she weds another and after he has done so. In the end she kills herself. This is not a good argument for friendship, but a strong indorsement of the old sweet plan of choosing the one whose dream is in your heart, regardless of the seeming logic of the step.

FULFILLING THE LAW.

Sometimes the law is what the Legislatures make it; now and then it is what life wills it. There is an eternal right, and the amount men know of this lasting justice is the mark of their growth. The Legislature of California at its last session forgot God and man as far as possible in order to remember Holy Hiram. Among the fool measures they passed was one robbing orphans of State aid unless their parents had resided in California for three years. The idea was to discourage other States from sending their paupers here. On the other hand, an orphan is a fact not to be set aside by any theory. When an orphan has happened there is nothing to do but take him and so nourish him in body and mind that he will make a fit citizen of this republic. Los Angeles county has decided to take care of its own orphans until the State shall correct the mistake.

UNSELFISH CHRISTMAS.

There are no poor in Los Angeles beyond the ban of Santa Claus's generosity. The Good Fellows' Committee, with headquarters at No. 506 Delta building, has graciously established itself as a clearinghouse for receiving and disbursing Christmas presents.

No gift is too insignificant to be received because there will be found some recipient to whom it will be welcome. All applications addressed to the Good Fellows' Committee are investigated to make sure that persons not needy do not deprive the more worthy.

The heart of Los Angeles is big. Though there is less destitution here than in other cities so large, the more fortunate citizens, as a class, have responded heartily to the Good Fellows' proposition (the happy thought of Mr. Roger M. Andrews) and this will be made a Christmas without a taint of selfishness. It is eminently fitting that in a land where even the sun is generous during the winter months, where flowers bloom and fruits grow the year round, where prosperity and happiness are broadcast, that as few as possible should not share in the happiness of the Christmas season with its outpourings of generosity.

From all parts of the city and from widely different sources offers of assistance are being made. One has asked to be allowed to furnish the Christmas dinner to the largest poor family that could be found; another has given a donation of fifty pairs of shoes for distribution; a young women's club has offered to take care of several destitute families on that day. Various sums of money have been sent to the committee for its disposal.

The Good Fellows' Committee has invited assistance in its worthy cause through an appeal that is simple, but wonderfully gripping. It asks that an application containing the following sentence be signed: "Gentlemen: In His name, and as an offering to the memory of my mother, I will see to it that Santa Claus answers one letter if you will send it to me with official investigators' report."

The appeal has been answered; from all sides requests come asking to be allowed to have a part in the distribution of Christmas cheer and in bringing joy and assistance to those persons of our fair city whom fortune has not favored kindly with material things. This Christmas in Los Angeles is to be altruistic.

FORWARD TO 1916.

If the people of the United States are wise to their own best interests the Republican party, the true party of progress and reform, will be again placed in power in 1916. Although the Democrats have been in office for less than a year the people are awakening to the fact that a great mistake was made in allowing a bunch of theorists to gain control of the central authority.

This country presents the peculiarity of being governed by a party composed of a minority of the voters. Thanks to the treachery of the Bull Moose the minority party was enabled to sneak into power. Since the election the number of the followers of the voluble Colonel and Holy Hiram has dwindled rapidly and red bandanas are a drug in the market. At the present moment most of the Bull Moose party is in South America, and North America would not be hurt if it stayed there.

From all over the country comes the welcome news that many men who were led away from the Grand Old Party are returning to the Republican fold. Hon. Frank P. Woods of Iowa, chairman of the National Republican Congressional Committee, expresses the general opinion when he says the Republican party of today is marching steadily forward along the pathway of progress, having been keen to analyze and profit by the causes of defeat. It is the purpose of the committee to enter upon a campaign for the welfare of the people as a nation, which welfare can best be established by the restoration to power of the Republican party.

Mr. Woods declares that the political history of the year has been a record of party adjustment to such an extent that the result is most encouraging and the Republicans are already reaping a harvest of new endeavors. The Republican party, he declares, will approach the next Congressional elections confident that the people of the United States have renewed faith in the truly progressive character of its fundamental principles. And so say all of us.

The watchword of the Republican party today, as in the day of Abraham Lincoln, is "Forward"—forward to 1914 and 1916. In the past the people of the United States have used the Republican party to carry out great reforms, to revive business, and to safeguard the industries of the country. Mr. Woods states that when it is returned to power and is given an opportunity to continue the work, its legislation will largely increase the sum of human happiness.

The chances of that return to power are growing brighter every day. The Bull Moose party is composed of little more than office seekers who really are Democrats in all but name. The party is already divided against itself on fundamental principles and is due to be entirely wiped out within a brief period. It will go the way of all political rubbish and the Grand Old Party will be re-established more firmly than ever in the good graces of the people for whom it has done so much.

THE DEMOCRATIC FLOP.

One of the unexpected features attendant upon the transfer of the Federal government from Republican to Democratic control is the unexpected flop of the Democrats on the relation of the Federal and State governments to each other. For more than a hundred years Democrats have turned toward the Jeffersonian resolutions of 1798

"As the sunflower turns to her god when he sets
The same look that she gave when he rose."

A protective tariff was opposed by the Democrats because it was held to be violative of State rights. After the first election of Lincoln Democrats opposed coercion of the South and war appropriations, on the ground that while a State might not have a right to secede, yet the government of the Union had no right to prevent her seceding. The issuance of greenbacks, the redemption of greenbacks, the national banking law, and the taxing of the currency of State banks were all denounced as an invasion of the sacred rights of the States to flood the country with shin-plasters. The Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments to the Federal Constitution and all the acts of Congress to enforce them, were declared by Democratic orators to be shameful invasion of State rights. Down to the adoption of the Baltimore platform, and the nomination of Woodrow Wilson thereon, the burden of the Democratic song was the redress of Republican invasion of State rights.

And now State rights have been banished utterly from the Democratic faith. For a hundred years or more the doctrine has been sustained by Congress and the Supreme Court that the ownership and control of the waters of navigable streams—except for the purposes of navigation—belong to the States. Now it is asserted that the same belong to the Federal government.

Until now it has been conceded that it is not the province of the Federal government to meddle with private business. Now it is proposed by Secretary Redfield that laws of Congress shall be enacted to regulate every branch of business, from selling apples to building steamships. Interlocking directorates, ownership of stock in competing companies, watering of stocks, dividing territory for sales, combining to fix buying prices for raw material or selling prices for manufactured products are all to be prohibited by acts of Congress.

Secretary Redfield, echoing the purposes of President Wilson, proposes a Federal bureau of corporations. Any corporation proposing to engage in any manufacturing or commercial business must submit its organization and its plans to the bureau. These will be examined. If approved a license to exist and do business will be issued. If disapproved a license will be refused. The bureau will deal with the corporations as a housewife deals with a litter of new-born kittens. This one to nourishment from the cream pig; that one to death in the wash tub.

The Times is not discussing the wisdom or the necessity per se of the anti-trust legislation proposed by Secretary Redfield. That will be a matter for consideration after President Wilson shall have formulated and ordered the secret Democratic caucus to pass the precise measure he desires to be enacted. The Times is now merely calling attention to the tremendous flop of the Democratic party on the question of State rights. It resembles that of the celebrated Arabian acrobat, Muley Al Hassan, who turned seven double somersaults in succession and ended by jumping down his own throat.

THE VALUE OF LIGHT.

At a time when London's main thoroughfares were poorly lighted with a few gas lamps set far apart—and the alleys and side streets often not lighted at all—Sir Robert Peel declared that every new street light properly placed meant one policeman less. On the score of economy he urged better street lighting in the British metropolis. No one can deny that the better lighted a city is, the better will be its position for detecting and preventing crime. Men love darkness rather than light because their deeds are evil.

Pasadena lived up to her brilliant reputation when she installed on her famous Orange Grove avenue the most beautiful lighting effect yet designed for any suburban street. She has just installed a similar lighting system on Los Robles avenue from Altadena to Colorado street, and the occasion became one for a general celebration and auto parade by her light-loving citizens.

The civic pride of our fair neighbor to the northeast has made her famous beyond the confines of the United States. She appreciates the value of spotless streets, splendid bridges, broad, handsome avenues and a wealth of electric lights. By making her city lighter she also lightens the work of her police force. A city so well known for the wealth of her citizens is bound to attract some of the wolves and parasites of society.

Sun and moon are both doing their share in cloudless California to drive away the forces of darkness. Our eternal mountains furnish water power to supplement these efforts during the hours when natural darkness prevails. Above Los Angeles every night stands the clock tower of The Times, a shining beacon, to emphasize the trend of Californian citizenship.

Let there be light; for where there is light crime and falsehood sneak away to the still darkened parts of this imperfect world. Every store window, lighted up after closing hours, is another policeman on the beat. Every illuminated building is a protection to the city. For men whose deeds are good love light rather than darkness.

FOR $2135 PLASTERERS.

Ninety-five cents an hour for laying brick. Sixty-four cents an hour for shoveling dirt. $2135 per annum for a plasterer of walls, $1372 per annum for an excavator of ditches. Such was the municipal wage scale that the Socialist Wheeler vainly attempted to force through the Council.

If he had succeeded, the burden of payment would have fallen upon the taxpayers and rested most heavily upon those who by industry and economy are striving to pay for their little homes.

The grading, and paving, and curbing and sewering of a fifty-foot lot, which might cost the owner $100, would, under the scale proposed, cost him $150. The prudent and saving worker would be simply robbed of $50, for the benefit of the imprudent and improvident ones. The landlord would add the interest on the additional $50 to his rent, and the storekeeper would add it to the cost of his goods, but the cottager who owned his home would be unable to push the load along upon anybody's shoulders. He would have to carry it all, as well as the higher cost of living that would result from the increased charges of the storekeeper.

The members of the Council who refused to vote for the exorbitant scale of wages proposed by Socialist Wheeler deserve the thanks of the people for their intelligence, integrity and manliness.

RIDER HAGGARD.

BY WALT MASON FOR THE TIMES.

Sir H. Rider Haggard is surely no laggard, he's turning out narratives six at a time; he's always so busy it makes a man dizzy, and stirs up the envy of E. Oppenheim. He's still writing stories concerning the glories of African chiefs in the dim long ago, of braves and witch finders and seers who wore blinders yet spelled out a future of bloodshed and woe. An H. Rider story is reeking and gory, an epic of carnage and battle and crime, and Rider is writing romances of fighting so often he dazes poor E. Oppenheim. E. Phillips, God bless him—it's ill to distress him!—has long held the record for turning out junk; with toes and with fingers he wrote his humdingers, and each of his efforts was surely most punk. He long wore the laurel, and no one could quarrel with him for a minute, disputing his bays; his reign now is ended, and he has descended ere reaching his dotage, on dark, evil day. For I will be jaggered if H. Rider Haggard can't beat him a block in a specified time; at drawing the boodle for hopeless flapdoodle, H. Rider outdistances E. Oppenheim.

Johnson's Personality.

[San Francisco News Letter:] About the only apparent impression made by the speech delivered by Gov. Johnson before the Progressive love feast held in this city on Tuesday of last week, judging by various editorial comments throughout the State, seems to be that the greatest single asset of the Progressive party in California is the personality of Gov. Hiram Johnson. And judging by the mixture of characteristically platitudinous declamation and egotistical bombast delivered by Hiram on that occasion, we cannot blame any one for concluding that even the Governor himself has come to the conclusion that there is nothing left to the party save the fact that he is its leader. Just how much benefit that will be to the party in its coming State campaign remains to be seen. There are those who are not sufficiently impressed with the beneficent radiance of the Johnson presence who predict that there will be a change in the political character of the next administration. And there is certainly no lack of reason for the belief.

The Perils of Wealth.

[Buffalo Express:] "Many of the men you numbered among your friends have deserted you," observed the uncle.

"Yes; I found that I could not keep their friendship without also keeping them," explained the wealthy youth.

No Wonder.

[Life:] "Well, Uncle Josh, how do you feel?"

"Rotten; that beer don't seem to help none."

"How did you take it?"

JUST ONE QUESTION, PLEASE.

And You May Answer It With a Dozen of Your Own.

Did the devil invent the art of questioning? For it certainly is one of the oldest arts in the world, an art of the highest. Usually it indicates at least a pretense of ignorance on the part of one speaker, with a complimentary assumption that intelligent information is the possession of the other. It indicates at least intellectual activity.

Being a preacher I run to the Bible for the story of first things. I admit that things are older than Bishop Usher thought they were. I know that a recent scientist has discovered that human life has existed on this planet for 150,000,000 years. He admits this, himself, in the newspapers. I don't care if it has. Rather than quarrel, I will make it 200,000,000 years. After we get beyond the first million, I am a reckless spender of years. A plunger in centuries; a high roller in ages and a squanderer of aeons.

Getting Back Into the Mists.

But this I do know, that records get very misty back of the First of Genesis. When you try to go a year beyond "The Beginning" you are liable to flounder around in a marsh-land of guesswork, theories and hypotheses in which the neophyte is as much at home as the veteran. The first question I can find on record was not prompted by desire to acquire information, but was invented and dropped into the heart of man as a trouble-breeder. The questioner did not want to know any more than he did. He knew too much already. He was out to make mischief. The devil wouldn't contradict God; he scarcely dared do that openly, but he could shake the faith of the man in the wisdom of God's government by the simplest-sounding of questions. "Yea! Hath God Said?"

With the asking of that question doubt was born into the world. Doubt with the clouded brow; with the unbelieving heart, the questioning mind. Demurring skepticism came creeping in the cold shadow at that question; gloomy suspicion lurked in its footsteps.

The innocent sounding question was a subtle poison. It began to take effect on the human system at once. It inoculated the entire family. In a little while the effects of the poison showed openly.

The second question, asked in the world, was asked by the Heavenly Father. It was direct, as all His questions are.

And the man lied. He never had lied before, but the art of prevarication seemed to have required no previous training or experience, and the first man who told the first lie in the world lied like a pirate—stupidly but flatly, and in almost every word his lie exposed and contradicted itself.

A Poser.

Then followed the third question—a direct one with many suggestive questions written between its lines. "Who told thee that thou was naked?" How did you know that? When and where did you ever see a suit of clothes on earth? Who taught you to wear clothes? How did you know clothes were going to be worn this season? How came you to be acquainted with shame? In short, why have you lied to me? Every question with its many encysted questions went into the man's heart like arrows of fire. They thundered accusations against him; they confused and bewildered him.

Two plain, simple questions. One was the devil's way of creating doubt; the other was God's way of compelling the truth.

Questions and Guesses.

And ever since the invention of questions, we have been questioning God and the devil, and each other and ourselves, nature, time, eternity and all things to find out just a little bit more about ourselves than we are sure we know. A question implies a guess. You don't have to ask questions when you know. A man who knows he is on the right road doesn't ask his way of strangers. We ask questions when we are guessing; when we know just enough to know that we don't know. All my life I have been guessed over by the wise man. I have lived, although this only in common with all ordinary mortals, in a daily clinic. The psychologists have guessed at my mind; the theologians have guessed at my soul; and now in my old age the doctors are guessing at my body and its timely infirmities. Some of the guessing questioners have done well. As the evening comes on with its quiet grays and sunset tints, my mind is at rest. My soul is at peace, thanks to the psychologists, blessings on theologians. And just as soon as the doctors have worked a similar miracle of grace with my pancreas and gall ducts, I will be the happiest man on earth. I am among the happiest, at any rate, whether or no I "attain unto the honor of the first three."

An Inquisitive World.

We are born into an impertinent world. The first question you hear put to you, by an entire stranger, is "What is your name?" And you didn't know that you had one. Then "Who gave you that name?" is asked by the very man who is giving it to you publicly.

Do you want a situation, do you desire to register, do you wish to vote, do you want to get married—every step in life is confronted by storms of questions. Even when a poor mortal is on his death-bed, having at last a right to be left in perfect peace, some well-meaning, trusty counsellor with anxious face bends over his pillow to ask him if he is resigned to die, when the poor man knows, and everybody else ought to know, that he has to be.

The Silent Teachers.

It is quiet people who answer the questions. A finger-board at a cross-roads does nothing but stand silently in its appointed place answering questions of bewildered men, puzzled women and lost children all day long. And never changes his answer.

We learn by questions more than we do by listening to lectures. More than by reading. Questions compel us to think. A fool is known by the questions he asks far better than by the answers he gives.

There are heretics in the world who even believe that children learned to read in the old-fashioned days of district schools, when the catechetical system was in vogue, and when there were such things in education as the alphabet and spelling book, before Montessori was invented. Days when children in the county schools spelled more correctly than do the students in the colleges today. But the children of those "good old days" do not train up their children as they were themselves trained up. Why? Whose is the fault?

It is said of Diogenes that he struck the father when the son swore. He hit the right man.

The old Cynic was correct, and one didn't have to ask him "Why?"

A Bonehead Play With a Moral.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It was my misfortune to witness in the final game of the past season between Sacramento and Portland, the most comical selection of bonehead plays and clown stunts I have ever seen. One that impressed me particularly was this: With one run to win, Sacramento has a man on second and one on third, two down. Signal given for a hit and run and both runners start with the pitcher's arm. Of course the batter double-crosses his man and steps back to give the catcher a clear catch and fair field.

The runner shoots back toward third with catcher close on his heels, threatening to throw to third. Runner seeing he cannot make third, makes a detour and makes for the second base heard with catcher, shortstop and baseman and fielders after him. After a long run around the ends he is tackled and downed and by the combined efforts of the entire nine is put out, the man on second having meanwhile stolen home with the winning run, which, of course, the umpire, under the practice of a clown game, allows.

Now, I sat on the bleachers in the fall and watched Teddy chase Billy out into the tall timber with all the clowns joining in the chase, while Woodrow stole home with the winning tally.

Will I do so again? Not, so you could notice it. Maybe, you will, your neighbor may, but for me, never again.

In the three Democratic administrations of my life, I have lost most of my hide. I want to save my scalp.

No more bleachers for mine. No more bonehead plays for Republicans, if I know them.

TRAILED BY HER PICTURE.

COUPLE WANTED HERE CAPTURED IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Young Woman, Declared by Police to Be Internationally Known as Check Kiter, Passes Thousand Dollars' Worth of Paper in Single Day for Lingerie.

C. Campbell Denman, a dapper young Englishman, and Mrs. Nettie Putnam, alias Mrs. J. W. Reeves, internationally noted as clever "check fliers," according to the police, were arrested last night in San Francisco by Inspector McDermott of the Harris Detective Agency of this city, charged with having floated $1000 worth of small checks in the big department stores of this city in one day. They will be brought back to this city tomorrow and lodged in the City Jail.

According to Harris, Denman, said to be the son of a prominent London family, arrived in Los Angeles November 17, accompanied by Mrs. Nettie Putnam. They registered as man and wife at the Hotel Sherman, No. 214 West Fourth street. Mrs. Putnam, a few days later opened an account at the German-American Trust and Savings Bank, and the Commercial Trust and Savings Bank.

Last Saturday, Mrs. Putuman is alleged to have purchased over a thousand dollars worth of lingerie and women's wearing apparel at department stores, giving in return checks drawn on the two above-named banks. Before the checks had passed the clearinghouse, Denman is alleged to have drawn out the $200 deposits in the banks, and, with Mrs. Putuman, to have shipped to San Francisco.

Nick Harris, put on the case by the agency, detailed McDermott to investigate. McDermott discovered Mrs. Putuman had been residing at No. 210 South Flower street under the name of Mrs. J. W. Reeves and that Denman had quarters there under his own name. In haste to get away, Mrs. Putuman left a large photograph of herself in a closet. This was the only clue McDermott had. Late last night he telephoned Harris that he had arrested the couple in a rooming-house in San Francisco, where they were registered under the name of Mr. and Mrs. C. Campbell.

REFUSE TO MOVE OFFICE.

Because of an increase in rent the Pacific will move its city ticket office January 1 from the Bullard building, Sixth and Spring streets, to the T. N. Van Nuys building, where a five-year lease has been signed on the store property, facing Seventh street, and abutting on the alley, adjacent to the Lankershim hotel.

Though rents throughout the business district are steadily going up, Southern Pacific's rent, according to Mr. Houston, manager of the Bullard building, was that someone overlooked a contract recently which the railroad had with the Development Building Company, owner of the Grosse Block.

The lease was for five years, with privilege of a renewal of two years at the same rent, and a further renewal of three years additional, with "increase in rent," said Houston last Saturday. "The Southern Pacific has seven years of the lease and don't renew for the remaining years, though I know the company would like to have kept the office. Naturally, with the lease up, the rent of the property was raised to the standard of that adjacent.

A Husband Play With a Moral.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I was my good fortune to witness in the final game of the post season between Sacramento and Portland, the most choice collection of bonehead plays and base stunts I have ever seen. One thing impressed me particularly was that with one run to win, Sacramento has a man on second and one man out, two down. Signal given for the hit and run and both runners sprint with the pitcher's arm. Of course, the batter deliberately crosses his men and runs back to give the catcher a free ball and fair field.

The runner shoots back toward third with catcher close on his heels, attempting to throw to third. Runner seeing he cannot make third, makes a dive for and makes for the score board with catcher, shortstop and all the baseman and fielders after him. After a long run around the ends he is nabbed and downed and by the combined efforts of the entire nine, all but the man on second have successfully stolen home with the winning run, which, of course, the umpire, under the practice of a clown prince, allows.

Now, I sat on the bleachers last year and watched Teddy chase Billy Sunday up the tall timber with all the team joining in the chase, while Portland stole home with the winning tally.

Will I do so again? Not, so you can safely bet it. Maybe, you will, or your neighbor may; but for me, never again.

In the three Democratic administrations of my life, I have lost most of my hair. I want to save my scalp. No more bleachers for mine. No more bonehead plays for Republicans, if I know them.

TRAILED BY HER PICTURE.

CRIME WANTED HERE CAPTURED IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Young Woman, Declared by Police to Be Internationally Known as Ruth Eller, Passes Thousand Dollar Worth of Paper in Single Day in Angeles.

Crawford Denman, a dapper young Englishman, and Mrs. Nettie Reeves, alias Mrs. J. W. Reeves, internationally noted as clever "check fiends" according to the police, were arrested last night in San Francisco by Detective McDermott of the Harris Detective Agency of this city, charged with having floated $1000 worth of bad checks in the big department stores of this city in one day.

They will be brought back to this city tomorrow and lodged in the City Prison.

According to Harris, Denman, said to be the son of a prominent Londoner, arrived in Los Angeles December 17, accompanied by Mrs. Nettie Denman. They registered as man and wife at the Hotel Sherman, 234 West Fourth street. Mrs. Reeves, a few days later opened an account at the German-American Savings Bank, and the Commercial Trust and Savings Bank.

Yesterday, Mrs. Putuman is alleged to have purchased over a thousand dollars worth of lingerie and women's wearing apparel at department stores, giving in return checks on the two above-named banks. All the checks had passed the clearing house, Denman is alleged to have drawn out the $300 deposits in each bank, and, with Mrs. Putuman, was supposed to San Francisco.

Harris put on the case by the bonding company, detailed McDermott to investigate. McDermott discovered Mrs. Reeves had been residing at No. 210 Fifteenth street under the name of Mrs. J. W. Reeves and that Denman had quarters there under his own name. In haste to get away, Mrs. Reeves left a large photograph of Denman in a closet. This was the only clue McDermott had. Late last night Harris telephoned Harris that he had trailed the couple in a rooming-house in San Francisco, where they had registered under the name of Mr. and Mrs. C. Campbell.

TO MOVE OFFICE.

Increase in Rent Drives Railroad Office From Sixth and Spring.

Because of an increase in rent the Pacific will move its city ticket office January 1 from the corner of Sixth and Spring streets to the I. N. Van Nuys building, a five-year lease has been signed for the store property, facing Spring street, and abutting on the alley adjacent to the Lankershim building.

Rents throughout the business district are steadily going up, and for the increase in the Pacific's rent, according to Traffic Manager of the railroad, was that someone had overlooked a contract requiring which the railroad had with the Development Building Company of the Grosse Block. The lease was for five years, with the option of a renewal of two years at the present, and a further renewal of three years additional, with the option "in perpetuity," said Houston Harris, "The Southern Pacific has seven years of the lease and the option to renew for the remaining 10 years, though I know the company would like to have kept the office, but naturally, with the lease at the end of the property was to be the standard of that adjacent building gets its name from Spring, owner of the property it stands.

HAYS ESTATE.

District Attorney Hogan is in receipt of a statement of the case of Hays, asking that it be taken to Superior Court and tried in Superior Court after the necessary examination. Hogan says that according to the statement given him by the police Hays has a record in Tacoma and has committed a series of robberies since coming to Los Angeles.

Vivid Enough.

DREAM PROVED TRUE, SHE SAYS.

FIANCEE HAS VISION AND THEN ATTESTS COMPLAINT.

Asleep, She Sees Burglar Cut Suit Case—Awake, She Hastens to Room of Man Who Was to Have Become Her Husband and Finds Him, and Valuables, Gone.

The dream of a young woman who expected to become the bride of a man she now says grossly deceived her, led to his arrest, according to a mass of evidence presented yesterday by police detectives to Deputy District Attorney Hogan.

Miss Eva Huff, No. 535 West First, told Hogan that she was infatuated with Herbert Moore, who represented himself to be a man of wealth and position. She said under his persuasions she packed her valuables in a suit case instead of a trunk.

The marriage, she says, was set for the following day, which was about the middle of last week. That night Miss Huff dreamed that a robber cut open her suit case and abstracted her money and valuables.

So vivid was the vision that she hastened to Moore's temporary apartments, and found, she says, he had taken her valuables and fled.

ARREST CHINESE.

Two Orientals Must Answer Charges of Having Practiced Medicine Without a License.

More arrests of Chinese doctors occurred yesterday. Y. Leung, keeper of the Foo & Wing Co., No. 902 South Olive street, and H. Ching, No. 936 South Broadway, were arrested, and released on $100 bail. They are charged with having violated the State law prohibiting a person practicing medicine without a license.

Special Agents Boden and Hill, who made the arrests, reported that Leung, treating a woman, stood behind a huge square of plate glass, she in front. Her hand was thrust through a silken drapery, and an unseen person was determining the rapidity of her pulse.

FLASH INJURES TWO.

Electricity Explodes Gas; Gas Fells Laborers; Responding Firemen Tumble From Car.

Electricity and gas met in a fuss at the plant of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company, Aliso and Vignes streets, yesterday. The electricity set off the gas, and the gas exploded. The flash injured John Bolly and Tony Yertes, laborers.

When the explosion occurred, an alarm of fire was raised. From a distant part of the works, Harry Morgan and Dan Smith started for the flames in a hose cart. The hose cart ran over a stump, and threw out the fire-fighters, bruising them so they had to be sent to the Angelus Hospital. All were able to walk away.

SUSPECT ARSON PLOT.

Fire has made three attacks on the home of Peter Farre, No. 1557 East Thirty-third street, within as many weeks. A bomb is believed to have started the last blaze, yesterday. Little damage was done. An arson plot is believed by the police to have the house for its subject.

FEATHERS ARE HELD.

An express package containing a number of fine feathers of the cassowary, a bird indigenous to South America, is held at the office of the local customs collector, awaiting a decision as to whether under the new tariff law, it is legal to import such feathers, and whether they are from domestic fowls within the meaning of the statute. The feathers were sent from the Argentine republic.

WILL CREATE AN ISLAND.

Detention Station and Arsenal to be Located by Federal Government on Land Yet to be Created.

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 17.—To create an island in the harbor, which may be used as a permanent detention station, quarantine station, arsenal, naval training school, and provide anchorage for warships is the proposition, plans for which Harbor Engineer Capps is preparing to present for submission to the Federal government.

This plan does not interfere with that for a temporary station to be erected on the municipal pier, but will be a permanent structure, and large enough to accommodate the influx of immigrants for the next twenty years.

The island to be built up would be located a little to the north of west of the new Municipal pier, leaving room for the main channel as it is on the south side 2000 feet wide, and room between the north side of the proposed island and the pier head line for a made channel 3000 yards wide, which would be an anchorage ground for warships. The island could easily be made from mud dredged from the flats, says Engineer Capps. Regarding reports that certain medical men of the city oppose locating the temporary detention station on the pier, on the ground that it might retard travel from coast ports by boat from fear of contagion, Engineer Capps said such fear was without foundation. The quarantine restrictions would be the same as at present, and no infected immigrants would be allowed to land at the station.

Beauty.

IN GLORIOUS ROBES OF LIVING COLORS.

Plans Going Ahead for a Flowery Los Angeles in a Flowery Setting for Exposition Year—Public Spirit in San Fernando Valley Cited as an Example Worthy of Emulation.

LANDSCAPE PLANS for 1915 that are to turn every waste acre of the county and every vacant lot of the city into flower plots and under which as many roads as possible will be planted to trees or edged with flowers were made yesterday by the special committee that the Mayor appointed some weeks ago to make arrangements for entertaining exposition-year visitors. It was also decided to start a campaign about the first of the year to raise at least $300,000 with which to entertain the seventeen conventions that will be held here in 1915, as well as the many distinguished delegations that will pass through on their way from one to the other of the expositions.

Though the mammoth floral show plans, for such they are, have not yet gone beyond the embryonic stage, the larger details of the scheme by which the city and county will be clothed in gorgeous robes of living colors are more or less certain. Plans are also taking form for beautifying the city electrically.

In accordance with the suggestion of Secretary Wiggins of the Chamber of Commerce, rose cuttings by the millions will be distributed to those who will plant them.

"I'll do the whole work myself if need be," said Wiggins yesterday. "I have not yet figured out how I am going to get all the cuttings I'll need, but I am going to figure it out so that they can go into the ground this spring and be in bloom in 1915."

It is expected that the city authorities will especially encourage the planting of vacant lots to flowers, while the county authorities will look after the precincts without the city. Both President Whiffen of the City Council and Chairman Pridham of the Board of Supervisors were at the meeting yesterday and pledged their assistance in the work.

In connection with the general work in the city, it was made plain that the parks will be subjected to renovation plans that will make them veritable beauty spots. The way this will be done will be to get the City Council to appropriate additional money for the Park Department.

THE PUBLIC SPIRIT.

Along many of the county roads much tree planting has already been done and Pridham stated yesterday that more will be done.

"But we need more public-spirited persons like those of the San Fernando Valley," said President Kinney of the Chamber of Commerce, one of the committeemen. "They have one road up there that is a great white way of electric lights and another that for sixteen miles is edged with flowers. The people up there put their hands into their own pockets to do this work and we want to encourage every district to do the same thing."

It will of course require hundreds of thousands of dollars to do all this work, but the idea at the meeting was that what is not done by the city and county will be done by public-spirited citizens with their own money.

"If every man with a vacant lot spends a quarter on flower seeds and every householder keeps his grass growing and things neat it will be a big help," said Wiggins.

WAYS AND MEANS.

Though various plans to raise the big entertainment fund were talked over at yesterday's meeting, it was finally decided to postpone definite action until the adjourned meeting Monday. It was also decided to take up at that time the question of enlarging the working committee. The plan is to have each of the five present committeemen name nine sub-committeemen to assist them in the raising of funds. The present members of the committee are Chairman Pridham of the Board of Supervisors, President Whiffen of the City Council, President Kinney of the Chamber of Commerce, President Hutchison of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association, and President Flint of the Los Angeles Convention League. Capt. H. Z. Osborne was named yesterday as acting secretary.

"While $300,000 may seem a big sum of money to raise for entertainment purposes for 1915," said Osborne last night, "especially as this county has already invested or will invest $1,750,000 in the two expositions, everyone at the meeting today was certain that the citizens of the city and county will rise to the emergency.

"Of course we have but seventeen conventions landed so far, but we want to remember that the Shriners' entertainment in 1913 cost us $50,000 and the G.A.R. convention over $50,000. We also want to remember that there will be foreign diplomats by hundreds and the fleet officers of many nations as visitors in 1915."

POLITICIAN SLEUTH.

Mike Foley, a politician of note, lost a dandy $50 overcoat a month ago while enjoying the sparkling cabaret at Harlow's Cafe. Last night while walking along Broadway with his hands in his trouser pockets and his coat buttoned tightly to keep off the chilly blasts, he spied his very own coat promenading down the street on the back of a stalwart young chap. Foley followed the man for a couple of blocks, deftly touched the garment to make certain, and calling a policeman, he had the man arrested. When searched at the City Jail the police found a gold watch and a diamond ring in the man's vest pocket. He gave the name of Martin Crews and said he lived at the New Broadway Hotel. The detectives identified the watch as one stolen last July from H. C. Jewel, also a guest at the New Broadway. Crews failed to satisfactorily explain where he got the watch and diamond.

SAME GRAFT SOUVENIR.

In spite of the order of the Police Commission and the action of the city authorities last year, an effort is being made to get merchants and business men to give up their money again for a "Police Souvenir." All such undertakings are simply hold-ups and should not be tolerated. Those who part with their money for such things are throwing it away and encouraging a bad game.

SANTA PAULA BRIEFS.

SANTA PAULA, Dec. 17.—A thief or thieves looted the grocery store of A. Y. Obiols of the Canyon road, securing about $200 cash and merchandise. The store is in a lonely location, with few passers-by during the night. Entrance was gained by cutting a panel out of the front door. It is supposed that a wagon was used in carrying the merchandise away. About $45 in cash, hidden in the store by Mr. Obiols, was overlooked by the thieves.

James O. Gamel has been appointed City Marshal to take the place of H. N. Norman, who was murdered by thugs recently. Thomas Saunders succeeds Gamel as nightwatchman.

Arranges School System.

tion into economic conditions in England several years ago.

"The object of all human endeavor today, as in any other time," he said in opening, "should be that expressed by the Master when He said, 'I came that ye shall have life, and life more abundant.' And we are to see whether our educational system in the United States is attuned to that high purpose.

"The opening of the Nineteenth Century saw the beginning of what we have termed the great industrial revolution, the re-adjustment of all human life through the introduction of great machineries, the abolition of journeyman labor. The purpose of that great revolution cannot have been fulfilled until there is a more equal distribution of the world's goods. The added wealth that comes through increased efficiency in manufacture must add to the sum total of human happiness or be worthless."

A CITATION.

As an example of how machinery has revolutionized human life in a single community, he cited a town in the Middle West where when he was a youth, one man had a spectacle-case manufacturing plant where, he, himself worked, with eleven journeymen employees. The business has been changed into a great factory, where American workers have been succeeded by first Irish, then Southern Europeans and now Russians. The owners are non-resident, men and women, mothers and fathers of children, work side by side and the children get their training on the streets.

"Now, with the tremendous changes conditions, has there been a paralleling change in our educational system?" he asked. Then he went on to answer himself by saying:

"We have not yet undertaken to adjust our school system to new ideas which prevail in our daily lives. The old hope of getting out of the employed class and into the employing class has died out with the vast specialization of our industries. In order adequately to prepare our boys and girls for life as it is—not as we may wish to theorize about it—we must have some vast changes in our present school system.

"There will be no permanency of employment until there is apprenticeship. Great industrial corporations cannot afford to train apprentices. The schools, therefore, must supplement the shop and give training for the vocations. We must not give our children a lot of abstractions. We must give them life, something that will fit them for present-day conditions.

"I liken our present system of schooling to a system under which a child shall be kept in prison until he is 13 or 14 years of age and then be sent out to earn a livelihood in the complex life of our larger communities. What is the result? The boys and girls become members of the army of the unemployed—because they already are members of the army of the untrained. They have been educated away from—and not toward—industry.

CLASS INSTITUTION.

"I say that the schools to this day remain a class institution; they are administered on the theory of the Greeks, i.e., that the 'common people' are not worthy of education, do not need and would not appreciate it, should they get it. All our boasted talk about universal and compulsory education doesn't alter this statement at all. It is sophistry.

"Those who administer our schools have made them exclusively preparatory schools for the professions. The masses find nothing in them that bears upon their future careers, and they drop out. Over half of our pupils drop out during the ascent through the grades, or about 1,500,000 a year, most of them under 14 years of age. They become members of the army of the unemployed, because they have been educated for nothing save failure. Twenty-five per cent. of our total expenditure for education is for those above the grade schools, so that much of that other 75 per cent. is wasted, for it is used on a foundation which never gets beyond the foundation stage.

"There has been no real, serious attempt really to incorporate the new studies, such as manual training, music, the arts and crafts, shop work, etc., into our school system. Instead of really incorporating them, they have been 'engrafted' as 'show' studies, 'cultural' studies, not with any intent really to train, those who take them, but as a sop to an ever-increasing demand for vocational training.

"In the spirit of the Master," he closed, "and by His methods, let us give the eager, curious, plastic, throbbing, pulsating, active childhood of our day, not the husks and symbols and abstractions of life, but, rather, life itself—and life more abundant."

The work of the association will get well under way this morning. There will be two sessions on in the morning, one at the Auditorium and another in the auditorium of the Polytechnic High School. The former will be for elementary teachers and will be presided over by W. H. Housh, with addresses by L. R. Alderman, Superintendent of Schools in Portland, Or., and Charles S. Meek, Superintendent of Schools at Boise, Idaho. At the High School, A. N. Wheelock, City Superintendent of Schools at Riverside, will preside, and addresses will be given by Prof. M. Vincent O'Shea of the University of Wisconsin and Dr. John H. Gray of the University of Minnesota.

This afternoon there will be three sessions, one for primary teachers at Polytechnic auditorium, one for elementary teachers at the Auditorium, and the California Congress of Mothers, First District, in room 210 of the Polytechnic High School, over which Mrs. George O. Monroe will preside. There will be an address here by Mark Keppel, Los Angeles County Superintendent of Schools, on "The Value of Co-operation Between Parent and Teacher," and another by Mrs. E. N. Strong, vice-president of the California Congress of Mothers, on "The Work Being Done by Parent-Teacher Associations."

The physical education section will hold forth in the gymnasium of the State Normal School, with Mrs. Irma H. Hutchinson presiding. An art exhibit of Normal School pupils will be shown in two of the school's studios this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon from 2 until 4:30 o'clock.

The business session of the meeting will come tomorrow afternoon at the Auditorium, when officers will be elected for the coming year, constitutional amendments be considered and all other business completed.

Speaker Says Students Must Be Prepared for Work to Come in Higher Grades—Principals Discuss Plans for Transition from Intermediate to High Schools.

A more perfect adjustment of the work in the final classes of the intermediate schools with the work taken up in the first year of the high schools is a much-desired improvement among the schools of Los Angeles, according to several speakers at the meeting of the Principals' Club yesterday afternoon in Polytechnic High School, one of many concluding meetings of the city teachers' institute, which finished its sessions yesterday.

W. I. Travis, a member of the committee seeking to unify the work of the intermediate and high schools, spoke with particular force upon the question.

"There should be some sort of a clearing-house for the teachers of the intermediate schools," he said, "where they might get into touch with the teachers of the first-year classes in high schools to compare notes. The teacher of the intermediate schools could lay before the high school faculties exactly what is being given her pupils who are preparing to enter high school. 'How does it fit into what they will get with you during the first year?' they might ask.

"Sooner or later some such arrangement as this will have to be made, as the city grows larger, so we might as well start about designing our methods right now."

A suggestion was made that one faculty member in each high school be delegated to answer all such questions from intermediate school teachers on a particular subject. The matter will come up for further discussion at later meetings of the club.

W. A. Dunn reported for the reorganization committee that when the classes change at the end of the present term in February, the high schools arrange to get old classes started on Friday, January 30, and the new recruits from the lower schools on the following Monday, February 2.

Much attention has been attracted by the clever work of Miss Aza Konishi, in the department of costume designing, particularly for the practicability of her kimono costumes and the rapidity with which they can be donned and doffed. Miss Caroline C. Wood is the chairman of this department and Miss Peggy Martin has added much to the programme through her able demonstration of the art.

The only general session of the institute yesterday was in the morning at Polytechnic auditorium when Prof. M. Vincent O'Shea of the University of Wisconsin and Charles S. Meek of Boise, Idaho, were the principal speakers.

Prof. O'Shea spoke on "Hidden Forces in Human Life," among which he placed instinct, heredity and the undoubted force of handed-down chivalry. The greatest single force in human life is that of the mind, he asserted.

Resolutions were adopted at this general meeting indorsing Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, deposed Superintendent of Schools in Chicago. The resolutions were adopted with much enthusiasm, several among the more prominent participants in the meeting making speeches.

Miss Jessica Peixotto, head of the department of sociology at the University of California, was a speaker at a large meeting held in the Polytechnic auditorium in the afternoon. Her subject was "The New Philanthropy." She spoke on the philanthropy that teaches its beneficiaries to care for themselves and upon the generally new attitude moderns are taking toward the care of the needy and distressed. It is a philanthropy of education toward self-help, she pointed out.

The Principals' Club held a luncheon in a downtown cafe at noon when addresses were made by Col. J. J. Steadman of the Board of Education, City Superintendent J. H. Francis on the subject "What Shall Be the Function of the Principals' Club?" The answer seemed to be a greater co-operation between all educational institutions.

Many sub-organizations among the city's teachers held sessions during the afternoon in classrooms of the Polytechnic High School. Among these were the Teachers' Club, Schoolmasters' Club, Home Economics Club, Modern Language Association, Commercial Teachers' Association, Music Section, Playground Teachers' Club and Science and Mathematics Association.

JAPANESE TOLD TO LEAVE.

Lemon Pickers Are Told by Their White Co-laborers to Leave and Not to Return.

ORANGE, Dec. 17.—Six Japanese lemon pickers were exported from Villa Park last night with the admonition that they do not return. White pickers who resented the presence of the Japs are credited with planning and carrying out the exit of the brown men.

About a dozen Japs have been picking lemons for the Central Lemon Growers' Association, which has its packing-house at the Villa Park station on the Tustin branch of the Southern Pacific, four miles northeast of Orange. The raiders last night got only six.

The story as told by the Japs over the long-distance telephone is incomplete. They called up City Marshal Warner of Orange and wanted him to arrest the invaders, but Warner does not know who to arrest. The Japs say that last night their camp was visited by a number of white men, who drove up in a three-seated rig. The white man rounded up all the Japs they could find, some half a dozen all told, and loaded them into the rig. Some of the Japs escaped, and some of them were not in the camp when the whits men descended upon it.

There was no question as to what the white men intended. They told the Japs that they were going to make them get out of this part of the country. They were taken to Anaheim, and there placed upon a train bound for Los Angeles, with instructions not to come back under penalty of something terrible. So far as can be learned, the Japs were not handled any too gently.

C. W. Eastin of Orange, manager of the lemon association, a co-operative organization of growers, and E. N. Wright, the foreman of the picking gang, have known for some time that the use of the Japs was resented. Wright has been given warnings that he would do well to dispense with Japanese help.

MELODRAMA IN DESERT CITY.

Five Persons Are Jailed and Two Others Sought.

Widow of Wealthy Pasadenan Charges Conspiracy.

Five of the seven persons implicated in the alleged plot to blackmail Mrs. Ida Morgan, widow of "Gold Dust" Morgan, out of $50,000, and the theft of $6000 worth of diamonds, are lodged in the county jail at San Bernardino.

The arrest of Robert Williams and Robert Lithgow, the two other men in the case, are expected today. Warrants were issued yesterday by the District Attorney of San Bernardino county.

Mrs. Florence M. Budd, her brother, E. Burroughs, Deputy Constable Fisher of Long Beach, and Mrs. Wogib, a Pasadena city fireman, were taken from the city jail here yesterday afternoon to San Bernardino, where a charge of burglary is pending against each.

They were arrested by County Detective Arbois of San Bernardino and H. J. Raymond of the Citizens' Detective agency here.

Through the story that is the result of the wholesale arrests runs a tangled skein of circumstances, of episodes ranging from a charge of burglary, a night attack upon Mrs. Morgan's desert home at Cima, San Bernardino county, the alleged theft of $5000 from the wealthy widow, a visiting gun play in Mrs. Morgan's home and the alleged taking of a surreptitious flashlight photograph of Mrs. Morgan and Orris E. Budd, together in a room there.

Budd is in jail in San Bernardino, charged with the theft of the jewels. He was arrested December 11 in Salt Lake City.

Mrs. Morgan is the widow of "Gold Dust" Morgan, a Pasadena millionaire mine owner. The Morgan estate is under the executorship of Lewis S. Lowry of Pasadena. Lowry refused to talk last night, as did those involved in the sensational affair. Mrs. Morgan has offered a reward of $600 for the recovery of the diamonds.

Mrs. Budd is the daughter of Wm. Field Burroughs, author, who resides at his daughter's home, No. 1201 San Antonio avenue, Long Beach.

NEWS BRIEFS.

In order to secure the proposed $50,000 reinforced concrete bridge to replace the frame structure at Colorado street, the committee appointed by the Pasadena Board of Trade is making a strong effort to arrange for adequate flood protection in that vicinity. Approximately $1250 has been subscribed by property owners in that section, and by the public-spirited men of the city. The money is to be used in building dykes along the river bank. The plans are to drive a row of piles along this channel in such a manner as to assure the river flowing always within the bounds of 400 feet.

H. W. Caldwell, a collector for a morning newspaper, reported to the police late last night that he was held up and robbed of $94 by two men in an automobile bandits. Caldwell declares he was walking along Sunset boulevard when two young fellows in a machine drove up and asked him to take a ride. Caldwell asserts he accepted and while enjoying himself hugely with the two young men in the rear seat produced a gun to his ear and told him to "stick up." Caldwell says he lost no time in complying with the request and then gave the police a description of the men. He was questioned closely by the detectives. Caldwell resides at No. 1326 North Normandie avenue.

In the boxing game close on to thirteen years as promoter of the game pure and simple, during which time he has seen champions come and go and taken in over a million dollars from the public, until now he is ranked as one of the premier handlers of fistic contests in the country, is the history of James W. Coffroth.

If there is any one thing at which Coffroth excels more than any other—even his own business of handling boxing contests—it is facts and figures. Just where he carries them is the wonder, but they are there beyond any question. A fistic guide isn't necessary with Coffroth around.

Just ring him up on the 'phone, tell him you want to know when Jim Jeffries beat Bob Fitzsimmons, and on the instant he will give you the day of the month, the year, how the fight ended and how much money they drew. And to prove that it's no mistake, you try him out on some more insignificant match and you'll discover the information at his tongue's end.

A BIG QUESTION.

"What do I think is the one thing above all others that constitutes a successful promoter?"

Coffroth repeated the question to himself, and then answered it.

"Well, you'll probably laugh," he remarked; "but my answer to that is giving people their seats. More seriously, I suppose, it is a matter of organization. I have built up an organization of men who know just what they are to do, so there's little left for me but the making of matches. It is like a well-regulated army, with a job for every man. There's no hurrying and scurrying at the last moment, and no bother. Everything proceeds according to schedule. That gives confidence to the people who

A battle of veterans is the term to be applied to the game Sunday afternoon between the L.A.A.C. ruggers and the crack fifteen representing the Olympic Club of San Francisco. Both teams are made up, in the main, of men who have already won their spurs in the intercollegiate mill and who have kept on with football just because they love sport. While there is no college title at stake, there is an intense rivalry between the contesting teams, simply because one represents the north and one the south. Whenever we have these two sections of the State set against each other in an athletic contest the fur is bound to fly—we all expect it and it always has.

In comparing the two teams the northern squad has it on the local aggregation in two respects. First, the Olympic team is probably quite a bit heavier than the L.A.A.C. squad, though just how much we cannot say at the present time. Secondly, the Olympic Club has an advantage in the fact that the men on the team have been playing together for a greater length of time than have the L.A.A.C. warriors.

WHERE TEAMS ARE MATCHED.

In all other respects, such as class, speed, experience and Rugby skill, the men balance nicely. The Olympic men are probably older men on the average, but the fact that the local squad has the youth edge, with veteran knowledge and experience, should be a point in the south's favor.

The northern team has played more games than have the local men, and for this reason may have a slightly better team organization in the field, in that they may be able to get a decided jump during the earlier part of the game, but if the local men go into the game with condition and stamina they should be able to hold the invaders and in turn come back for a rally in the second half.

We know that the L.A.A.C. team was in great shape for the series with the Trojans, but that has been some little time ago. However, the squad appears to have the fighting edge now, that is if the recent work-outs and the practice games of the past two weeks can be taken as criterions.

CONDITION SHOULD WIN.

The Olympic Club also was in splendid condition earlier in the season, but during the past month has had no games of any note, although the squad has been in active training.

I am dwelling on his point of condition and training simply because it is going to tell the tale one way or the other at Washington Park Sunday. When two teams like these clash, competition and season's experience take second place to condition, for the reason that veterans always know what to do at the critical stages of a game and can be counted on for all the tricks of the trade, but "sticking" condition comes only after real work, not so much in play as in training for the play. In short, the team with the condition Sunday has far and away the best chance to win.

"There has been a slight shake-up in the L.A.A.C. back field for the game, although it has been expected for some little time. Cap Alber of the Trojans will be seen in action at halfback, where his work should be of great value, as he is undoubtedly one of the greatest half-backs ever developed on the Coast. He is a fast and sure passer and uses keen judgment in running his backs. With Alber playing half, "Pike" Brant and "Truck" Manning have been lifted out of half and breaker positions respectively and put on the wings.

On paper this looks good, but we will have to suspend judgment until after the game. Both are fairly fast and very aggressive and carry good boots, which are cardinal virtues with men in the wing positions.

Only two new faces are to be seen in the scrum. Fred Teschke of U.S.C. will play a breaker, and Cliff Swarts, lock. Both men have been in one game with the club since the close of the college season. Both are experienced players and Teschke is considered one of the best breakers on the Coast. The remainder of the scrum will line up as follows: Front rank, Walton, Skinner and Gregg; second rank, Tutton and Reynolds; breakers, Boyle and Teschke; lock, Swarts.

In the last practices under the eye of Pat Higgins the men seem to have developed good combination play in the two departments of the game, the scrum and the backs, but how these factors will line up in actual competition will not be known until the whistle blows Sunday, when the real scrimmage begins. With Alber as the connecting link between scrum and backs, there should be no difficulty in securing combination play.

RITCHIE SEEMS IN BAD SHAPE.

"Champion Willie Ritchie is in bad shape physically," said Joe Levy, manager of Joe Rivers.

He claims that the lightweight champion is close to a nervous wreck. The hard training sieges and hard battles he has gone through of late are what have placed Ritchie in this condition, says Levy. Joe adds that Ritchie told him that after the Murphy bout he intended taking a good rest, for he had gone through many trying ordeals in a short space of time.

JOE TINKER IS MUCH WORRIED.

IS VERY ANXIOUS TO MEET CHARLEY EBBETS.

Of Course He Wants to Play with the Cubs, but He Is Willing to Listen to Reason—Says He Will Play with Brooklyn If the Terms Are Satisfactory.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—Joseph Tinker, deposed manager of the Cincinnati ball club, will meet Charles Ebbets, president of the Brooklyn club, soon to decide whether he will become a member of the Brooklyn club. Tinker received today a letter from Ebbets asking the shortstop to meet him within five days. Tinker replied that he was willing to meet the Brooklyn club owners, but no date was set.

Tinker is willing to play with Brooklyn if he is sure to receive the $10,000 it was stipulated he was to be given from the sum paid Cincinnati for his release. Tinker also stipulated that he must receive a three-year contract providing for a satisfactory salary.

"If the bonus is really meant for me and the contract is satisfactory I will agree to play with Brooklyn," said Tinker.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—Baseball as played in America is severely criticised by a member of the Australian cricket team, which recently toured the United States and Canada. A Sydney paper, containing an interview with the cricketer on the return of the team to Australia, has just been received here.

"Candidly," the Australian athlete is quoted, "I don't like baseball as played in America. Baseball in Australia is a fine game, played in the spirit of our cricket. But that spirit is not known in American baseball, which is a professional game and associated with bluffing of a character foreign to the Australian and English ideas of sport. There is, of course, big money in it there; but if baseball is ever to become a big game here, it will need to be divorced from the spirit which pervades its American atmosphere."

CAL INDIGNANT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Revival of an annually resurrected report that the Pacific Coast League is contemplating taking in additional Northwest territory, has brought forth a denial from J. Cal Ewing, the San Francisco magnate. Ewing said today that in course of time the league doubtless would expand, but that the subject was not being considered by the directors just now.

POMONA VARSITY STARS SUPPORT AMERICAN GAME.

THE two rival football squads, which are to meet Christmas Day to settle the question of Rugby versus American football, had their first workouts yesterday afternoon. Both aggregations were a little shy on numbers, but a full quota is expected on each field today.

The intercollegiate team is practicing on Baer Field, under the general supervision of Jack d'Aulo, while the Rugby American team is working with Pat Higgins and Stan Mitchell at Fraser Park.

The intercollegiate bunch received a decided boost yesterday when several of the Pomona College varsity men signified their willingness to take part in the game. When men like Heath, Jesson, Henderson, Eakin, Brennen and Vincent Shutt gather for an all-star team it means that the team will live up to its name.

SHUTT VALUABLE.

Shutt has been working with the Chaffey Union High School team for the past two seasons, but it will be remembered that two years ago when at Pomona he was the greatest half-back in the South. While Shutt says he does not necessarily want to play in the game, he will be willing to get to for a quarter to aid in holding the squad together. He should be of invaluable assistance in welding the squad into playing trim for the ten on Christmas.

The men now out for positions on the American team are as follows: Center, Wieman of Oxy; guards, Eakin of Pomona, and Deems of Oxy; tackles, Heath and Henderson of Pomona; ends, Kirkpatrick of Oxy, and Brownell of Whittier; quarterback, Lenz and Hill of Oxy, or Brennen of Pomona; halves, Jesson of Pomona and Foster of Oxy; fullback, Finch of Whittier. However, this is not enough for the team and the supporters of the American game earnestly hope that all those who wish to see the old game gather greater headway in the South, will report at Baer Field every afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The above mentioned team is a galaxy of football stars, men who know the game and can play it under any conditions. They are capable of using all the wide open tricky stuff, for which the new intercollegiate game is fast becoming justly famous and if the Rugby men can show them anything in handling the ball and the use of all the features of the new game, they will have to be wonders, that is all.

STILL IN DOUBT.

Coach Higgins is not ready to give out his line-up as yet, but says that after the practice on Saturday, he will be in shape to make a tentative organization. This team, as I understand it, expects to adopt the Rugby style of play to the old game as far as the rules will allow with the addition of the forward pass, which they say will make American football look sad. I don't agree, but it is their's to show.

Some question has arisen as to who is eligible for these teams. For the Rugby-American team, only men who have played Rugby recently will be allowed to take part; however, if these men have played American football at an earlier date in their careers, the ban will be lifted. The point is that the men on this team must be supporters of the English game.

On the other team, men who have played only intercollegiate football will be considered.

NEW RULES MADE FOR HARNESS NAGS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—Record time in a single heat of a trotting race will not constitute a new record if the horse does not win the race and will not affect the horse's class, according to an agreement on rules made today by the National Trotting Association and the American Trotting Association after two days of conference.

The new rule provides that a horse must win at least one race before he can be advanced to a higher class.

The same distance rules henceforth will govern both associations. The two organizations will hold their annual meeting the second week in February, the National Association in New York and the American Association in Chicago.

The associations agreed that all fines and penalties should be given to injured and needy drivers.

THE DRAMATIC CRITIC PROBES LEACH CROSS.

Possessor of Only Diploma Held by a Fighter, He Seems to Try to Forget It—Seems to Be the Everlasting Paradox—Scowls Without, but Laughs Within. Knows Nothing About Music, but Likes It.

BY HENRY CHRI STEEN WARNACK.

LEACH CROSS presents the joy of the everlasting paradox. A scowl is the best thing he does. That is outside information. It has no more to do with Cross than the clothes he wears. His inside inflammation consists of a stormy mirth, bordering upon gladness. Of course gladness is a spiritual quality and Cross has none of it in his well-organized system, but he has an enthusiasm of personality and a half-aroused mentality which make him a dangerous opponent in the ring and will preserve his health and happiness.

A man who graduates from the University of New York, yet who murders English in every sentence and who would split syllables to commit a crime against Boston, is either striking an unpardonable pose or is lost in an equally unforgivable habit. One who can read and think upon any subject, but who vastly prefers billiards; who could make a fortune, but whose greatest ambition is to save enough money to take his wife, baby and himself for a trip around the world, may be amazingly clever, but he is shy on idealism.

For a man who talks East Side and Bowery, Cross is almighty particular about the use of words when they drip from the pen of a newspaper writer. The knockout drops in a bottle of ink are more feared by Cross than those possibly contained in the fists of any man he is likely to meet in McCarey's arena.

WELTER? NEVER.

For instance, he goes weltering up in weight to 135 and better, if it is required of him, or he goes smeltering down to 122 and less upon stipulation, but the term welter-weight is a red flag in his face, which he resents more bitterly than I resent his butchery of English or his eternal game of billiards.

Cross has the reputation of being the highbrow among the fighters. It has been earned for him by the possession of one only college diploma among ringside people. With Cross it is his sheepskin and not his elbow or his hat which is thrown into the ring. Fight folk shy at a document of this weight. It is the ambition of most untutored fighters to become educated, but it seems to be the purpose of Cross to forget that he is educated and to keep others from suspecting his crime of graduation.

Don't imagine from this that at 28 Cross is not a little old man of wisdom. He can think like blue lightning when he wants to. We had some argument about a figure of speech. I wanted to call it a metaphor, but Cross said it was too near the point and was therefore a simile. "You see," he put it earnestly, "if I say that man is as strong as a lion, it is a picture that fits him exactly and it is a simile. If I say that he crouches for a swing at his antagonist as a lion leaps from the marshes upon his prey, I extend the figure to the distance of a metaphor."

AND THEN.

Now wouldn't it leave you peeved if a man of this fine discrimination and beautiful diction would then turn to the legs of a chorus lady and stoutly affirm that "many a man leaves home for less than that?"

I took Cross and, by great good fortune, Mrs. Cross, to the opening of "The Candy Shop." Cross was all enthusiasm for the symmetricals. Mrs. Cross, abloom with health and satisfaction, quietly enjoyed whatever was likable about the music. They say that all prizefighters are natural musicians because rhythm and time have everything to do with the way they strike. Cross knows nothing about music, but he likes it after four years of life with the handsome woman he had the luck to marry, and who is a cultivated pianist and vocalist.

As a dentist, Cross is proud of his profession and means to keep active in it. He boasts a clientage that will await his return, and which will be augmented by the hero worship always accorded a successful fighter. He thinks he will be lucky to last a year or two longer in the ring, and says that a man has no business fighting after 30.

The talk about his spine seems to be the emphasis of good press work rather than a damaging fact. Slight attacks of lumbago have been exaggerated into spinal curvature or other serious defects, which are not one of the shrewd young Jew's handicaps—or assets.

NOT VERY STRONG.

As prize fighters go, he is not a strong man, and he has undoubtedly made the game more of a study than a struggle. He knows that Anderson is a bulldog for strength, but he is not in the least afraid of him. He has the clever Jewish idea of boosting everything and everybody. Nothing could persuade him to make a derogatory statement about the other man's chances, even when the fellow happens to be his opponent.

"Of course," he said, "I am sure I can beat Anderson. I wouldn't fight him if I wasn't. We will waive the fight we had before. If the man was sick it ought not to be counted. At the same time I know I can whip any man that Knockout Brown could stay with for twenty rounds.

"I want to fight Rivers on Washington's Birthday because he got me before and I must wipe that out before I go to New York. Rivers is more to be feared than Anderson. Don't imagine that I will let Anderson fold me in his arms and pound up my kidneys with his short jabs. It ought not to be hard to find him at home when I am ready to land.

THE AVERAGES.

"I have always figured the averages of a fighter something like I would those of a baseball player. If a man hits the ball once in three times he is a wonder. If I have a batting average in the ring of from .300 to .400 I am a top-notcher, and that is all I care about. I always believe I can whip any man I fight, but I know perfectly well that no fighter is going to win even half of his battles, and I am satisfied with the fortunes of war.

"I know I am not a strong man and that I must fight with my head. My one chance is to beat the other fellow to it. I know the mathematics of a blow. My knockout is there, but I do not depend upon mere strength for it. I imagine I am the weakest man in the ring today in spite of my success. Knowing this, I do not worry to overtrain and I do not diet at all. Before a fight I eat just as I would when not preparing for a battle. The one concession I make is that I go to bed earlier and sleep a little later than I might under ordinary circumstances.

"When not fighting I limit my vices to comfortably late hours and the chewing of gum. I eliminate tobacco, liquor and gambling because I value my health and respect my brain, and not because they would ruin me as a fighter."

Cross went to Catalina Island yesterday with his brother, Sam Wallach, and they will remain there for three days before returning to train. Cross, of course, is only a stage name. In private life the little fighter is Dr. Louis C. Wallach.

CARRIGAN WILL BE RED SOX BIG BOSS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Manager Bill Carrigan will have absolute control and full charge of the Red Sox during the coming season. President Lannin, the new half-owner, has announced this fact. Carrigan says that the men will leave for Hot Springs March 8 and train until March 30, when they will pull up stakes for a short exhibition tour before the regular season opens.

A game March 30 with Memphis is carded and two with Cincinnati April 11 and 12. Beyond these no dates have been arranged. Games with Harvard, Yale and Dartmouth have been passed up because Carrigan sees no way of getting back East before the regular season opens. President Lannin has made it very plain that all business of the club will be transacted by Carrigan in person and that the president will watch the games from the grand stand, but would never interfere.

Worthy Foes.

BARBARIANS HEAVY, AND FAST, LOOK DANGEROUS.

THE RANGERS are now waiting for Christmas Day to roll around, when they meet the Barbarians.

Some idea of the team the Rangers have to meet may be had by the size of the defense. The goal-keeper and the two backs average over six feet and weigh over 175 pounds. The remainder of the team averages over five feet eight inches in height.

The Rangers are a very light combination and will have to make up with cleverness for the lack of beef.

A. R. D. MacKenzie and Edgar Pomeroy will be in charge of the party. They are sending their strongest team and are leaving nothing to chance.

Following is the Barbarian line-up and description:

Goal-keeper, E. McRitchie; played with the team since 1904.

Center half (first alternate) C. Ayers; a plucky and daring man. He came to the Barbarians in 1907.

It is largely due to the untiring efforts of Ed. Pomeroy and his old friend Sheddon in Los Angeles, that the Barbarian-Ranger game has become a possibility in Los Angeles on Christmas Day.

FOSTER TO LEAD TIGER SQUAD.

Sid Foster will lead the Occidental football team next year. Last night he was elected captain of the 1914 Tiger squad. Foster was selected on the all-Southern team this season and was easily one of the best half-backs in the game here this year. He plays a heady game, is very fast and tricky and should make an ideal leader for Pipal's gridiron machine when the Tigers face their foes next fall.

Coffroth Makes Money.

attend, and they will come again. The simple matter of seeing that people get their right seats is a tremendous factor. There's no reason why they shouldn't, but from time immemorial it has been the custom to scramble. I changed the plan, and it helped wonderfully."

And those of you who have had any trouble in getting the seat you bought and paid for will agree with the promoter.

Coffroth was in a measure pitchforked into boxing from the standpoint of promoting. Back in 1900, when he was secretary of the Superior Court judges, Coffroth made a trip to Europe—his first. While in New York he met Jim Kennedy, who was then the "big noise" in pugilism. It was just at the close of the Horton law, late in the year, after which the game was to be dropped in New York, and naturally the talk was on the future of the game.

The San Francisco field was mentioned and Coffroth, although his only experience in boxing had been that of an ardent fan, was induced to associate himself with Kennedy, Groom and Gleason in the handling of contests.

"The first show we had," tells Coffroth, "was a fight between George Hawkins and George (Elbows) McFadden. We drew only $3800, but I was more excited than I ever have been since that time, which shows what experience in the game does for you."

Harry Corbett associated himself with the combination in 1903 and 1904, but after that dropped out and Coffroth has practically worked alone since that time. In 1906 the promoter was shut out of San Francisco through failure to secure permits, and operated in the little pavilion at Colma that long since burned down.

Again in 1907, 1908 and 1909 he was forced out of the city and held for the most part open-air shows on holiday dates at the Mission-street arena.

Under his auspices in 1901 was held the first heavyweight championship match in San Francisco, when Jim Jeffries defeated Gus Ruhlin. Incidentally it was the first time the people of this city had ever been forced to pay from $2 to $20 for their seats, a scale of prices that brought $30,000 into the house.

One of the amusing incidents of his career was the staking in 1904 of a bout between Jack Johnson, later destined to become champion of the world, and Sam McVey, not so long ago a Parisian idol. The house drew just $2000 and Johnson's bit was $400 for winning. McVey was no card after his defeat and for a time took to carrying a spear in one of the melodramas at the old Central Theater.

It was Coffroth, likewise, who was responsible for the "light heavyweight championship," inaugurating that class when he brought Bob Fitzsimmons and George Gardner together in the fall of 1903. Coffroth had a lot of overgrown middleweights on his hands and to make matches he invented the new division.

One of the few times when bleacher seats ever cost $5 a throw was at the time of the Fitzsimmons-Jeffries fight, a condition that was made necessary through the demands of the fighters.

BOXING GOSSIP.

BY DE WITT VAN COURT.

The showing Owen Moran made against Joe Azevedo Tuesday night in Oakland will just about finish, his chances for any more matches on this Coast. This is about the third or fourth time Moran has been disqualified for fouling and it should be his finish. There is no room in the boxing game for unfair boxing. Moran in his time was one of the best men of his weight in the world and should show his gameness by losing fair.

Billy Greenwood, manager of Danny Lyons, has been trying for several days to get Danny on with Battling Chico. But as Chico has been taken sick, it will hardly be possible to match them for Tom McCarey's next show. Greenwood says he would like to match Danny with Roy Moore, the San Francisco featherweight, if he cannot land the Battler. Moore has a big reputation around the Bay country.

Frank (Kid) Dupree, trainer of Bud Anderson, is looking for a match with any man of his age. He prefers Billy Manning and will meet Billy, winner take all. The Kid is 52 years old, and as Billy is 54, he says he will give Manning two years or will take two from any other Kid of his age.

Dupree was after Harry Burns for a match, but was told by Harry he was too old. The Kid became very indignant and said he was younger than Manning, and as Manning fought here several years ago and made a good showing, he thought he should be given a chance.

The offer will be put up to Manning later.

PETROSKEY BEATS BENZ.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BUTTE, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sailor Ed Petroskey was given a decision over Leo Benz of Butte at the end of twelve rounds tonight in which the majority of rounds were Petroskey's by a wide margin. Petroskey worked a shift that invariably worked havoc with Benz, and the Butte lad was sent to his knees five times.

At no time did Benz appear to have a chance and the best he could do was to hold his own in five rounds. Benz was a local wonder who has won about twenty battles, fifteen of them by early knockouts.

We Hobnob With Peerage.

WHEN ALMA WHITAKER HAD TEA WITH LIPTON.

Sir Thomas Tells the Golf Editor His Plans for Lifting the Cup and Also Tells Some Real Stories—To Call His Yacht the "Four-Leaved Shamrock"—Has Put Out Some Handsome Souvenirs.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

BESIDES the designer and himself, the only person in the world who has been allowed to see Sir Thomas Lipton's newest yacht now building is Capt. Barneson of San Francisco, an American and a Californian. That is a tremendous honor when one remembers with what tender secrecy the latest embodiment of Sir Thomas's most darling hopes is materializing. The shed in which she is being built is guarded night and day and the little town of Gosport, which houses the treasure, lives for nothing else but the great international race at New York, next September.

"That will show you how I love and trust the Americans," said Sir Thomas as he told us all about it at one of his jolly tea parties in London. And he proceeded to say so many charming things about Americans in general, and Capt. Barneson in particular, that that gentleman's left ear must have burned uncomfortably.

Of course, everybody knows that Sir Thomas Lipton has tried and failed to recover the International cup for Great Britain four times. Four famous Shamrocks have in turn blasted his fondest hopes, but good sportsman that he is he now centers his hopes upon a fifth.

EXPECTS TO WIN.

"And I am going to win the cup this year" he assured us with radiant confidence, "my little four-leaved Shamrock could not fail."

"Shamrock the Fifth" said I just to show I was well informed.

"Yes, but I am going to christen her the Four-leaved Shamrock and her emblem is to be a four-leaved clover in the center of a white flag. That is bound to bring us luck, you know," he said, and, of course, you can see for yourself it makes all the difference.

And this little Four-leaved Shamrock is the darling of Sir Thomas's heart. Whether he is influencing the British government to change their policy with regard to the Panama Exposition, whether he is lending millions to embarrassed nations, whether he is entertaining whole peerages at bachelor parties, or whether he is excogitating the further possibilities of tea, his thoughts are always with the little Four-leaved Shamrock at Gosport.

His Christmas cards are a picture of her as she will appear before she braves the terrors of the Atlantic. For it will be remembered that she must be heavy and strong enough to make that 4000-mile trip, yet light and swift enough to compete with some of the speediest, slimmest, exquisite craft that civilization has ever produced. She will be raced in home waters once or twice before she sets forth on her great journey, and I think the hearts and wishes of most people on both sides of the Atlantic will be with her this year. Sir Thomas deserves to win and I believe America will be as pleased as Great Britain if he succeeds this time.

DAINTY SOUVENIRS.

Sir Thomas is also having some dainty souvenirs of his darling made for his very special lady friends. They take the form of a tiny gold flag with the daintiest green enamel four-leaved clover in the center, made into a brooch. I am to be excused if I brag that I am the first to receive one of them. Sir Thomas gave it to me at his tea party and told the other ladies present that no more would be forthcoming until September.

He is a delightful host, that charming Irish Sir Thomas. He told us a fund of stories, mostly about the yachts, of course.

"Did ye hear about that riddle a New Yorker is making about me. It goes like this. Why does Sir Thomas always drink his tea out of a saucer? (Filthy libel. I haven't done it for years!) Because he can't lift the cup, that's the answer."

Lady Clancarty was one of the ladies present at the party and she started to tell us about her baby boy, age 2. (She is, you know, the Earl's second countess and an extremely pretty person, about 24. Her stepson is 22.) So Sir Thomas asked us if we had heard about the Lipton babies.

LIPTON BABIES.

"Lipton babies!" we murmured, and did hope it was going to be quite proper. I am afraid our international bachelor enjoyed the joke hugely.

"Oh, yes, there are four of them now and will probably be a fifth," he told us.

It appears that the little harbor below New York, where Sir Thomas is wont to dock his Shamrocks, possesses a hotel, whose head waiter rejoices in the name of Murphy. And there is a Mrs. Murphy, a loyal Irish woman, who concentrates patriotism on the yacht race. So intense is her desire that Sir Thomas, God bless him, should win the race and so determined is she to celebrate the event in a fitting manner, that she elected to have her very first heir to the Murphy name and traditions born on the day the first Shamrock entered the little harbor.

We all know the sad disappointment that awaited her, but a son named Shamrock lives to tell the tale. And hopes were duly concentrated upon the next year. On that occasion at the very hour and day upon which Shamrock the Second entered the harbor Mrs. Murphy presented her husband with a little daughter. The head waiter confided in Sir Thomas, a bumper was duly drunk to the little lady and she was endowed with the name of Thomasine. But again fate was against Sir Thomas. Mrs. Murphy is consistent, however, and each succeeding year she has arranged the birth of a little Murphy so that it coincides exactly with the entrance of Sir Thomas's competitor into the harbor. Thomas and Shamrock the Fourth now adorn the family. Sir Thomas is godfather to them all and takes his responsibilities very seriously.

PITIFUL PLEA.

"For God's sake lift the cup this year, Sir Thomas," pleaded Mr. Murphy in an impassioned letter to London, "the cost of living is going up something awful and I can't stand the strain."

Quite so. Hence, the Four-leaved Shamrock. Here's a health to her.

But it is Shamrock the Fourth who will compete in the great race at San Francisco in 1915. That is going to be a great occasion and some merry times promised. Sir Thomas is already giving his invitations for the yachting parties and acceptances are prompt and decisive. He alone will be responsible for bringing half the peerage to the exposition.

"I just love Americans," says Sir Thomas, "and especially Californians. Nothing improves a full-blooded British peer quite so much as a few American friends. That's why I shall bring as many as I can in 1915. Do 'em all the good in the world."

So say all of us.

STANFORD GOSSIP.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Dec. 16.—With eight of last year's veterans back, Stanford's prospects of a winning crew next semester are better than ever before in the annals of Cardinal boating. In addition to the regulars, seven and perhaps eight of the 1916 freshman crew will be out for varsity places. R. F. Duryea, captain of the 1913 varsity, is the only member of that eight who will not be in college.

Is Phil Clover of Pasadena, the captain, two years of active experience are combined with the ability to direct a winning crew. Clover rowed in the Poughkeepsie regatta in 1913, and filled the position of No. 2 in the boat which glided across the line in front of California's shell last April.

Seven juniors are back for their second year at the oars. The list includes: J. S. Jeffers, bow; F. E. Rehm, No. 2; G. R. Haggart, No. 4; G. C. Jacumini, No. 6; I. M. Huisman, No. 7; F. O. Olmstead, stroke, and L. F. Reineman, coxswain. Two substitutes, R. R. Blase and J. C. Branner, must also be reckoned with.

Freshmen, who from present indications will report at the boathouse, are: C. H. Orhme, W. A. Green, C. W. Long, A. J. Oyster, J. C. Wood, R. G. Hamaker and J. H. Goodman.

Owing to the late ending of the Rugby season, and to the holding of the post-season football series, no general fall training was indulged in by the crew candidates, but the men have been keeping a partial training rules throughout the semester, and many individuals have been undergoing daily workouts on the rowing machines.

Twenty-four Stanford Glee Clubbers will, during the Christmas vacation, tour the Northwest, giving twelve concerts, and touching Vancouver as their farthest point north. J. R. Morgan of Los Angeles, and R. Melvin will be the club comics. W. G. Paul will give ragtime selections on the piano, and Dwight Shepardson of Fullerton will interpret the classical composers on the violin.

Plans for an extensive addition to the Lane Hospital of the Stanford Medical School in San Francisco are now complete except for minor details. The building, when complete, will be from five to six stories in height, with accommodations for 150 patients. This will nearly double its present capacity.

A. E. Worthy of Santa Ana, editor of the Quad, announces the completion of an unusually large amount of material for the 1915 annual.

Heads of the college dormitories have been chosen for next semester. A. C. Sandstrom will preside over Encina Club, while Miss Bernice Jameson of Corona will occupy a similar position over Roble Club.

On January 24 the co-eds will give a monster benefit for the Women's Clubhouse, in the shape of a "pre-Panama exposition."

The Stanford Farm is becoming very much up-to-date, for electric clusters are to be installed and the midnight oil will burn no longer on the row.

PLAYERS MUST SUBMIT CONTRACTS TO FULTZ.

Easterly Says He Can't Sign Until Fraternity Gives the Word—Organization Should Benefit Players, but Might Result in Dictatorship—Overall Won't Sign at This Time.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

THE Ballplayers' Fraternity ought to be a good thing for the men in the ranks. But will it?

It is in reality organized to further the welfare of the players or, as some other organizations, to benefit the promoters?

Dave Fultz, who organized the fraternity, was once a player, and has their best interests at heart, but it is a safe bet that Dave isn't in baseball business solely for his health. At last accounts Dave's health didn't need fixin'.

Ted Easterly the other day, in the course of the conversation, told him where he expected to land next season.

"Comiskey told me to stand pat, and that he would keep me with the White Sox," replied Theodore.

"Stand pat?" was the next question.

"Not on your life," twittered Ted, fishing a membership card in the fraternity. "I couldn't sign a contract if I wanted to; that is, until I get it to Dave Fultz."

TED SATISFIED.

Easterly is not a player who annoys his employer. No attempt was made to have him go deeper into the subjects, by-laws, minutes, condition or other ramifications of the fraternity. He seemed fully satisfied that some other man should say whether or not he should sign a contract.

If Easterly's grasp of the situation is correct, and all the players accept it as gracefully as he does, then Mr. Fultz is in a position to be one of the richest bosses in the country. Such power is all right if used right, but it generally is abused. From it is that good comes out of evil. There has been too much abuse of power in organized baseball. Fultz may be planning to fight that combination with the same weapon. He must, of course, on its present basis, could hardly exist without influential organization. It has given rise to some abuses, but these have been in a measure offset by the benefits that have resulted to player and game alike. Players are better treated, given accommodations at better hotels and travel in greater comfort than they did in the old days. In a word, they are better paid. Fultz finds the money ready for him, whereas, before baseball was put on a sound financial basis through organization, the club coffers were frequently bare when they were around for their salaries. Some of the demands made by the fraternity are fair, and will be granted. Others will be turned down. The abuses which could and should be remedied. If this is the aim of the Fraternity, it is to be commended. But if the ultimate object is to create a dictatorship for its promoter, no permanent good can result.

Wants Kingman.

Harry Kingman, former varsity baseman at Pomona College, will receive a contract by Maier and Zobelein. If Kingman accepts, he will be asked to fight it out at first base with "Babe" Borton. Kingman is a fielder, and some bear as collegians go. Hogan stated last week that he will look Kingman over in the Spring. Hap will have to hurry, for at present moment Kingman is in Springfield, Mass., and that is a long trip, even in the Blue Streak Kingman will return to the fold in February.

Declares Himself.

Jack Overall yesterday rose up in meeting, and pronounced any intention of signing with San Francisco—before spring.

Overall's bulletin was promptly Del Howard's presence in Frisco. There was no meeting between the two men. Howard made the trip to see Overall, and Overall, it is reported from Vitalia sooner or later, made no effort to locate Howard.

However, one day means nothing. The San Francisco manager plans to stay for three weeks. But in the fact that Howard is in town Overall deemed it germane to give voice to a few utterances, and in that way forestall any predictions concerning his future.

Overall says that there is no use in anybody tendering him a contract at this time. He would simply send it back.

Overall says that he wants to be left unmolested until March 1, and that in case opportunity comes knocking at the front entrance, he will be in a position to extend the glad glove of welcome. He is looking for a business opening, something like being the owner of a business block—something with a future and rents attached to it.

"If the sort of the business opening for which I am looking does not materialize before next spring, then I may decide to play ball again," said the mushy harrassed pitcher. "But it is no use for Howard or anyone else to talk baseball to me now. I want to be free from any contract until March 1. No doubt, Howard will see me in a few days, but it will be impossible for him to extract any definite promise from me at this time."

Suttle Between Two Fires.

Although worth a couple of million dollars or thereabouts, H. C. Suttle is chiefly known to the people of Los Angeles as Del Howard's father-in-law. Mr. Suttle's exercise in the off-season consists of going out every day and buying an orange grove before breakfast. During the season baseball holds his undivided attention.

It naturally follows that, being linked to the great American amusement in this manner, he is a redhot fan. This frequently leads him into difficulties. The general run of fathers-in-law would cast their allegiance with the teams managed by their respective sons-in-law.

But not so with Mr. Suttle. With him the "home team" is a fetish. During the years that he was a member of the Chicago Board of Trade he worshiped at the shrine of the Cubs. The Cubs could do no wrong.

Then, as a tourist of the Coast, he swung into line behind the Seals. But the instant he decided to locate in Los Angeles he dropped the Seals cold and swore allegiance to the Angels. With him, it is Los Angeles first and San Francisco second. The other clubs can shift for themselves as far as he is concerned.

During a series between the Venice and San Francisco teams Mr. Suttle took occasion to visit the Tiger clubhouse. He wanted to shake the celebrated mitts of Johnny Kane and Roy Brashear, having known both of these parties in the East.

The Seals had taken three straight from the Tigers, and the interior of the Venice clubhouse was slightly horrendous.

"Cheer up, boys, I'm going to be your mascot for the rest of the series," cheerily chirped Mr. Suttle.

And, believe me, he proved to be some mascot. The Tigers didn't do a thing but whale the sap out of the Seals in the next four games. From that day to this Del Howard has looked upon his daddy-in-law with suspicion.

"I didn't really want the Tigers to win, at that," admitted Mr. Suttle yesterday; "I just wanted to cheer the boys up a bit. I'll admit, though, that it did look kind of bad, and I don't really blame Del for getting peeved."

Russell Strikeout Artist.

If "Tex" Russell pitches for the Chicago White Sox next season the way he is pitching for the San Diego team this winter, the Sox will be in imminent peril of winning the pennant.

"Tex" is working in mid-season form. Players coming back from San Diego credit him with having fanned forty-four batters in the last four games — eleven per game, or more than one an inning. Comiskey should nick himself for cable tolls advising Russell not to extend himself except in the pinches. Otherwise "Tex" is liable to turn up next spring with no more arm than a jack rabbit.

San Diego Has Some Team.

U. Gene Doyle, after minutely examining the interior working of the San Diego baseball team, sagely pronounces it the greatest winter aggregation ever assembled under one roof. As this is U. Gene's first winter on the Coast, his opinion isn't worth a tinker's cuss word. However, after perusing the line-up, we are not going to dispute it. San Diego has for catchers, Meyers of the Giants, and Reach, a youngster, who goes to St. Louis next season. Tesreau of the Giants and Russell of the White Sox are the pitchers. Chick Autrey of St. Paul is on first; Pug Bennett on second, Tom Downie of Kansas City, at short, Bill Page of the Angels at third, Mahoney of the Portland Northwestern League team in left, Chadbourne of the Beavers in center, and Baxter of Kansas City in right. This is the bunch against which the Selects were unable to score in eighteen innings, and the Selects are not so slow that you can notice it.

Harry Kingman, who may become a Tiger.

Maier and Hogan are after the former Pomona College star for the Venice Tigers. He will be tendered a contract, and given a chance to fight it out with "Babe" Borton.

At Exposition Park.

HARNESS HORSES MAKE FAST TIME IN WORKOUT.

THE eighteen entries in next Sunday's racing matinee at Exposition Park were out in full force yesterday morning for the first time since the rains of last week.

The pole of the track was still too soft for use and the workouts were confined to a strip twenty-five feet in width near the upper rail. Despite this "long mile" some very fast time was made.

Marie G., owned by J. W. Nickerson, and entered in the 2:14 trot of Sunday, was worked out three fast miles and showed that the few days' rest had not interfered with her form. She stepped the first mile in 3:16 and the last one in 2:09, finishing very strong.

Lady Silverthorn, owned by Thomas Silverthorn, also was out. This beautiful black mare is entered in the free-for-all pace of Sunday and will clash with Little Bernice, the famous filly owned by Sam Watkins. Lady Silverthorn was in wonderful form and, although she was pulled up before reaching the wire, thus making it impossible for the rail birds to clock her, she was moving very easy and it looked as though she would give the famous Bernice the race of her life. Then there was Dolly Zombro, the wonderful mare of W. W. Whitney of Pasadena. This beautiful animal also is entered in the free-for-all, and she flashed over quarters and halves in perfect form.

The free-for-all event and the 2:14 trot are dividing honors as to their importance in the minds of the horsemen. The former is admitted to be the fastest matinee match ever staged in the State and the latter will bring out one of the closest contests ever offered here. Escabado, owned by E. J. Delorey; Goldenut, owned by J. W. McClellan, and Marie G., owned by J. W. Nickerson,, are the three most prominent contestants and they have met heretofore and have divided honors equally, the finishes always having been of the hair-line quality.

The track will be in excellent condition by Sunday, providing there is no more rain, and one of the best cards ever offered by the Los Angeles Driving Club will be staged.

HIGH SCHOOL PREPARING FOR BIG TRACK SEASON.

MANUAL ARTS HIGH is preparing for the best track season that the school has yet had. For the past two years the artisans have been going great guns and from present indications it looks as though they will continue to do so. The students are taking up athletic activities with much enthusiasm. At present they have several men to choose from for each event.

L. A. High and Poly are working hard at basketball. Featherstone of L. A. and Haslett of Poly are devoting their time to this line of sport and as there is keen rivalry between the two schools, an exciting match is expected this year.

Last season when the two teams met there was considerable discussion as to who won. The score was a tie until the last minute of play, when Poly scored a basket. The Cliffdwellers claimed that time had been called, but the protest was ignored and Poly won the contest. This year the L. A. team is showing great promise and they are confident that they will wipe out last year's defeat.

It looks as though the coming baseball season will be very successful. All the high schools have good teams. In the past but little interest has been shown, but it is hoped that on account of the class that is being developed that the games will be well attended.

GOLF GOSSIP.

BY BONNIE GLESSNER.

Those who were fortunate enough to witness the match between Jack Neville, the Pacific Coast golf champion; E. S. Armstrong, the leading amateur of Southern California; W. K. Jewett and A. A. French, the crack players of the Annandale and Midwick Country Clubs, over the Annandale course yesterday afternoon, say the game was the best demonstration of just how good golf should be played, that has ever been given over the Annandale links.

Neville and Armstrong won the game, but Jewett and French gave them a splendid run for their match. The best score for the foursome was the one turned in by Armstrong, who made the course in 69.

Frank D. Tatum and W. D. Card won their match yesterday from E. M. Mackay and A. S. Ormsby, 3 and 2, thereby completing the semi-finals of the December tournament, which has been in progress since the first of the month. The finals of this tournament will be played Saturday afternoon between Tatum and Card vs. R. C. Garis and W. K. Jewett.

Keen interest is being displayed by the golfers of the Virginia Country Club, in the choice score tournament, which began December 6 and will continue until January 3.

The best score is to be chosen from ten games played during the designated time. The best choice score, to be decided by the best eighteen holes sleected from the ten cards.

A handsome cup has been offered as the first prize, a box of a dozen golf balls as the second prize and a half-dozen golf balls the third prize. The following are the players entered and their scores:

PORTERVILLE TEAM SNEERS.

Pomona Hasn't Yet Won the State Title.

Central League Champions Would Play.

Have Challenged Pomona for a Game.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

PORTERVILLE, Dec. 16.—Calm assurance with which Pomona High School and Palo Alto High played Rugby this week for the "State championship" has excited something of interest among the teams of the Central California Amateur League, to say nothing of wonder as to the means whereby the "State championship" was figured. To acquaint the winners of the title with the fact that there is a Central California League, as well as associations in Northern and Southern California, the Porterville High School Athletic Association met this evening to formulate to Pomona a telegraphic challenge for a game to be played either in Pomona or in Porterville—as the "champions" decree.

It was stated at the student body gathering that Pomona might be pardoned for a claim on the State title without consideration of the Central California schools, but Palo Alto, having won over Porterville for the past two years only by the smallest of scores and hardest of games, should know better.

That Porterville is entitled to at least a slight consideration is shown by the fact that when choice was made of the all-star Northern California team to play in Palo Alto Christmas, Porterville was represented in the original line-up by three of the fifteen men.

An effort will be made to get Pomona to come to Porterville for a game New Year's Day for a guarantee of expenses, with a possible option of percentage on gate receipts.

BOWLING SCORES.

Matches played this week between the Goodwin Cafe team and Mecca Cafe, in the Southern California championship tournament, on the Ocean Park alleys, resulted seven to four in favor of the Goodwins.

The winners took two games to one in the five-man contest; two to one in the doubles, and three straight in the singles. Jackson and Gilman won against Young and Alonzo, in the doubles, and Jenkins beat Bowes in the singles.

On the Venice alleys, the Fanjoy team won three straight from Venice in the Interurban League tourney.

Mrs. A. E. Cowger of St. Louis, who won the woman's championship in the American Bowling Congress at Cincinnati, has just arrived in town, with the intention of passing the winter here, and incidentally participating in local bowling affairs. Her presence is looked upon as a decided aquisition to athletic ranks.

A tournament for the woman's championship of Southern California is announced by the managers of the Majestic and Ocean Park drives, to commence next week.

An emblem of the title is to be given by the managers, which is to be subject to the usual conditions of challenge.

Each contestant must meet every opponent twice, on the "home and home" principle.

Ocean Park is considered to have four likely entrants: Mrs. Pryor, Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Lauhon.

Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Todd, Mrs. Cowger, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Lapham are named by many bowlers as practically certain to compete from the Majestic.

OWEN BIRD'S COLUMN OF VARSITY COMMENT.

Pomona to Have Big Year in Baseball and Track—Huns Hope to Renew Relations with U.S.C.—Very Friendly Feeling Expressed Toward the Trojans—La Follette Makes It Three Straight in Pomona Cross-Country Run—Johnson Surprises at Oxy—Trojan Novices Meet Today—U.S.C. Football Season a Success.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

POMONA is to be very much in the sport arena during the remainder of the intercollegiate year. Athletic Manager Howard Hankey stated yesterday that besides the usual amount of interest and effort to be spent in track and field, college baseball would be featured by Pomona this season.

Another very important thing was brought out in the course of the conversation, when it was discovered that the Pomona management and the Pomona students were more than anxious to renew relations with U.S.C. in track and baseball:

"We will do all in our power to arrange a dual meet with the Trojans on our field some time in March," said Hankey yesterday. "We have long felt the want of competition with the university and the students of Pomona are sorry that such relations were ever dropped, as U.S.C. is considered in a very friendly light up here."

Rah Now in Order.

Personally I am overjoyed to hear this, as Pomona-U.S.C. meets or games of any sort are easily star attractions and it is too bad that the two institutions cannot get together in football as well as in the other lines of sport; but this cannot be, fate has ruled otherwise.

When the matter of a general southern track meet was brought up Hankey said that he would be in favor of holding one of the old-time conference meets, instead of allowing U.S.C. to meet a combined team from the rest of the southern colleges. As Occidental feels much the same way, it looks as though, should this meet be scheduled, we would have a revival of the "good old days" when the entire south met and fought for leader supremacy. There was "giants in those times."

Plans to Feature Baseball.

But to return to Pomona's big year. The track and baseball teams are to make a northern trip for games with Stanford and California during the Easter vacation, and the California baseball team is to be brought south for a three-game series with Pomona at Claremont.

Further than this, an effort is to be made to re-establish the old conference baseball league. At any rate, Pomona hopes to be able to schedule games with the U.S.C. varsity this year, so that a real diamond college title of Southern California can be won or lost this spring, instead of leaving the matter to the critics for settlement.

College Ball Worth Notice.

College baseball, as a sport, has never received the proper amount of attention in the South and when we consider that men like Eddie Collins, Christy Mathewson, "Boomy" Overall and countless others came from the collegiate ranks, it does seem as if the game would be well worth the "once over" on the part of the fans, who so loyally support all other lines of college athletics.

La Follette Wins Again.

Yesterday the last cross-country run was staged at Pomona, this long-legged young gent, La Follette, by name, running true to form and winning his third straight heat, running the three and three-quarters miles in the fast time of 22 minutes and 50 seconds. He looks like another "Pomona long-distance find," and you all know what that means. The rest of the place men in the race were freshmen and came over the line as follows: Gerry, Waldon, Oeutt, Humphrey, Ingham, Hyatt, Kinney, Chamberlin, Stafford and Sugg. All ran in good form and finished with nice sprints.

Johnny Cook and Charlie Johnson were the two finds of the Oxy relay tryouts yesterday. Everybody knew that Cook was a going kid, but few realized that Charles was a sprinter of ability, but he is. Further tests are to be made before the team is selected for the Tournament of Roses meet.

• •

Trojan Track Turmoil.

This afternoon there should be much struggle on Bovard Field, in view of the fact that the novice interclass meet is to be staged. The coaches are looking for new material and expect to make several finds before the day is over.

• •

Hun Football Men Honored.

The annual football banquet was held last night for the Pomona varsity men. Nine monograms were granted this season and are as follows: Henderson, McCullough, Greeley, Cogswell, Youngman, Clary, Wolcott and Brennen.

U.S.C. Season Voted a Success.

The recent football season was reviewed at the meeting of the U.S.C. athletic board of control last night. It was found that the Rugby season had been a financial success this year and that there would be a surplus of a little over $1000 with which to start track work.

The work of Coach Pat Higgins was officially approved and his services are to be retained for next year. Trainer Lewis also came in for some keen commendation and will also be retained.

Baseball was put in the hands of the Law School, but the players from the rest of the departments of the university are to have a chance for the varsity team.

The plans for the new bleachers and field improvements were approved and work is to commence at an early date on new bleachers which are to have a seating capacity of 7000.

STANFORD GOSSIP.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Dec. 14.—Stanford's streets are deserted and a silence has fallen over the college community. The athlete is forgotten and the grind seems the man of the hour. Explanation—final exams.

Stanford will begin baseball practice after Christmas with five veterans. Second base, catcher, and right and center field will have to be occupied by new men. Capt. Zeb Terry will be on hand for his fourth season at short, while Art Halm, left field, will start his third year. Tom Workman, first; R. C. Maple, pitcher, and Pete McCloskey, third, will all be veterans for the first time. Two substitutes of last year's team, A. S. Hayes, pitcher, and D. M. Day, fielder, are both expected to report for play.

The Cardinal stands a good chance of downing California, Santa Clara, and St. Mary's, if Maple can pitch as well as he did last season, and if Halm performs in the box as well as he did on the summer's trip to the Orient.

Besides the regulars, an infusion of baseball ability of varsity caliber is expected from the ranks of the Peanut League, which has brought out much good material during the fall practice.

At California, where fall training has been conducted regularly under the direction of Capt. Rubke, practice will also begin with a number of veteran players in the ranks.

Ed Murray won the university tennis singles championship for a second time, when he defeated H. L. Hahn, 8-6, 6-2, 8-2, both contestants playing at scratch. The winner receives his class numeral and retains the title for one year.

Stanford women tennis and basketball players will visit Southern California during the spring vacation, the ban on off-campus athletic relations having been removed by the Advisory Committee. However, the removal of this ban does not mean that the former basketball game with California, which was an annual event, will be resumed.

The tennis team for the southern trip will be composed of a captain and two representatives of the Tennis Club, and will be accompanied by a manager and chaperon. The team will either participate in the Ojai tournament or meet U.S.C. at Los Angeles.

The basketball team hopes to conclude arrangements for matches with Occidental, U.S.C., and Pomona. Nine players will make the trip.

Stanford women will meet those of California in the annual tennis doubles and singles on the morning of the intercollegiate track meet.

The intercollegiate women's fencing tournament will be held on the morning of the track meet next spring, and will be governed by the rules of the Amateur Fencing League of America. Misses Mary Gard of Glendora, and Evelyn Trent and Frances Odell of Los Angeles, are the Cardinal's only veterans of intercollegiate fencing contests. The five members of the Stanford women's fencing team, who compete against the Berkeley co-eds next semester, will be awarded new fencing jackets.

Emil F. Hollmann, who graduated from Stanford in 1911, and who is at present a medical student, has qualified in the Rhodes scholarship examinations, and has been instructed to report at Oxford, Eng., in October, to commence the fall semester. His membership in college organizations includes Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Delta Kappa, the education fraternity and Nu Sigma Nu, medical fraternity. Hollmann is the third man to represent Stanford under the terms of the Rhodes foundation, the others being H. A. Morgan and H. R. Holz.

At the present time the holders of the Oxford scholarships include three students from the University of California, one from Pomona, and one from St. Ignatius.

Under the conditions of Cecil Rhodes's plan, the United States and each British colony, including Canada, South Africa and Australia have their quota of representatives at the English university. Two scholars from each State are eligible to study at Oxford, each holding a scholarship of $1500 per annum for three years.

A Good Move.

HIGH SCHOOLS ARE TO UNITE.

NORTH AND SOUTH WOULD FORM ASSOCIATION.

Movement Started After Pomona-Palo Alto Game to Form a Single Governing Body for Entire State. Officials Will Meet Today and Statement Will Be Drawn Up.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

POMONA, Dec. 17.—Following the great Rugby game between the High Schools of this city and Palo Alto, which was won by Pomona, steps are being taken to amalgamate the northern and southern parts of the State in interscholastic athletics, thereby providing for one central governing body for the entire State, rather than one for each half of the State. Those in charge of school athletics in the north and south both favor such an organization, as it will serve to drive out the free lance teams, forcing them to affiliate with some recognized association governed by regulations placing the team members on a fair playing basis.

Vice-Principal Oliver of the Los Angeles High School and president of the Southern California Athletic Conference, County Superintendent Mark Keppel of Los Angeles, Principal H. P. Reynolds of the local High School and Principal J. C. Templeton of the Palo Alto High School, representing President Mercer of the Amateur Athletic League, the interscholastic governing body in Northern California, have met and talked over preliminary arrangements for the proposed amalgamation, and another meeting will be held in Los Angeles on Thursday, when a formal communication in writing will be addressed to the northern league covering the entire proposition and seeking the co-operation of the northern schools, where regulations governing eligibility of competitors is not so strict.

PARK HURT, GAME IS POSTPONED.

Owing to the fact that Edgar Park, No. 1 on the Santa Barbara polo team in the Christmas intercity tournament which begins at Tournament Park, Pasadena, Saturday afternoon, strained a ligament in his left leg yesterday during a practice game, Santa Barbara's first game will be played Monday instead of Saturday as first arranged. The opening game Saturday will be played between the Pasadena and Midwick teams. Santa Barbara and Pasadena will play their game Monday, December 29.

The big field at Tournament Park is in splendid condition and the opening game will be a fast one. The game will be called promptly at 2 o'clock.

Ed. R. Maier's Select Kids are out to conquer the Imperial Valley. They are endeavoring to arrange a five-game series to be played in that section. They want to play one game with each of the four teams in the Casaba League, and then wind up the series with a game against an all-star team picked from that organization. This is the first team that I ever knew which hankered to beat an entire league—first, on the installment plan, and then collectively.

CAMPUS CHATTER.

Matinee dances and breakfast "hops" are now in vogue at the University of Michigan.

The University of Illinois is building a mammoth convention hall, which will seat 11,000. The cadet regiment will use it as an armory, and it will shelter an indoor gridiron and diamond.

HAP HOGAN WILL TRY TO PLAY GOLF.

Hap Hogan has at last fallen for the highbrow stuff, and will turn to the golf.

Soon after Christmas he will endeavor to master the game on the links of the San Gabriel Country Club under the tutelage of Bert Eling. Hap has already ordered his tweeds, and is endeavoring to create a thirst for Scotch highballs. Haps says that if after the first lesson he can't beat such "bushers" as Mathewson, Van Loan and Dillon, he'll be convinced that golf isn't his forte.

COLUMBIA SMOKER ON FOR TONIGHT.

The final smoker of the year 1913 for members of the Columbia Athletic Club and their friends will be staged at Jack Doyle's training camp at Vernon tonight. Sixteen amateur boxers have been paired off for eight bouts of four rounds each, the first bout to be staged at 8:15 p.m.

Following is the card: Joe Acuna vs. Tommy Dody, 118 pounds; Danny Nolan vs. Dick Brenton (for the fly weight championship;) Al Torres vs. Soldier Wilson, 160 pounds; Jesse Rado vs. Danny Sullivan, 105 pounds; Solly Comas vs. Joe Williams, 138 pounds; Charlie Kenniston vs. Mickey O'Shea, 116 pounds; Montana Kid vs. Louis Rees, exhibition four rounds. Main event, Joe White, San Gabriel Athletic Club, 122 pounds, against Eddy Gary Columbia Athletic Club, 122 pounds.

BAN JOHNSON TO MEET THE TOURISTS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—President Ban B. Johnson of the American League and a party of Chicago baseball enthusiasts, will travel to New York on a special train next March to welcome back to this countiry the world-touring Chicago White Sox and New York Giants, according to plans announced today.

The party will leave here on March 5, arriving in New York the next day in time to meet the tourists on their arrival.

The Polytechnic C. C. of London recently held its twenty-first anniversary dinner, when W. J. Miller, the world's amateur bicycle champion, was presented with a specially-struck gold medal as a memento of his victory of the world's championship in Berlin. It is interesting to learn that no fewer than twenty-one championships were won this year by the club and that the total prizes won since the club was formed exceed £600. W. R. Applegarth, the best of the present-day English sprinters, is a member of the Polytechnics.

The world's champion athletic baseball team of Philadelphia will erect a new flagpole at Shibe Park. It will be made of steel, 100 feet long, and will cost $1100. On special days the pole will be decorated with the flags won in the world's championship series. In 1910 against the Chicago club of the National League and with the New York Giants in 1911 and 1913, and the American League pennant flags won in 1902, 1905, 1910, 1911 and 1913. These eight flags will help demonstrate the great pulling ability of this year's great team over those of other years.

Hair-Bryant Wedding.

One of the daintiest brides of the season is Mrs. Gordon Hair, whose wedding last evening was one of the most interesting. The young woman, who, before the service, was Miss Jessie Bryant, plighted her troth at a quiet home wedding solemnized in the presence of sixty relatives and close friends only. The rooms were beautified with quantities of the palest of pink carnations, which were combined in a handsome scheme with delicate maidenhair. The lines were said in the Inglenook, which was transformed into a lovely bower with the ferns and blossoms. Little Lorraine Brooks and Miss Virginia Middaugh, in dainty lingerie frocks, held huge baskets attached to streamers, which formed an aisle through which the bride passed on the arm of her father, C. E. Bryant. The bridal gown was an exquisite creation of white charmeuse with trimmings of Duchesse lace and pearls. This pretty arrangement was completed with a shower of white Killarneys. A buffet supper followed the ceremony and immediately after Mr. Hair and his bride stole away. After January 1 they will be at home to friends in a cosy bungalow in South Pasadena.

To Leave.

Sailing February 11, under the direction of D. F. Robertson of this city, the following Angelenos will see Honolulu: Mr. and Mrs. James Corbin, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Harris, Miss Agnes Waters, Dr. and Mrs. Walter McLaren, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wood, and Miss Emma Dawson.

On arrival at Honolulu they will proceed to Hilo, visiting the volcano, returning to Honolulu for the mid-winter carnival, returning to San Francisco on the same steamer.

Musical Tea.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Linne, formerly of New York City, but more recently of San Francisco, who have come to Los Angeles to reside, were the complimented guests at a musical tea given by Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Hardy, at their home, No. 339 Wilton place. A cut glass vase filled with the deep red and white chrysanthemums centered the long table, and favors were red baskets filled with salted nuts. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Linne, Mr. and Mrs. Hardy, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dryfus, Mr. and Mrs. Revel English, Mrs. Jessie Cairns Shoebottom, Miss Lois Cook and Wayland Trask. Following the tea a musical programme was presented by Mrs. Estelle Heart Dryfus, Roland Paul and Revel English; Hans Linne, who played some of his own compositions, and Miss Lois Cook.

"STOP THIEF" AT MASON

"Littlest Rebel" Burbank's Next Attraction.

Attractive Programmes Slated for "Movies."

A brisk, merry and well-wrought farce is "Stop Thief," Cohan and Harris's newest offering. The piece is a legitimate successor of "Officer 666," and like that popular play "Stop Thief" has its interest centering around a clever thief, but in this instance the action is wholly farcical, and if there are any serious moments they have escaped notice.

The fun begins early and lasts, without a break, to the final curtain when the law is again outwitted. There is a triple twist in the story of "Stop Thief," which adds much to its joys as sheer entertainment. It is a humorous excursion into kleptomania.

The piece is acted by a company of unusual strength and includes such expert farceurs as Albert Tavernier, Sydney Stone, Elmer Booth, Hall Merdaunt, John McCabe, John McNamee, Henry Hubbard, Sydney Mason, Misses June Keith, Vera Martin, Gladys Wilcox, Laura Walker, Marie Vaughn, Emma Campbell and Rose Braham. If you are looking for an evening's entertainment, one of real laughter and a thrill or two thrown in on the side, the performance of "Stop Thief" is not to be missed.

The engagement of "Stop Thief" is for one week, beginning Monday evening, December 22, which includes matinees Wednesday and Saturday and an additional holiday matinee Xmas Day.

Burbank.

One of the most extraordinary productions that the Burbank Theater has known in several seasons will be next Sunday afternoon, when Oliver Morosco will offer for the first time by any stock company, Edward Peple's successful drama, "The Littlest Rebel."

It will readily be recalled that Dustin and William Farnum scored an unusual success in this piece two seasons ago and have since toured in it throughout America as one of the biggest dramatic successes of the past five years.

"The Littlest Rebel" is a war-time story of uncommonly interesting incidents—big human thrilling incidents and situations, possessing a genuine heart interest that has not been found in a play since "The Girl of the Golden West." Exciting situations crowd close upon each other in "The Littlest Rebel" while the war interest ran high from the first curtain to the last.

This play is especially well suited for the Burbank players, while the big Burbank stage allows splendid chances for the biggest scenic production that has been seen on the Burbank stage since "The Girl of the Golden West."

Its presentation will mark the reappearance of Harrison Hunter, who has not been seen on the local stage in five weeks, and will find him cast in the fine role of Capt. Herbert Carey, a Confederate scout, created and played with so much success by William Farnum, while Forrest Stanley will have one of his biggest opportunities as Lieut.-Col. Morrison of the United States army, the part created and played by Dustin Farnum.

Orpheum.

For its Christmas week bill, beginning next Monday, the Orpheum announces the first presentation here of Mlle. Dazie, the greatest of America's premier danseuses and pantomimists, in "Pantaloon," especially written for her, and the Orpheum by Sir James M. Barrie, author of "Peter Pan." This is a whimsical pantomime, detailing the loves of Columbine for Harlequin; the desire of Pantaloon, her father, for her to wed Clown, the adventures of them all with the policeman and the child, and the final outcome of everything. Barrie calls it "a plea for an ancient family," and has made of it a typically English Christmas play, such as have held sway in merry England at Yuletide since history goeth back.

As Columbine, Mlle. Dazie is so clever, elfinlike and eerie that she seems scarce human; her beauty and her skill are at their best in this perfect vehicle, and it is assuredly a treat to be able to present it at just this particular season, when all over England similar doings are had, quite in consonance with the Christmas spirit. Stuart Barnes, whose lugubrious and mobile face is his fortune, comes back to sing of the lovelorn youth with his first "girl," and Mabelle Lewis, very popular singly, and Paul McCarty, equally well known, now doubled into one team, are certain to be hailed as capital entertainers of the best type.

There will, of course, be another week of popular Harry Fox and Yancsi Dolly, and also of the Cuttys, Genaro and Bailey, George Holland and company, and the lively Collegians. The music next week will be an especial Christmas feature, including the noted Haydn, "Toy Symphony" for children, and a collection of Christmas hymns, carols and glees especially arranged for the occasion.

Majestic.

"Little Women," which has captured Los Angeles hard by making the biggest and cleanest hit recorded here in years, is announced for another week at the Majestic Theater, and will be the Christmas attraction at that playhouse. "Little Women" is essentially an American play, redolent of the soil, and appeals strongly to those who admire and respect the rugged virtues. It is of a class of productions which have more than ephemeral vogue, inasmuch as it illustrates comprehensible types of humanity, which compel admiration and a degree of interest which the more sensational and envied heroes of stagedom cannot evoke. It plays its part in uplifting the drama to better things, its tone is clear and it develops the better side of mankind. The success of "Little Women"—and it is an unquestioned success—is wholly due to its naturalness, it is so true to life that it doesn't seem like a play.

"Little Women" is uplifting and ennobling and teaches the gentle, edifying and beautiful truths which draw heaven and earth nearer and illustrates the lesson of love and sincerity, and this result is reached not through dreary solemnity, but amid scenes of wholesome and honest laughter, while the current of the story stirs thoughts, "that are too deep for tears."

William A. Brady had provided an exceptionally strong company and those who care for the best the modern stage has to offer will make no mistake in going to the Majestic Theater, if only for the purpose of seeing this admirable aggregation of players. Extra matinees will be given today and tomorrow.

Morosco.

G. M. Anderson and J. J. Rosenthal certainly had the right idea when they were hit by the bright thought that the American theater-going public were not yet tired of the theater and that they did like to go when they got their money's worth.

As Mr. Rosenthal explained it, anybody will buy a bargain, whether it be theatricals or merchandise, and with the "Candy Shop" these managers have surely provided a bargain that the public seems eager to buy.

Since the opening of William Rock Maud Fulton and their big singing and dancing company at the Morosco Theater last Monday night, the box office has been unable to supply the demand for seats, in spite of the fact that this is notoriously the worst season of the theatrical year, and with each succeeding day this demand seems to increase until it has become merely a matter of wondering at just what hour the entire house will be sold out.

Empress.

The current bill at the Empress Theater, headed by two splendid feature acts, Roland West's players in "Behind the Footlights" and the "Five Old Veteran Boys in Blue," is proving one of the most popular that has ever been seen on the Empress stage and capacity audiences are the rule at every performance. No more interesting or attractive act than the "Veteran Boys in Blue" has been seen in vaudeville in many a day and they are attracting unusual attention from the theatergoers and vaudeville lovers as well.

Coming to the Empress next Monday afternoon is a brand new bill of seven fine acts, that promises to be well up to the high standard of the S. & C. bills. This new programme will be headed by no other than Joe Maxwell's big company, presenting their lively comedy hit called "Louie's Christmas." This act has proved a strong drawing attraction throughout the popular-priced vaudeville houses of the East and comes with an exceptional reputation as a fun maker of genuine merit.

The second feature of the new bill will be the famous Edna Aug, one of the best-known and most gifted stars of the American stage, who brings to the Empress her newest creation, "Folks is Folks." Miss Aug is one of the highest-salaried stars on the vaudeville stage and her appearance on the new bill should attract unusual attention.

"The Three Dancing Mars" are also among the newcomers, with their clever dancing fantasy, "All for a Kiss," one of the most novel and unique acts that has been seen on the variety stage in recent years; while Leo Beers, with his new songs and piano selections, is also among the coming attractions. Others to be seen on the new programme will be Houghton, Morris and Houghton, with their sensational exploits on real motorcycles, one of the most thrilling acts of today in the show world; Adele Lowe and company, in her daring one-act novelty, "The Cafe de la Parisienne," and the new Keystone comedy films.

There will be five complete shows given at the Empress Theater on Christmas Day, there being two matinee performances and three full night shows.

Edna Aug,

Pantages.

The producing department of the Pantages circuit promises a big comedy feature for next week's programme here. "Inn Laughland" is the title, and seems to indicate a sort of Hotel de Joie. Bothwell Brown has turned out a series of clever scenic and dancing productions since he took charge of the department for Mr. Pantages, but this is his first comedy effort.

Of one thing we can be reasonably certain—the chorus girls will be pretty and the costumes will be the limit of the Parisian mode. Alexander Kaminsky, a Russian violinist recently discovered by the Pantages European agency, will be the artistic feature of the week. Kaminsky is unknown here, as his Pantages engagement is his introduction to American audiences.

Hippodrome.

The attractions announced for next week at the Hippodrome indicate that the bill will be of more than ordinary worth. Heading it will be that dean of the stage, McKee Rankin, one of the most successful actors of the day and supporting him will be no less a personage than Isabelle Evanson, who has already scored more than one great hit in this city. They will present "Mother Love," a particularly strong sketch.

Others on the new bill will be the Waterbury Bros. & Tenny in their droll musical burlesque; Hall & Mensies as "the dude and the talkative lady;" Abra & Johns in a brand new playlet; Amourette, the Parisian songbird, and the Holts, two pretty girls, who are A1 on the high wire.

In addition there will be another cat not yet announced and three new motion picture plays of Hippodrome quality.

Woodley Theater.

For the balance of the week a famous new Keystone comedy and a really intense and pathetic photo-drama vie with one another for first place, and C. Percival Garrett will change his organ repertoire to suit occasion.

Sothern-Marlowe Repertoire.

Arranging the repertoire for a Shakespearean organization like Sothern and Marlowe requires a very considerable expert experience. Several important matters must be taken into account, such as the taste of the community for certain plays; what plays, if any, were presented by any other company in recent time, and in the repertoire of the Sothern and Marlowe company during previous engagements.

There is nothing which kills the drawing power of a Shakespearean play so thoroughly as a bad performance by a barn-storming company. In many of the smaller cities, as a result, "Taming of the Shrew" is thought to be a most doleful comedy, and "Hamlet" a play, which it is advisable under any and all considerations to avoid as you might a plague. It will be seen, then, that an inferior Shakespearean company roaming around the country can do a fearful amount of damage; can cause the bard to spell ruin for other and capable companies.

In the Sothern and Marlowe repertoire there is a wide variety of entertainment. For the present season they are offering two tragedies—"Hamlet" and "Romeo and Juliet;" five comedies, "Taming of the Shrew," "As You Like It," "Twelfth Night," "Much Ado About Nothing" and "The Merchant of Venice"—as well as Justin Huntley McCarthy's romantic play, "If I Were King." This latter play, by the way, is always given at the Wednesday matinee and as Miss Marlowe appears in the Shakespearean plays only, she is not seen in Mr. McCarthy's drama.

Mantell Coming.

"King John," a decided Shakespearean novelty in this season of numerous Shakespearean revivals, will be the feature of the New Year's week engagement of Robert B. Mantell at the Majestic Theater. Mr. Mantell will open his engagement with this historical tragedy, and will repeat it Friday night and Saturday afternoon. Modjeska toured the country as Lady Constance; has "King John" been seen on the American stage.

In that revival, the role of John was greatly subordinated. In the memory of the present generation, "King John" has not been presented in this country by a male star. Charles Kean was the last to play the big role in a big manner, and before him Junius Brutus Booth gave a great performance of the part. The role of John offers difficulties similar to those of "King Lear," which no modern tragedian except Mr. Mantell has dared attempt. Mr. Mantell's success as Lear convinced his manager, William A. Brady, that here was the one star for the part, and Mr. Mantell's success this season from coast to coast in interpreting the red-bearded tyrant has justified Mr. Brady's estimate of his worthiness to undertake it.

In addition to "King John," Mr. Mantell will present during the course of the week at the Majestic, "Hamlet," Tuesday night; "The Merchant of Venice," Wednesday afternoon; "Macbeth," Wednesday night; Sir Edward Bulwer-Lytton's "Richelieu," at the special New Year's matinee; "King Lear," Thursday night; and "Richard III," Saturday night.

Tally's Broadway.

The Famous Players' Film Company will present at Tally's Broadway Theater next week "The Port of Doom," the first marine detective drama ever filmed. A thrilling mystery of the sea, featuring Laura Sawyer in her role of Kate Kirby, detective, its realism goes beyond the conventional thrill, and actually agitains the shudder. It presents something new in pictorial faithfulness to the original, and its sea effects, with the doomed vessel sinking beneath the waves is a spectacle never to be forgotten.

Clune's.

As a special week-end programme Clune's Broadway Theater will offer for Thursday, Friday and Saturday and Sunday, two headliners, "Love's Sunset" and "Beyond All Law." Both are Vitagraph dramas with lots of punch and heart interest. A new Pathe weekly and a diversified bill of single reels will be shown in conjunction with the two headlines.

OXNARD.

OXNARD, Dec. 17.—Cancellation of many orders by brokers on account of inability of local walnut growers to furnish nuts in time for holiday trade, will cause many growers in this section to hold their nuts for the spring trade. Bleaching is not yet finished at the local warehouse, this delay being due to the difficulty experienced in handling the burned nuts. Nine or ten carloads has been the output of the local warehouse this year.

POLICEMEN INFREQUENT.

"More Taxes," Answer Says Chief of Police.

Lamanda Park Residents Want Lighting System.

PASADENA, Dec. 18.—Residents of the fashionable Oak Knoll district, where a meeting was held at the new Hotel Huntington only last Saturday to celebrate the completion of street-improvement work representing many thousands of dollars, object to having the suburb turned into a hunting ground. Bullets fly through the air to nobody knows where. One dog is already disabled.

The trouble started several days ago when a covey of quail was discovered there. The birds took refuge in flower beds and among the trees and shrubbery of the homes on the farther side of the arroyo that runs through the district, and a horde of small boys armed with .22-caliber rifles were soon in pursuit of them.

The bullets whistled in every direction and in a short time not one of the quail remained. A valuable Airedale dog belonging to Torrey Everett of No. 1221 Arden road, stopped one of them. Others threatened to break windows and strike residents of the neighborhood.

Everett appealed to Chief of Police McIntyre yesterday to put an end to the practice of hunting in Oak Knoll.

For a long time there has been considerable dissatisfaction in Oak Knoll over the shooting of ducks on the lake in Huntington Park. This lake is without the city limits and consequently the police of Pasadena can do nothing. Complaints are made that the lake is visited on moonlight nights by poachers, who regale themselves by popping away at the ducks and keeping near-by residents awake.

Chief of Police McIntyre was present at the meeting of the Improvement Association Saturday and in response to complaints that there are not enough policemen in the district, declared he was doing the best he could with the men available, and that Oak Knoll residents were lucky if a policeman should pass by each house there once in a night. He said there was no solution to the difficulty except that the people consent to pay more taxes so that the city can allow him the men he needs.

The following new officers of the Oak Knoll Improvement Association have been elected: President, J. H. Freeman; vice-president, E. H. Green, and secretary and treasurer, W. H. Murphy.

WANT MORE LIGHTS.

Residents of Lamanda Park have determined to hold an election to vote on whether or not that district shall be improved with the installation of a lighting system that shall make the streets there as attractive at night as any of those of Pasadena. The election is called for the 27th inst. It is the plan to install the lights at distances of 200 feet along the following route. Allen avenue to the west line of the Chapman ranch; San Pasqual street to Villa street, east to Santa Anita, south to the Sierra Madre road, and thence east to the Chapman line.

The mass meeting will be held at the Lamanda Park Methodist Church next Friday night for discussion of the project.

GREAT PROGRESS MADE.

City Engineer Smith yesterday made public figures that he recently compiled bearing on the amount of street improvements that Pasadena has made in the last year.

According to this report the city now has 122.85 miles of paved streets, and but 33.15 miles of streets that are not paved. Since July 1, 1913, the city has accepted from contractors 7.6 miles of paving of the asphalt, concrete, macadam and sheet asphalt kinds. Extensive street improvement work, aside from paving, has also been done.

PRETTY LUNCHEON IS GIVEN.

Quite the most elaborate luncheon of the early winter season was that given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Robert Flint of No. 1000 South Madison avenue, at the Midwick Club, when covers were laid for thirty matrons of the Los Angeles and Pasadena smart sets. The affair was given in honor of the hostess' mother, Mrs. James Gray, who recently arrived from Paris and is spending the winter here. The guests were seated at one long table, which was beautifully decorated with low baskets filled with long-stemmed pink roses, placed at intervals the entire length of the board. Pink tulle butterfly bows added a dainty touch and all the minor appointments carried out the delicate color scheme. This function was the first of a series of such affairs Mrs. Flint is contemplating giving in honor of her mother.

Those present were Mmes. Randolph Miner, Nathaniel Wilshire, Granville McGowan, Van Katoven, Harry Morse and Russel of Los Angeles, and Mmes. Robert A. Rowan, Fred Elmer Wilcox, Arthur A. Libby, John McWilliams, William R. Staats, Lloyd Macy Francena, Emory Henderson, "Jack" Tanner, Charles C. Perkins, Harry Gray, Harlow W. Bailey, Samuel Cupples Pierce, Harry Mauris Robinson, George Gerald Guyer, Herbert Murray, John B. Miller, Eugene E. Hewlett, John S. Cravens, Todd Ford, Robert Pitcairn, Jr., Edward M Fowler and William Park of Pasadena.

CITY BRIEFS.

The Pasadena Young Men's Christian Association yesterday announced the appointment of Elmer L. Colwell as assistant physical director. He was formerly director of physical activities at Bay City, Mich.

The Board of Education is in receipt of a letter from John Muir, the famous naturalist, expressing his gratitude to the members of the board for naming the old High School, now the John Muir Intermediate School, in his honor.

An enjoyable card party was given at the Altadena Country Club last night at which there were over sixty players. It is the intention of the club this winter to alternate card parties with the dances. The next dance will be given soon after Christmas and it will probably be a masquerade.

Another golden wedding took place here yesterday. It was that of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Sherk of No. 154 West Washington street. They were among the guests at the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Lee of No. 142 South El Molino avenue, last Monday, and Mr. and Mrs. Lee were their guests yesterday.

VISALIA HAS THE HABIT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VISALIA, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Petitions were placed in circulation today calling upon the Trustees to submit a saloon ordinance to a vote at a referendum election. It is believed that no difficulty will be experienced in securing sufficient signatures to compel an election, which will be the fifth wet and dry test vote in Visalia since February, 1910.

The first vote taken was a straw vote called by the former City Trustees, which was won by the drys by a narrow margin. In April, 1910, City Trustees were elected after a wet and dry campaign, the drys winning out by from 89 to 148 votes. Later an election was held under the Wyllie local option law, which was won by the wets by six votes. The Trustees, however, refused to grant saloon licenses. The last election was held in May, 1912, and was won by the drys by more than 300 votes, with the women voting for the first time.

The ordinance now proposed provides for rather stringent regulations, with a license of $100 a month. Both sides seem to be confident of victory. It is not probable that an election can be held before February.

CHINO BRIEFS.

CHINO, Dec. 17.—The heirs of Col. F. M. Slaughter have incorporated the Slaughter Estate, which consists of 1000 acres, mostly improved land.

The Chamber of Commerce met last evening for the purpose of devising ways and means of entertaining, showing the country and presenting tabulated facts regarding the resources of this colony to Manager H. C. Nutt of the Salt Lake Railroad and to other railway officials who will come here Thursday to look over Chino and the surrounding territory with the view of building a branch line through here. From statistics presented to the Chamber of Commerce, the Chino colony has 9000 acres of grain land, 4500 acres that grow beets, 5400 acres in alfalfa, 600 acres in peaches, 200 acres in walnuts and 50 acres in oranges.

Mrs. Charlotta Olson, an old settler of Chino, and the mother of C. J., O. F. and A. E. Olson of Olson Bros., contractors, died Monday evening at the age of 64 years. Mrs. Olson had been ill for a long time.

Nearly every one is charmed with the exquisite beauty of the country surrounding Tustin.—[Advertisement.

PLANS UNIQUE CELEBRATION

Three Hundred and Fifty People to Participate.

City Attorney Irving Gives Out Important Opinion.

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 17.—A celebration that promises to rank in importance with the now-famed annual pilgrimage to the summit of Mt. Rubidoux on Easter morning, because of the unique features with which it is proposed to invest it, is the community Christmas tree and accompanying pageant planned for Christmas night in White Park.

This park, noted for its extensive collection of cacti, lies in the center of the city, and boasts of a beautiful evergreen tree which will lend itself admirably to the purposes of a Christmas tree. Its boughs will be adorned with multi-colored incandescent lamps, while a brilliant "Star of Bethlehem" will gleam from the topmost branches.

Fully 350 people will have a part in the pageant, which will be enacted by the members of the Cahtadores Club, a musical organization composed of forty men, who will appear in the garb of mediaval monks; the Tuesday Musical Club, whose members will be gowned in white; fifty children from the grammar school, fifty from the Girls' High School, and fifty Boy Scouts.

The musical features of the programme will include a specially arranged concert by the Riverside Military band. Old English carols will be a feature of the musical offering, and an old English wassail bowl, filled with harmless punch, will add a touch of realism to the unique festival.

The committee in charge of the arrangements is working out the details with great care, the purpose of investing the affair with a genuine spirit of Christmas, designed for the enjoyment of the stranger within the city's gates as well as the community at large, being constantly kept in view.

AN INTERESTING OPINION.

City Attorney Irving handed down an opinion today with reference to the power of the city to collect a business license fee from the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, that is of interest to other municipalities in the State.

While the city is deemed to be without authority to levy and collect such license fees, under the provisions of Constitutional Amendment No. 1, separating State and local taxation, the company is declared to be without recourse in the matter of the return of moneys paid under protest for license fees.

The attorney holds that the business license ordinance has been superseded and annulled, insofar as it pertains to telephone companies, but the protest of the company is declared to be insufficient, in that it was not made upon the proper ground, no compulsion or coercion having been exercised by the city or alleged in the protest. Accordingly, the demand of the company for the return of the sum of $165 license fees was denied.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

The Joint City and County Teachers' Institute, now in session under the leadership of City Superintendent Wheelock and County Superintendent Cree, is attracting unusual interest and drawing large audiences of teachers and others interested in educational work.

Today's sessions were addressed by Prof. James E. Chamberlain of the Los Angeles Normal School, and President Field of the University of Redlands. A feature of the morning programme was a brilliantly arranged pageant presented by the children of the grammar grades, the programme of folk songs and dances being so effectively rendered as to result in numerous recalls. The exercise was in charge of Mrs. Cora Merry, musical director in the city schools.

BEAUMONT FAVORS BONDS.

BEAUMONT, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Beaumont voted strongly in favor of the issuance of $1,125,000 good roads bonds in the election held here today. The proposition carried by nearly 6 to 1. The vote by precincts follows: Precinct No. 1—Yes, 109; no, 19. Precinct No. 2—Yes, 65; no, 14.

Escondido.

FEMALE SANTA CLAUS TO VISIT INDIAN TRIBES.

ESCONDIDO, Dec. 17.—With "Jose," an Indian of the La Jolla reservation, who has been her faithful driver on similar pilgrimages for ten years, in charge of transportation, Deaconess Miller of the Los Angeles Episcopal diocese, left here this morning for her annual Christmas visitation to four of the reservations of the mountain country tributary to Escondido, La Jolla, Rincon, Mesa Grande and Volcan. In the trip Deaconess Miller is accompanied by Miss Alice King of Long Beach, secretary of the junior mission societies connected with twenty-six parishes of the Los Angeles diocese.

The coming of Deaconess Miller, which is always pleasantly anticipated by the Indians of the reservations, is especially welcome at Christmas time, when she becomes a veritable Santa Claus, from the fact that she brings money in payment for the lace made by the women and girls—an industry which she taught them.

The plan this time is for three Chirstmas trees, one each at the La Jolla, Mesa Grande and Volcan, the latter being in the Santa Ysabel country, east of Warner Springs. At each gathering there will be an entertainment, the programme for which will be carried out by the Indians themselves, under the leadership of Mrs. Miller. The mission work among the Indians of San Diego county is carried forward under the direction of Bishop Johnson. The lace made by the Indian women and girls is sold under the supervision of prominent philanthropic people of New York City, interested in the Episcopal Church, and brings fancy prices.

The tour of Deaconess Miller will occupy about four weeks. Miss King will probably not remain in the mountains that long. She hopes, however, to be present at the three Christmas tree gatherings, where she will have the pleasure of seeing the distribution of articles contributed by the little folks of the Episcopal missions under her charge. Driver "Jose" and the two mission workers left this morning in a carriage drawn by two horses. With good luck they expected to reach the La Jolla reservation, the nearest to Escondido, by night.

All the available room in the wagon was taken with the bundles and equipment of the women, who are obliged to take food enough for the entire trip. Tomorrow "Jose" will return to Escondido for the boxes and barrels containing the Christmas presents for the Indians of four reservations.

WOLFSKILL WAS A PIONEER.

Purchased Thousands of Acres Near Escondido Which He Sold at a Profit of More Thousands.

ESCONDIDO, Dec. 17.—John Wolfskill, who died at his home in Pasadena, Sunday morning, was identified with the early history of the Escondido Valley, and is well remembered by the old settlers. In company with Edward McGeary, in 1866, Wolfskill bought the entire 13,000 acres comprising the Escondido grant from Judge O. S. Witherby of San Diego, for $8000. Witherby had bought the property two years before for $4000. In the deal with Wolfskill and McGeary was included 500 head of cattle, which he soon afterward sold for $5000, making the ranch itself stand him only $3000.

Wolfskill converted the grant into a sheep pasture, and became the active manager of the property, and in the fall of 1882, they found a customer for the ranch at $128,000, the sale being to a syndicate of Stockton capitalists, who disposed of it three years later to the Escondido Land and Town Company for $178,000. Judge Witherby built the first adobe house on the grant, the ruins of which are found near the gold mine of the Cleveland-Pacific Company, east of the city, but the credit of building the first frame house on the grant goes to Wolfskill, the house which is now the ranchhouse of the Louis Cason place, three miles north of the city, being one of the landmarks of the valley.

MOVIES MENACE TO MEN'S MORALS.

ONTARIO TRUSTEE WOULD REMOVE GRIEVOUS TEMPTATION.

Says Husbands Recklessly Spend Their Nickels and Time and He Wants Them to Remain with Their Families—Man Married Thirteen Years Ago Wants a Divorce.

ONTARIO, Dec. 17.—Ontario people are today wondering if the next legislation attempted by the City Council will be an ordinance restraining people from too frequent attendance at the "movies," since Trustee C. A. Warmer, championing a proposed law to compel pool rooms and bowling alleys to close at 10:30 p.m., last night, after painting in words a picture of the care-worn wife waiting patiently at home for the return of her erring spouse, melodramatically announced himself in favor of any law which would compel wayward husbands to remain at home evenings with their wives and strongly intimated that it might not be amiss to put the picture theaters somewhat under the ban.

According to Warmer, the picture shows lure too many men from the paths of duty, many, he declares, attending every night, when their time and money should be given to their families. He held out stoutly for the early closing of the other amusement resorts and his sentiments were echoed by Trustee J. V. Caldwell, F. C. Crowell and J. P. Ensley could not be shaken from their opinion that proprietors of pool and billiard rooms and bowling alleys should be given the same privileges of regulating their own business hours as others, so long as they conducted their places in a legitimate manner, and Mayor W. A. Freemire voting with them, the closing hour was fixed at midnight.

Those who opposed the proposed early closing ordinance expressed the opinion that the closing of the amusement places in question would not result in men going home, if they were not so disposed, and might even result in their seeking a more harmful form of amusement.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Thirteen did not prove a lucky number for Robert C. Allen, well-known local business man and owner of one of the largest barber shops in the city, for after thirteen years of married life he today filed suit for divorce in the Superior Court against Parna Emma Allen. Both Allen and his wife have made Ontario their home for many years. Mrs. Allen has recently been employed by the Ontario and Upland Telephone Company. Allen is represented in his suit for separation by Attorneys Warmer and Jones of this city.

If the new speed ordinance given first reading before the City Council last evening becomes a law, motorists, who are found guilty of a second offense in connection with the speed regulations of the city, will be forced to pay a heavy fine. The proposed new ordinance fixes the minimum fine for second offense at $25, so that no matter how lenient the police judge may be, he will be bound by the law. The minimum fine for the third offense is fixed at $25 and the maximum for all three offenses at $100. Jail sentences may also be imposed.

Councilman F. C. Crowell caused a stir at the meeting of the City Council when he announced that his resignation was in the hands of the Mayor unless the members of the board would agree that all future meetings shall be called according to law. Crowell's displeasure was the result of an alleged "special meeting," at which Bert Cleveland was appointed to the position of Building Inspector and J. D. Kirkpatrick to the office of Paving Inspector, of which Crowell had not been properly notified. Crowell demanded his right to a voice in the proceedings and after considerable discussion the appointments of the "special meeting" were ratified by the entire Council.

At their annual meeting, held last evening, the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Christian Church elected the following officers to serve for the coming year: President, Miss Pearl Bentley; vice-president, William Rahrig; recording secretary, Miss Ethel Bacon; corresponding secretary, Miss Jennie Curry; treasurer, Clarence Long; organist, Miss Zephyr Allen; assistant, Miss Hildah Minter.

AMENDMENTS DEFEATED.

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Unofficial returns from two-thirds of the precincts of the city indicate that the twenty charter amendments have been defeated by a majority of from three to one to ten to one. The vote was the lightest cast in any election held here in years, sixteen precincts, which polled more than 2700 votes in the Mayoralty election last month, having less than 700 to their credit today. Precinct No. 21 cast only six votes, and half of these were from one family.

CLAIMS WATER METER.

REDONDO BEACH, Dec. 17.—Claiming that a meter of the Hermosa Beach Water Company belonged to him because it was on his property and because the water mains belonged to the property, S. A. D. Clark of Hermosa Beach took possession of the meter and removed it from where it had been installed by the company. To recover the meter, valued at $60, the water company brought claim and delivery proceedings and attached the meter, which is now in the custody of Deputy Constable Eli Moeser. Today the case was tried before Judge L. F. Wells, when P. E. Gregory, attorney for Clark, and A. H. Foster, attorney for the water company, argued their cases.

For more than a year and a half Clark has been in the courts with cases concerning the water supply of Hermosa Beach. He finally secured a hearing before the Railroad Commission, which ordered the water company to supply that part of Hermosa Beach on the hills, where it was claimed the supply was not adequate. Frequently for days at a time the people on the hills have not been able to get any water, and this is the cause of the numerous suits. Judge Wells will give his decision Thursday.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The business men of the city have formed a Retail Dealers' Credit Association for their protection. Miss N. Brown is secretary of the organization.

Paul Hardy, son of Rev. and Mrs. W. U. Hardy of this city, assistant professor of Latin-American history at Yale, has been appointed to make a trip to Porto Rico for Yale this year. He will take photographs and collect information for general use at the university concerning archaeological exploration. Two years ago Hardy was one of the few students chosen to accompany Prof. Hiram Bingham of Yale on the Yale exploration and archaeological trip to South America.

BROKE THE HYDRANT.

Automobile Driver Almost Drowns When He Backs Into Venice Hydrant—Short News Stories.

VENICE, Dec. 17.—Besides being almost drowned by a flood of water when he backed his auto into and broke off a fire hydrant, his automobile damaged and arrested by Officer Golding, J. W. Fawkes of Burbank, inventor of the trackless electric line, was assessed $35 for the damage this afternoon. The salt-water pressure for fire purposes on Zephyr avenue, the scene of Fawkes's misfortune, was so great as to overturn the automobile, and almost overcome the driver with a flood of salt water.

TIDES SUBSIDE.

Subsiding tides did no further damage to the Ocean Front walk and bulkheads today, except to widen the cracks in the concrete work a trifle. The tide of this morning was 6.8 in height. From now until December 27, the tides will continue to get higher, and grave apprehension is felt.

PERFECT SCORE.

Harry Shaffer, a member of the Nat Goodwin bowling team, made the perfect score of 300 on the Ocean Park alleys last night. Shaffer, when he made the all-strike game, was playing in competition with J. M. Bowron and A. J. Jenkins. Bowron rolled 192 and Jenkins 243. Not in five years has this record been made on this beach.

FORMER JUSTICE PASSES.

WHITTIER, Dec. 17.—Death came suddenly this morning to Nathan D. Ellis, Whittier pioneer and for the past six years justice of the peace here. Apparently in the best of health and spirits Judge Ellis went to his office yesterday, began his official work for the day by putting in several long distance telephone calls, but was taken suddenly ill. Descending the stairs alone he was taken home in an auto by a friend and soon expired. His death came from heart failure.

No man in Whittier was better known than Nathan D. Ellis. It was he who brought Aquilla Pickering, one of Whittier's founders, to see the site of the present city. Mr. Ellis at that time resided at El Modena. For the past nineteen years he has lived here. He was a man who took the largest interest in civic and community betterment.

Judge Ellis was born in Howard county, Indiana, in 1848. He was a life-long member of the Friends Church, in whose work he has always taken an active interest. His death is a shock to this community, where he has lived and served so many years.

Judge Ellis is survived by a widow, six daughters and two sons. The daughters are Mrs. Josie Stanley, Mrs. Meda Tomlinson, Mrs. Grace Perkins, Mrs. Ethel Langstaff, Mrs. Edith McGee and Miss Pearl Ellis. The sons are Elmer and Otha, the latter residing at Hemet. The daughters reside near here.

The funeral services will be held at the home of the deceased at No. 114 East Hadley street, at 10 o'clock Wednesday.

AN ADEQUATE SERVICE.

SOUTH PASADENA, Dec. 17.—Adequate telephone service is promised South Pasadena by the Home Telephone Company of Los Angeles and after January they will be in a position to install any number of telephones.

Down to this time the number of telephones have been limited and subscribers who have put their names in months ago have been unable to get them. After the awarding by the Trustees of the telephone franchise to the Home company work was immediately started on a substation and it will be ready for use by January 1.

The telephones are all being changed to the South Pasadena station from Highland Park as formerly, and new telephones are being installed bringing the service to the highest efficiency. The prefix of all the numbers has been changed from 39 to 35, but the confusion caused by this will not last long. All the preliminary work will be completed by the first of the year and the company will then begin the installation of new telephones to fill the orders of last year.

KETTNER'S BILL FINDS FAVOR.

Nursery at Converse Flats Now Forestry Station.

Steering Gear Breaks and Machine Is Wrecked.

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 17.—The news that Congressman Kettner has introduced a bill for a Federal building here to cost $150,000 was most pleasing to this city, and it is expected here that the measure will be pushed through Congress this winter. The government recently closed up the purchase of a Federal building site here at the corner of Fifth and D streets, that measure having been put through by the efforts of former Congressman J. C. Smith. When here a few weeks ago for a conference with local citizens, Congressman Kettner agreed to at once introduce the building bill and use his efforts to put it through Congress.

NEW FORESTRY STATION.

The announcement has been made by Forest Supervisor R. H. Charles that the nursery at Converse Flat, near Seven Oaks, has been made a government forestry experiment station, it being the second one in the State, the first having been located in Plumas county. Extensive experiments as to plant life suitable for the mountains are to be made, also as to the effect of leaving the brush on the hills as against the plan of occasionally denuding them by fire or otherwise. The flows of the streams and how they are affected by various conditions will be watched. At present an extensive experiment is being made in Waterman Canyon, where the hills were burned off two years ago.

STEERING GEAR BROKE.

When the steering gear of Jess Taylor's automobile broke the machine shot off across the tracks of the Southern Pacific and Pacific Electric beside Colton avenue, and sheared off a trolley pole, bringing down a veritable network of power wires about Taylor and party. The machine was completely wrecked, but fortunately, none of the wires came in contact with members of the party, who escaped by mere chance. Taylor was returning to his home in Corona after visiting friends here.

WANT HIGH SCHOOL.

A meeting of thirty Highland citizens last night indorsed the plan of a union high school district composed of San Bernardino and surrounding towns, and a committee composed of M. M. Randall, G. T. Hendee and H. Harding was named to attend the mass meeting in the city Friday night when representatives from all of the proposed territory will be in attendance. A meeting is to be held in Bloomington tonight which will be addressed by San Bernardino and Colton citizens.

NEWS BRIEFS.

C. Manyos was found lying near the track in the Santa Fe yards last night with one foot gone from a train over by a car, and a switch engine bearing down on him who would have killed him. He was so intoxicated to realize that anything had occurred and laughed and joked as he was being taken to the hospital.

The petitions asking for the submission of the "dry" question to the State next year, are being called in from the workers in this county and as soon as they are verified will be forwarded to Sacramento for filing. It is estimated by those in charge that about 3500 names have been secured in this county, of which 600 came from this city.

AGED FRIENDS PASS.

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 17.—Close friends and near neighbors for twenty years, Prof. James Joseph Rivers, eminent entomologist, aged 55 years, and Mrs. Miranda Harriet Hamilton, aged 55 years, died within an hour yesterday. Prof. Rivers passed away shortly after 4 o'clock, Mrs. Hamilton, shocked at the news, died at 5 o'clock. Both funerals will be held Thursday.

Prof. Rivers was one of the best-known entomologists and conchologists in the West, and was for several years head of the entomological section of the University of California. He lived at No. 1144 Fifth street, and has an surviving relatives here. He was born in London, Eng., but came to California in 1873, settling near San Francisco. During his occupancy of the chair of entomology he gathered a famous collection of shells, bugs and butterflies, which he gave to the Universities of Berkeley and Pomona a year ago.

Santa Monica ever really knew him, when his work at the State University ended. He continued to prosecute his nature studies here, and within a few months of his death, his enthusiasm for this work was such that two were great friends, as they lived directly opposite Prof. Rivers's home.

Mrs. Hamilton was born in 1858, in York, and came here in 1892. Her husband, Newell H. Hamilton, died a few years ago. A son with whom she lived, and one daughter, L. Hamilton of Hollywood, are the surviving relatives. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Los Angeles.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Despite a plea for a more equitable document by Lee Mendelson, last night the City Council granted a franchise to the Southern Sierras Power Company. The concern has been operating for some time under a franchise. Great excitement was expressed at last week's council meeting by some members over the proposed ordinance granting the franchise, the Mayor and City Attorney declaring the ordinance illegal, but even Councilman Shaffer, who led the fight against the measure, during the hearing before the council last night, it is said, as a means of assisting the problems of the city in dealing with the thousands of women undergraduates.

Chaperonage, regulation of dormitories and social life of students, sorority and educational problems are topics to be discussed. Are favored in the curriculum plans of professors pass women on a standard than that required of men are questions to be considered. The conference will close tomorrow.

ADMITS COAL WAS WATERED.

Western Fuel Official Says It Was Then Sold.

State Government Bought Many Tons of It.

Records Show More Went Out Than Came In.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—Evidence that the Western Fuel Company was in the habit of having a monthly "overrun," or surplus of coal over what had been recorded on the books as received, was introduced by the government today in the trial of officials, directors and employees of the company on charges of conspiracy to defraud the United States. This overrun amounted to hundreds of tons monthly and the money received from its sale went under the head of "profit and loss" on the books.

Special Prosecutor Roche introduced monthly statements, minutes of the board of directors and annual statements in evidence this afternoon, and obtained from David Norcross, secretary of the company, admissions that there usually were more tons of coal sold than received, according to the company's books.

That the indicted directors of the company knew of this overrun Roche attempted to show by reading into the record excerpts from the minutes. When the monthly statements were read and ordered filed. In some instances the minutes said the reports were "read and explained" by the president, John L. Howard.

Facts obtained from Norcross a year ago in a statement that there was more coal unloaded from vessels in San Francisco, according to the weights upon which the customs charges were based, than was loaded at Nanaimo, B. C., according to the company's figures. These discrepancies were shown to be large.

In June, 1906, the records showed that 1000 more tons of coal were taken from the barges of the company in San Francisco Bay than were put on. This item was marked "OR" on the books. For September, 1906, the "OR" account showed 769 tons. In August, 1906, it was 168 tons.

In October, 1906, there were two "OR" items, one for 808 tons, and another for 1146 tons, besides the barge overrun account, which Norcross explained as "yard overrun." That, he said, meant that on a "yard cleaning" or inventory, there was that much more coal in the yard than had been put there, according to the books. In explanation, he said that during the fire of 1906, a great deal of coal had been played on the coal in the yard to prevent its burning, and that might have increased the weight to that extent. According to his statement, he admitted, the company must have sold 1974 tons of water from the yards, at coal prices.

LARGE PROFITS.

In the annual statement for 1903, the company's gross earnings were given as $1,802,241. Among the deductions of these earnings appeared $3231. for "overruns," or surplus coal. This, Norcross said, was figured on the basis of about $5 a ton, and meant that much more than the company "ought to have had on hand." The statement for the year showed that there was an "overrun" of $1874 on cargoes of coal from Nanaimo—that is, that much more coal was taken off the vessels than was loaded at Nanaimo.

The annual statement of 1904 showed that the profits from barge "overruns" had been $23,000. This annual statement was read to the stockholders in March, 1905, by President Howard, and on motion of Robert Dunn, one of the indicted directors, a vote of thanks was extended to the directors for the way they had managed the company's affairs for the past year.

An explanation of the causes and effects of the coal famine of 1906 was contained in the annual statement for that year. The fire of April, 1906, it stated, increased the demand so much that the supply was cut down, and one could not be had. Then had come a rebuilding demand in the fall, with curtailed resources in Australia and the Rocky Mountain region. At that time foreign and local steamship companies made heavy demands for coal under contracts with the coal company, and these had to be supplied.

"Thus," the statement read, "required in our being able to supply the market trade with (only) the surplus after these other demands had been satisfied."

The output of 1500 tons per day in March at other periods was compelled to become at once quite inadequate, and the steamship trade, which naturally would have been welcome, was left to temporary heartache because it diverted coal from customers who would have paid us double the price.

Questions discussed with Norcross on the stand by Assistant Prosecutor Roche was the keeping of the company's minutes and records, and Norcross had not replied to a question in considerably more than an hour.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—Student government among women undergraduates has been in existence longer, is more organized and is more successful than among men students at present, according to conclusions arrived at on this subject at the sixth annual conference of deans of women of state universities in session here. Dean Mathews of W[illegible] and Dean Jordon of Michigan were principal speakers.

Questions with women's clubs and the problems of the undergraduates, regulation of dormitories, social life of students, sororities and educational problems are expected to be discussed. Are there in the curriculum plans for more women on a par with those required of men? Questions to be considered. The conference will close tomorrow.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 17.—Edwin R. Snyder, superintendent of schools of Santa Barbara, was today selected as State Commissioner of Vocational Training by the State Board of Education.

Snyder will have charge of all the vocational training schools in the State. The salary will ba $4000 per year. Commissioners for elementary and secondary schools remain to be selected.

The State Board of Education this afternoon elected Miss Margaret Schallenberger of San Jose State commissioner of elementary schools. Miss Schallenberger has been principal of the training school in the San Jose State Normal School. The position pays $4000 a year.

Other applicants were considered, but the board felt that one of the three commissionerships should be filled by a woman and especially the commissionership having charge of the lower grades.

CHASE LASTS EIGHT YEARS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Dec. 17.—After a chase lasting eight years, in which time he had crossed two continents and had narrowly escaped arrest on a dozen different occasions, Francisco Tusoue, alias Francisco Tusoma, is now on his way back to New York City to face there a charge of murdering James Rooney, a laborer, in a factional fight in a saloon in Richmond borough on December 10, 1905. Tusoue, who left Vancouver today for New York, was identified by Police Captain A. E. Wagner and Sergeant of Detectives J. G. Crocheron of New York, as the man for whom they had been searching.

DEATH CALLED A MURDER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Dec. 17.—The Coroner decided today that C. A. Rudell, treasurer of the Moose Lodge at The Dalles, Or., was the victim of murder and not a suicide. This is the result of an examination made of the man's stomach after he was found in a cheap hotel in Portland with an empty poison bottle by his side. The examination shows that the man had taken no poison into his mouth and no trace was found in his stomach. The back of his skull was shattered which probably caused his death.

RESCUE DALGONAR'S CREW.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—Given up for lost, the crew of the dismasted and abandoned steel ship Dalgonar, owned in London, are on their way to Dover aboard the French ship Loire, which picked them up on October 9 a thousand miles off the coast of Chile. Capt. J. Ibester and three of his men are dead. How they perished the news that reached here today did not tell.

First word of the loss of the Dalgonar, which carried a crew of about thirty, reached here on December 10, when the French bark Marie anchored. Capt. Moricet of the Marie sighted the Dalgonar 1200 miles off the coast of Chile on October 28, rolling her keel out of water, with her rigging cut and her masts gone, and only the gaunt black cat of all orthodox maritime romance alive. Two of the ship's small boats were gone. The others swung on the davits.

Word now comes that the Loire picked up the officers and crew and on December 9 spoke some unknown steamship which flashed out the news of the rescue broadcast. It was relayed from vessel to vessel and from sending station to sending station, until finally it reached the owners of the Loire at Dunkirk, France, who in turn communicated it by cable to the owners of the Dalgonar in London. There it was posted on the maritime exchange, where the correspondent of the San Farncisco Chamber of Commerce again sent it under the Atlantic and across the continent to the bulletin board here.

KILLS DUCK AT WRONG TIME.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—William Appleby, a Sonoma county farmer, who was the first man to be arrested in Northern California for shooting a wild duck between sundown and sunrise, was fined $10 by Judge Dooling in the United States District Court today.

Appleby seemed considerably awed by the dignity and grandeur of the Federal court and stammered that he thought he had better see his lawyer in Napa. The judge advised Appleby that he would be in pocket in this case to stay away from lawyers; the farmer pleaded guilty, and was assessed a nominal fine.

A new Federal migratory game bird law, under which Appleby was arrested, establishes a daily closed season between suns.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A common building brick, a toothbrush and a small piece of soap in his safe deposit box are all that Robert E. Caldwell, a smart-looking young man, and a guest at the Hotel Oakland for some weeks, left behind him to pay for his room and board when he left the hostelry yesterday.

The Bay City police are now seeking him and have found that he is also wanted by the police of Tracy and Merced.

Caldwell came to the Hotel Oakland on November 19 and engaged an expensive suite of rooms, and as an introduction used the names of R. Shaffer, a well-known Merced county rancher, and that of his son, H. R. Shaffer, District Attorney of Merced county.

It is alleged that he stole the elder Shaffer's motorcar and also passed several worthless checks.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OAKLAND, Dec. 17.—The main portion of the plant of the Pacific States Oil Refinery was destroyed by fire here today, causing a loss estimated at $250,000.

The fire started from the engine of an automobile delivery wagon, which was being filled early today, and communicated to the tank and thence to the plant itself. Among the buildings destroyed were the superintendent's offices, pumping plant, storage tanks and bentine and linseed.

Only a small portion of the refinery loss was covered by insurance.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dennis M. Duffy, president of the State Board of Prison Directors, today went to San Rafael to visit his 10-year-old daughter, Grace Dorothy, who has been placed in the Dominican convent. This is Duffy's first visit to the child since he separated from his wife, Sunday last, leaving her at their home here and taking up his residence at the Olympic Club.

The separation of the Duffys comes after months of estrangement, the move having been planned in October, when the little girl was sent to the convent.

Duffy today declined to discuss the possibility of either himself or his wife suing for divorce, although he admitted that they had parted after twelve years of married life.

"Mrs. Duffy is one of the best women on earth," he said, "and she has been an ideal mother. We have found, however, that it would be better for us to part."

The separation of the Duffys was rumored among their friends some months ago, about the time that Duffy, as president of the prison board, became engrossed in the task of selecting a successor to Warden John E. Hoyle of San Quentin, who resigned recently.

BASTION PLEADS GUILTY.

"De Luxe" Burglar Who Made Thousands by His Operations to Be Sentenced Saturday.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—William Bastian, known in police circles as the "de luxe" burglar, and whose operations in fashionable homes during the last few years netted him about $100,000, pleaded guilty today of burglary. He will be sentenced Saturday.

Bastian's young sister, Josephine, whom he brought from Germany and established in a $10,000 home from the proceeds of the burglaries, watched the court proceedings. "I will stay with you until the end," she told her brother.

Bastian was captured by a bulldog about a month ago. Rather than shoot the bulldog he submitted to arrest.

MANHATTAN BEACH.

MANHATTAN BEACH, Dec. 17.—As a token of the appreciation of the citizens of Manhattan Beach for his faithful service and devotion to Manhattan Beach, City Clerk C. E. Jenkins was presented with a handsome gold watch and fob appropriately inscribed last night at the City Council meeting. Capt. E. W. Campbell, the first president of the Manhattan Beach City Council, made the presentation speech recalling the active part which Jenkins had taken in matters of progress for the city. It is largely due to the instigation and faithful service of Jenkins, he said, that the city had become incorporated, the bonds for $111,000 for the municipal water system had been carried and the great proposed improvements had been taken up. Capt. Campbell, who was formerly a well known lecturer, but who is now retired, owing to failing health, collapsed on the way home from the Council meeting and is quite ill at his home now.

Work was begun this week on the new grammar school building to be erected at a cost of $15,000. William Bell of Redondo Beach has the contract for the school, which at present will have six classrooms and is of the mission style of architecture.

With Spectators Keeping Away from the Market the Trading Was Dull—An Upward Tendency at the Start in Special Lines Is Followed by Heaviness.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Speculation lagged today on the stock exchange and price fluctuations were small and irregular. Few of the 97 stocks moved as much as a point in either direction. Net changes in most cases were unimportant. The tendency at the outset was upward. Union Pacific and Canadian Pacific advanced sharply in response to gains in London and American Telephone made a further recovery, showing a five point rise from the low records touched a few days ago. A relapse in American Telephone and signs of returning heaviness in New Haven halted the upturn. Monetary conditions favored more active speculation, call loans renewing 3½ per cent, but funds for fixed dates were hard to obtain and tightening of the market for day to day accommodations was regarded as probable with the approach of the year end. Favorable inferences were drawn, however, from the market's reception of the forthcoming issue of New York State 4½ per cent. bonds, which sold "when issued" as high as 105¾. Fluctuations in bonds were narrow and irregular. New York City issues were heavy, declining ½ to ¾. Total sales par value $1,850,000. United States 2's advanced ¼ on call.

GENERAL TONE FIRM.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The list displayed a firm tone despite the backings and filling of the professional element whose operations at this time appeared to depend in great part on the action of the market. Seemingly, the vulnerable portion of the short interest has been driven to cover and some incentive to force activity is anxiously awaited. The Iron Age's review of the situation in iron and steel circles noted a continuance of unsatisfactory conditions, with the outlook very much mixed, but even so, the influence on the steel stocks was negligible. Specialties were not as conspicuous for their weakness as recently, and covering operations were conducted in American Telephone and Telegraph about the stability of whose dividends there seems to be little question at this period. The Anaconda dividend meeting will be held tomorrow, and some promise on Amalgamated developed in anticipation thereof, became of talk of a probable change in the disbursements but this was not regarded seriously.

New York Curb Stocks.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Quiet reigned in the curb market today. Oils were irregular. United Cigar Stores developed a better tone. Mining issues were featureless. The Boston market showed more activity than for some time. North Butte continues to be a leader and rallies steadily on good buying. The strike at the mine is reported to be very rich. In comunality with North Butte other high-class issues rallied ½ to 1 point during the forenoon, although trading was small in volume. The afternoon market was quiet, with no change. The undertone was strong.

OLIVES PROVE PROFITABLE.

TERRA BELLA RANCHERS ENJOY UNUSUALLY RICH RETURNS.

Many Orange Growers Form an Association the Purpose of Which Is to Delay Early Shipment of Fruit—Decrease in Money Paid for Cream Is Feature of Report.

TERRA BELLA, Dec. 18.—Average yields of from $700 to $1000 per acre from Terra Bella olives has been a great stimulus to this new Tulare county industry, with the result that orchards are signed up for the planting of from 400 to 600 acres to the ...ine next spring.

It is estimated that the total production of the district is now approximately $150,000, with only a small portion of the trees in bearing, and some of them mature. Terra Bella olives have been pronounced by packing experts the equal to the very highest quality of imported berries, and have been commanding top ...rices.

CO-OPERATION.

DELAY EARLY SHIPPING.

VISALIA, Dec. 16.—Co-operation among the orange growers which will result in agreements between independent and exchange operators to delay early shipping until quality of fruit is assured is the object of a new association, the establishment of which is to be considered at mass meeting of the growers which have been called for the near future.

In view of the activity of the United States government in sending chemists into the field to make tests of fruit in an effort to establish a definite standard of maturity, it is believed that an association should be formed to draw even a more strict line than that of pure food commissioners, to maintain the highest reputation for quality for Central California ...oods.

PAYMENTS FOR CREAM SHOW SLIGHT DECREASE.

VISALIA, Dec. 17.—Despite high prices paid and the increase of feed due to seasonal rains, the payments to cream to dairymen of the Tulare district for the month of November, just today, show a decrease to $78,...33, as against $80,612.66 for the month preceding. The decrease was in addition, as prices advanced a full cent. A sharp advance in total payments is expected within the next thirty days. The largest single payment was made by the Dairymen's Co-operative Creamery, which paid its stockholders $38,181.35. This was on the basis of 39 cents for butter fat of the first grade, as against 37 cents for last month.

HARBOR ITEMS.

There was little activity at the harbor yesterday, the cargoes received being small. The Yucatan arrived from San Diego with thirty-five passengers for Los Angeles, took aboard forty-five, sixteen tons of general merchandise and sailed for San Francisco and Portland. The Governor left for San Diego with 138 passengers and twenty tons of canned milk. The James S. Higgins, from Ft. Bragg, and the Caspar, from Caspar, brought 1,150,000 feet of lumber for various consignees. The Yosemite returned from San Diego, took a few passengers and sailed for San Francisco and Portland. The J. B. Stetson arrived from Aberdeen with a part load of lumber. The Tallac left for San Francisco for orders.

City Councilmen Cantwell, Wheeler and Langdon, Deputy City Attorney Robertson, City Clerk Carroll and Hamilton Higley, secretary of the Seattle Harbor Commission, were guests of Harbor Commissioners Gilmer and Gordon and the port yesterday. The party made a trip about the harbor in the launch Mayflower and inspected the municipal dock.

The Government's Estimate Shows Wheat Acreage Sown Has Increased 8.6 Per Cent. Over Last Year.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—An increase of 8.6 per cent., or 2,888,000 acres in the area planted to winter wheat in the United States, this fall, compared with the revised estimated area sown last year, was reported today by the Department of Agriculture. The condition of winter wheat December 1 was 97.2 per cent. of a normal, the highest decrease in condition reported since 1908.

Rye shows a decrease of 1.1 per cent, or 29,000 acres in the area sown this fall, compared with that of last fall, while the December 1 condition, 91.3 per cent. of normal, is the highest since 1907. Texas, with 30 per cent., and Oklahoma with 85 per cent., show the greatest increase in winter wheat acreage, while Kansas, which has by far the greatest area sown, showed an increase of 11 per cent. Ohio's acreage shows an increase of 5 per cent.; Indiana, 13 per cent.; Illinois, 15 per cent.; Missouri, 10 per cent.; Nebraska, 2 per cent., and Pennsylvania, 1 per cent., while Washington's acreage decreased 1 per cent.

The Department of Agriculture for the first time received the condition and acreage of winter wheat in South Dakota and Minnesota. Minnesota reported 45,000 acres and a condition of 93 per cent. of a normal; South Dakota, 80,000 acres and condition 89 per cent.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The market here did not respond to the bullish cables this morning and, after displaying a little, again encountered heavy selling by prominent spot interests and liquidation by yesterday's buyers. A sharp decline of some 20 points was scored. The locked-for stock orders around 50 for March and 45 for May were evidently withdrawn and on covering by shorts a reaction of some 12 to 15 points from these prices resulted, and the close was steady at from 4 to 6 points net lower for the day.

WISDOM AND COUGH SYRUP

Every Family Profit by This, and Run No Risk, for Every Bottle Is Guaranteed Effective and Pure, Too.

People who've "barrels of money" probably won't appreciate this advice. This is for the reader who knows the value of every 5-cent piece, and usually it saves from 40 to 100 5-cent pieces for those who are informed. Buying medicine in dribs costs more than making a big supply yourself. Buying ordinary patent medicines means that you pay too much for syrups, corks, bottles, labels, cartons, etc. For instance, if you buy a 25-cent bottle of cough medicine, it contains about two ounces, four-fifths of which is syrup—and for 25 cents you can make one-half gallon of syrup.

By making Mentho-Laxene medicine at home you save lots of money on syrup, alone, and besides you know it's pure and quickly effective. Let us prove then that the best and cheapest way to overcome coughs, colds, catarrh, and to prevent pneumonia, diphtheria, la grippe, is to make this fine big supply of medicine, by mixing one-half pint of boiling water with a pint of granulated sugar. Then, buy the pure concentrated essence Mentho-Laxene (a 2½ oz. bottle) empty it into a pint bottle or jar and fill it

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

A. W. Wright was elected president of the Board of Public Utilities yesterday, and Robert E. Wirsching, the new member, was confirmed by unanimous vote of the Council.

The cost of acquiring property for the proposed widening of First street between Broadway and Hill, and for a new street linking Broadway and Hill, will be nearly a million dollars, is the Engineer's report.

Instead of the city spending $150,000 to make its vacant acres produce food, as suggested by Councilman Wheeler, a suggestion was made yesterday that the money be spent to give work to the unemployed in beautifying Griffith Park.

A writ of mandate on the City Auditor was denied a deputy sealer of weights and measures yesterday. He brought suit to be paid under an act of the Legislature instead of a city ordinance.

Summoned as a witness for an applicant for citizenship, a lawyer who failed to appear because he had not been given legal tender was taken into court on a bench warrant yesterday and admonished.

At the City Hall.

COUNCIL CONFIRMS WIRSCHING WITHOUT DISSENT.

Public Utilities Commission Reorganized Until Return of Bekins, While Independent Civic League Speaker Asserts that Recall of Mayor and Council Will Be Started.

Augustine W. Wright is the new president of the Board of Public Utilities and with him on the board yesterday sat Robert E. Wirsching, confirmed in the morning by the Council, without a dissenting vote. Wright was elected to serve until the return of Martin Bekins from the East, and his tenure of the ruling office will be until the first of the year.

"I believe that Mr. Bekins, the senior member in point of service, should have a voice in the election of the president," said Commissioner Wright.

The confirmation of Wirsching in the Council was without a dissenting voice, although Frank W. Allender of the Independent Civic League delivered a bitter tirade against Wirsching and Mayor Rose. Allender said that the Mayor's appointment of Wirsching meant the parting of political ways between the Mayor and Allender. He arraigned Wirsching as being unqualified for the position, charging that Wirsching is not familiar enough with local problems to sit on so important a board.

The Council, however, turned a deaf ear to the Allender exhortation. At a conference Tuesday the members of the Council were satisfied with Wirsching's qualifications and had no hesitancy in approving him.

It was announced later by Allender and William Francis Ireland of the Christian Socialist League that a recall will be started at once against the Mayor and the members of the Council because of the Wirsching appointment and confirmation.

WIDENING PLAN EXPENSE.

The proposed widening of First street between Broadway and Hill and the construction of a new street 150 feet north of First street to link Broadway and Hill will cost $950,000 for private property alone, according to the City Engineer, who reported yesterday to the Board of Public Works.

It has been suggested by residents on Bunker Hill as a part of the proposed tunneling of First and Second streets that the city widen First street by acquiring forty feet on either side, leading from Broadway to Hill. The property owners in this block hold their property at $680,000, the southwest corner of First and Broadway being held by its owners at $200,000, which is $5000 a front foot. The police station property is rated at $70,000.

For the fifty-foot right of way through the block 150 feet north of First street, as proposed in conjunction with the First street widening, the City Engineer calculates the cost of property to be $270,000.

Both of these estimates are based upon prices set by some property owners and guesses where no figures were offered by the owners. The total of $950,000 is outside of the amount that would be spent for the improvements of the two proposed thoroughfares.

For the Unemployed.

Upon the broad and general theory that the unemployed should be employed, that non-producers be made to produce nearly all those interested in the Utopia that never will come are agreed. But upon the manner of labor and how to procure it for idle hands there is a wide difference of opinion. Councilman Wheeler, Socialist, has asked the city to donate $150,000 to people the empty acres along the aqueduct and elsewhere upon vacant city lands. Yesterday Dr. Dana W. Bartlett, late of Bethlehem, implored Wheeler and other members of the Council to spend the $150,000 by employing the unemployed in beautifying Griffith Park. Bartlett's idea is to produce beauty, while Wheeler favors producing something to eat. It is believed the Council will turn them both down.

Protest Is Denied.

The City Council yesterday denied the protest of property owners against the proposed Wilton place storm sewer. The City Engineer sent in another set of figures, which showed that the frontage in the protest, as well as the frontage including both sides of corner lots, was only 47 per cent., and therefore insufficient. The work of building the storm sewer will be rushed without delay.

Varlel Is Held Up.

The City Council yesterday held up for two weeks the Mayor's appointment of William J. Varlel as a member of the Humane Animal Commission. This was upon request of Councilman Snowden, who is opposing Varlel's confirmation. At the same time the Council unanimously confirmed Mrs. Frances Weldon and Francis G. Haley, the other two members of the Commission, and there being a quorum the work will proceed under the revised ordinance recently passed by the Council.

To Complete Work.

Harbor Engineer Jubb yesterday reported to the Harbor Commission that it will require $278,700 to complete the work already going on at the harbor and $474,600 to finish the work on Municipal Dock No. 1. The Harbor Engineer also reports that it will require about $450,000 to finish the proposed Harbor boulevard and lower Timm's point.

New Improvements.

The City Engineer has reported that ordinances of intention have been passed for the improvement of the following streets, with asphalt, curb and gutter: Ruth avenue, from Fourth to Seventh streets, in eighty days; Oxford avenue, from Sixteenth to Washington, in seventy days; Estrella avenue, from Washington to Twenty-third, in seventy days.

City Hall Notes.

Councilman Haines W. Reed, who has been under a doctor's care at his ranch in the Coachella Valley for some weeks, is much improved in health, and will return in a week or ten days to resume his duties in the Council. Reed's illness followed a meal of canned string beans, which resulted in a severe attack of poisoning.

Dr. C. E. Zerfing yesterday filed his resignation with the City Council as Police Surgeon, and his successor will be named in a few days. October 23, Dr. Zerfing was asked to retire by the Public Safety Committee of the Council, and he agreed to turn in his resignation to take effect January 1.

The Friday Morning Club yesterday filed a list of its members with the City Clerk, pursuant to a resolution by the City Council that all organizations which communicate with the Council must have their lists on file or consideration will not be given.

CITY SALARY LAW IS UPHELD.

STATE WITHOUT APPROPRIATION FOR DEPUTIES' PAY.

Assistant in Office of Sealer of Weights and Measures Fails to Procure Writ of Mandate to Compel City Auditor to Pay Increase Over Ordinance Stipulation.

That writ of mandate asked for by Joseph C. Milliken, deputy sealer of weights and measures—whose salary of $90 a month is fixed by city ordinance—to compel the City Auditor to pay him $5 a day, or the amount named by the Legislature in the act providing for the appointment of such deputies, was denied by Judge Shenk yesterday.

Milliken holds that the statute is paramount to city legislation, and he demanded the increased rate of $5 a day from August 10, when the act went into effect, to August 31. The court held, however, that if he claims the salary under the State act and the subject matter is not a municipal affair, he can only be paid from the city treasury, as the State has made no appropriation for the payment of the salaries of deputies.

It follows from this that if deputies are appointed outside of chartered cities, under the act, the Legislature must provide by another measure for their salaries, as the present act only names the salary they are to be paid.

GETS REPRIMAND.

IGNORES COURT SUBPOENA.

H. L. Widman, a lawyer, was served Saturday with a subpoena to attend Department Ten as a witness for Moses Bell, an applicant for citizenship. He demanded mileage and was paid with a check by the constable serving the subpoena instead of cash. Because it was not legal tender, Widman failed to show up.

Judge McCormick issued a bench warrant for Widman and on Widman's appearance in court yesterday he was reprimanded for not obeying the subpoena, even though the mileage had not been properly tendered. The court took no other action as a legal tender had not been made.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Grubah, Mrs. Catherine M. Grant and Mrs. Christine Konig were admitted to citizenship. The class admitted yesterday numbered seventy-three.

SOME MEDICINE.

MIXED IN WILL SUIT.

Testimony during the trial of the Haizlip will contest before a jury in Judge Houser's court has brought to light a medicine invented by John Haizlip, who was declared to have been a crank on its potency. According to Haizlip's oft-repeated declaration, it could "grow hair on a door knob."

This testimony has some bearing on the claim of Mrs. Laura K. Janes, that Haizlip, her father, was not competent to execute a will. She was cut off, while her sisters and brothers were provided for under a trust provision. She was charged with $15,000, alleged to have been money borrowed from her father, but declares she never received the money. The estate was appraised at $70,000.

PECKHAM DIVORCE CASE.

The Peckham divorce suit, set for Judge Monroe's court yesterday, was continued until this afternoon, owing to the trial of the Maloof divorce suit, which the court found could not be concluded in time to take up the domestic troubles of the real estate broker and his wife.

Mrs. Peckham was in court with a number of friends who have rallied to her support. George C. Peckham brings the suit, alleging his wife dallies with the wine cup. This she resents, and will try to show that the charge is unfounded. He also claims she is jealous and endeavored to break up his business.

Mrs. Peckham some time ago sued for separate maintenance and was granted $100 a month for her support. Peckham's cross-complaint at that time, asking for a decree of divorce, was denied.

PHILANTHROPY.

JUDGE A SAMARITAN.

The case of Mrs. John D. Jewell appealed to Judge Monroe yesterday. Because of a loss of memory she is unable to care for herself, but, she says, her husband abuses her, and she will not live with him. A sister, who works to support herself and family, has been providing for Mrs. Jewell.

"Wait a minute," said the court, and drawing out a check book, he made a check out for $30 and gave it to the sister.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

THUMB COSTLY. Gagat Abrahamoff, a window washer employed by the Pullman Company, asks $2764 for a crushed thumb and $215 special damages by reason of the alleged negligence of the corporation in improperly inspecting a window which fell while he was cleaning it. He alleges the thumb is permanently injured. Abrahamoff claims the benefit of the Employers' Liability Act, but admits he did not give written notice as required, because he was ignorant of the law. The accident occurred in this city, October 4 last.

INSURANCE SUIT. Mrs. Anna Belle Curtis, mother of Harry Blair Curtis, who was killed in an automobile collision on West Washington street the night of November 7, filed suit yesterday against the Pacific Mutual Insurance Company for $8000, the amount of two policies on his life. The company, on demand, refused to pay the insurance, she alleges.

FORCED EMPLOYMENT. Ira L. Harris, with a wife and two children dependent on him, violated his parole by passing fictitious checks, and was rearrested. He was sent by Judge Monroe yesterday to the chain gang and for the next two years he will earn $1.50 a day, which will be turned over to his family.

DAMAGE SUIT. Suit for $15,000 damages was filed yesterday by Jerome H. Fiske against the Funding Company of California. Fiske alleges that he was a passenger on the Angel's Flight car September 2 last, when the shaft broke, and that he was seriously injured.

MOTHER ILL. Judge Willis received a telegram yesterday from his boyhood home at Coggon, Iowa, that his mother, Mrs. Laura P. Willis, 82 years of age, is dangerously ill. Mrs. Willis fell recently. Owing to her advanced age, there is little hope of her recovery.

TO SHOW CAUSE. Attorney Percy F. Backus obtained from Judge York yesterday an order on Lewis Cruikshank to show cause why he should not be removed as guardian for James C. Chambers, the minor son of Dr. W. J. Chambers, whose domestic troubles were aired in divorce proceedings in Navada in the spring. Since the divorce several suits have been filed growing out of the custody of the boy.

LEAVES NO WILL. O. F. Eriksson died on the 1st inst., leaving an estate valued at $22,976.04, consisting of cash, twenty acres on Lincoln avenue, Pasadena, worth $20,000; an interest in a lot on South Marengo avenue, Pasadena, appraised at $1500, and stock in oil companies. The petition for letters of administration was filed yesterday by Emma M. Eriksson, No. 885 Summit avenue, Pasadena. The heirs are Mrs. Eriksson and Mildren E. Eriksson.

MEDICAL EXAMINER DIES.

Dr. W. H. Stearns, chief medical examiner of the Prudential Life Insurance Company in Los Angeles and on the staff of the Pacific Electric Railroad, University Club member and Mason, died Tuesday night at his home, No. 1255 Crown Hill avenue, after a brief attack of pneumonia. He was 44 years old.

Stearns was born in Cedar Rapids, and was educated in Iowa and in Los Angeles. He came to this city in 1882, taught school for a time and then entered and was graduated from the California State Medical College of this city.

Dr. Stearns leaves a widow, who was Miss Victoria Bateman of Lompoc, three brothers, Frank L., Augustis G., James Bert, and an aunt, Miss Elizabeth Snyder. The funeral services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at No. 810 South Flower street. Hollenbeck Lodge, F. and A.M., will have charge.

TELLS HER STORY.

Pretty Lucy Hall, daughter of a Los Angeles patrolman, told her pitiful story on the witness stand in Justice Reeve's court yesterday and James Rogers was held to answer to the Superior Court on a serious charge.

The Halls sat in court with their faces bowed as Lucy, 14 years old, told of having been lured to a questionable boarding-house on Winston street. If the girl's story is true, the court officers say, the police should raid the place and arrest the proprietor.

Lucy said she had tried to leave, but was held back by threats of violence. She shuddered as she related some of the scenes in the house, which is kept by a Japanese.

Rogers's bond was fixed at $5000. He is about 45 years old.

REVERSAL; NEW TRIAL.

The District Court of Appeal reversed Superior Court Judge Z. B. West, sitting yesterday in the Superior Court of Los Angeles county, by granting a new trial to the George K. Porter Company in an action brought against the corporation by Daniel Newhart for collection of a commission in a stock transaction.

Newhart sued to recover 1 per cent. of $200,000, the value of stock intrusted to him for sale. He found a purchaser, but the defendant corporation refused to accede to the terms, and the actual sale was not effected. Newhart recovered in the lower court and the application for a new trial was denied by Judge West.

NEGRO FORCED WHITE KISSES.

Deputy District Attorney Believes Captured Man Is One Guilty of Spreading Reign of Terror Over Eighth-Street District and Complaint Alleges Serious Crimes.

In the arrest of Charles Guyton, a negro, Deputy District Attorney Arthur Keetch believes the authorities have in custody the man who has been terrorizing women living on Eighth street for more than two weeks. Keetch issued a complaint against Guyton yesterday, charging him with highway robbery. A more severe offense may be charged later.

Keetch says the present charge is based on the affidavits of Mrs. Daisy Stailwald and Gertrude Kelly. It is alleged that Monday evening, as the two women were walking along East Eighth street, the negro caught them and demanded money. They possessed only a few cents for carfare, which was surrendered.

Trembling with fear, Mrs. Stailwald and Miss Kelly hastened along. Again, they say, the negro overtook them and compelled them to kiss him. Both then broke into a run and Guyton disappeared, so the women say.

Keetch says he has the statement of another woman to form the basis of a heinous charge, but she does not desire publicity if the highway robbery charge is sustained.

"I feel confident that at least a dozen similar charges can be made against this negro," said Keetch last evening.

"The officers have investigated his record, and a number of similar robberies have been credited to him. But it is difficult to get women to come forward and subject themselves to publicity under the circumstances."
